Johnson, late Superintendent of the Woman's Prison at Sherborn, which has been filed for probate in the Middlesex Registry at East Cambridge, the principal bequest is one which will amount to $10,000 or more to the City of Boston. The amount is to be used for the erection of a drinking fountain for man and beast, to be inscribed: "A Gift to the City of Boston, in memory of Jesse C. Johnson, by Ellen C. Johnson." Several private bequests are made, which are not to be paid unless their payment will leave at least $10,000 for this purpose, and if there is any surplus left it is to be added to the gift.

In the Treasury Department the clerks have checked off the names of those who have already been repaid their assessments. The Law Department is now checking off those who have been paid under execution of the court, and then the City Auditor will have to go through the list for approval. It will be several weeks before all this work will be collected.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

City Hall, July 12, 1899.

The forty-fifth meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held at the Mayor's office, City Hall, on Wednesday, July 12, 1899, at 12 M.

Present: All the members except Mr. Barry.

The records of the last meeting were approved, their reading being dispensed with on motion of Mr. Dore.

Mr. Kiley called up the following assignment:

A communication from the City Engineer stating that the estimated cost of building a tunnel under the tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway Company at Travers street is $15,000.

In accordance with the vote passed at the last meeting, Mr. Horace G. Allen, representing the Boston Transit Commission, and General William A. Bancroft, representing the Boston Elevated Railway Company, were present and conferred with the Board in regard to the subject.

At the conclusion of the conference, on motion of Mr. Kiley, it was Voted, That the Boston Transit Commission be requested to inform the Board of Estimate and Apportionment as to whether in their opinion they have a right under the law to construct a tunnel under the tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway Company at Travers street for a foot passage such as is proposed, and whether, if they have such right, they would be willing to construct such a tunnel.

Later in the meeting, on motion of Mr. Kiley, the communication from the City Engineer was further assigned to the next meeting.

Mr. Dore called up the following assignment:

Petition of the Roxburghe Club and about 2,000 others, praying that prompt action be taken to protect and preserve the shade trees in the streets; that all necessary pruning be done, and that dead trees be removed and young trees planted, etc.; and requesting a hearing in regard thereto.

A hearing was given in regard to the matter, and Mrs. Katharine W. S. Noble and Mrs. Cora C. Jones, representing the Roxburghe Club, Mr. D. Blakely Hoar, representing the Massachusetts Forestry Association, and Representative Leonard W. Ross appeared and were heard.

Mr. Kiley called up the following assignment:

Order (passed by the City Council) requesting the Board "to provide a sufficient sum of money so that the Fire Department may be organized in such a way that the members shall not be required to perform more than 12 hours duty in 24."

Councilman Francis J. Doherty and ex-Captain John S. Kenney, of the Fire Department, were given a hearing by the Board in regard to the matter.

The order was placed on file.

The Board then went into executive session.

Mr. Dore called up the following assignment:

Request of the Pauper Institutions Trustees for an additional appropriation of $10,000 to enable them to build a combination boiler-house, dynamo-room, bake-shop and laundry building, for which an appropriation of $60,000 has already been made.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to pass an order making an additional loan appropriation for new power-house and equipment at the Almshouse, Long Island.

Mr. Dore moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the additional sum of ten thousand (10,000) dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the Pauper Institutions Department for Almshouse, Long Island, new power-house and equipment, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

The communications from the Pauper Institutions Trustees and from Mayor Quincy were placed on file, and the order was passed, yeas—4:

Yeas—Messrs. Dore, Minot, Kiley, and Mayor Quincy—4.

The order was signed by the four members voting in the affirmative, they certifying upon the original order that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy transmitting a letter from the City Auditor stating that, subject to the approval of the Board, he had transferred the sum of $5,000 from the appropriation for Reserved Fund to the appropriation for Public Grounds Department, it being the intention to use the said sum for the care and preservation of trees in the public streets of the city.

The petition of the Roxburghe Club et al., on which a hearing was given to-day, and the above communication from Mayor Quincy were placed on file, and, on motion of Mr. Kiley, it was Voted, To approve the transfer by the City Auditor of the sum of five thousand (5,000) dollars from the appropriation for Reserved Fund to the appropriation for Public Grounds Department, said sum to be used for the care and preservation of trees in the public streets of the city.

The vote was signed by Mayor Quincy, and Messrs. Dore, Kiley and Minot.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy transmitting a letter from the City Auditor stating that, subject to the approval of the Board, he had transferred the sum of one hundred and twenty-five (125) dollars and thirty-eight (38) cents from the appropriation for Reserved Fund to the appropriation for "Mayor, public celebrations and lectures, June 17."

On motion of Mr. Dore, it was Voted, To approve the transfer by the City Auditor of one hundred and twenty-five (125) dollars and thirty-eight (38) cents from the appropriation for Reserved Fund to the appropriation for "Mayor, public celebrations and lectures, June 17."

The vote was signed by Mayor Quincy, and Messrs. Dore, Kiley and Minot.

A communication was received from the Corporation Counsel Bailey giving his opinion as to whether the order, passed by the Board on May 22, making an appropriation for an engine-house on Warren avenue authorizes the Fire Commissioner to purchase land, etc.

The communication was placed on file.

The following were also received:

(1.) Communication from the Superintendent of Streets requesting an appropriation of four thousand three hundred (4,300) dollars, under Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1895, for completion of the ferry-boat "Noddle Island."

(2.) Order (passed by the City Council) requesting the Board "to provide the sum of five hundred (500) dollars to be expended by the Bath Department for the completion only of the public landing, Dorchester Bay."

(3.) Order (referred by the City Council) requesting the Board to provide the sum of $1,500 for the completion of Princeton street, $10,000 for resurfacing Trenton street, and $10,000 for resurfacing Falcon street, Ward 1.

(4.) Order (passed by the City Council) requesting the Board "to provide the sum of $200 for hiring the lot of land on Geneva avenue, between Olney street and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, known as Morse Field, for temporary playground purposes."

Severally assigned to the next meeting.

Adjourned, on motion of Mr. Dore, at 2.10 P.M., to meet on Wednesday, July 19, at 3 P.M.

LAURENCE MINOT, Secretary.

EAST BOSTON TUNNEL.

The following was passed at a meeting of the Boston Transit Commission held on July 18, 1899:

Whereas, in the opinion of the Supreme Court rendered in the case of Browne et al. against Turner et al. this Commission is not authorized to construct a tunnel to East Boston in the manner described in the following votes; now, therefore, it is voted that the following vote passed on October 18, 1898, to wit:

"Whereas, the Corporation Counsel has expressed the opinion that, under Section 17 of Chapter 500 of the Acts of the year 1897, this Commission is authorized to build a tunnel or tunnels to East Boston either from the surface at a point on or near Hanover street, or from any subway or subways constructed under the authority of Chapter 548 of the Acts of the year 1894.

"Voted, That the construction of a tunnel or tunnels beginning on or near Hanover street, in the City of Boston or beginning at such other point or points as may be proper for a suitable connection with the subway or subways authorized by Chapter 548 of the Acts of the year 1894, thence running to a point at or near Maverick square in that part of Boston called East Boston, making there a suitable connection with the surface tracks, be proceeded with, and that as a preliminary, the Chief Engineer be instructed to have surveys, estimates and plans made for such tunnel or tunnels."

The following vote passed on February 16, 1899, to wit:

"Voted, That in the judgment of this commission, a connection by surface street railway tracks between the proposed tunnel to East Boston and the subway is a suitable connection within the meaning of Section 17 of Chapter 500 of the Acts of 1897."

The following vote passed on February 23, 1899, to wit:

"Voted, That the construction of a tunnel west of the point indicated in the vote of Tuesday, November 29, 1898, shall be such that the tracks shall rise to the surface of the ground by an inclined way"—be, and are hereby, rescinded.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The Board of Aldermen at its regular meeting on the seventeenth instant voted to adjourn till Tuesday, July 25, at 12 o'clock M.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, July 17, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding, and all the members present.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Plan of Pole Locations.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 5, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a plan showing pole locations on the West Boston temporary bridge, between Cambridge street and the westerly draw, granted by the Cambridge Bridge Commission, at its meeting on July 1, to the West End Street Railway Company, and would recommend that the same be placed on file.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

Veto — Sign on Lamp-Post.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 6, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith, without my signature, a vote passed by your Board, granting permission to the National Express Company to place a sign on an unused lamp-post on the corner of Franklin and Arch streets, Ward 7, for the reason that the granting of such permission is contrary to law.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the order was passed was reconsidered, and the question of granting permission, the Mayor's veto to the contrary notwithstanding, was decided in the negative — yeas, 2; nays, 7.

Veto — Wheelbarrow Stand.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 6, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval a vote passed by your Board granting permission to Constantine Demara "to sell merchandise from a wheelbarrow or push-cart north side of Massachusetts avenue." Some seven years ago peddling within the business section of the city from push-carts had so added to the congestion of travel and become so objectionable in many other ways that peddling within this section was prohibited by ordinance between the hours of eight A.M. and six P.M., and, so far as I am informed, this change has met with general approval. Mr. Demara now has the privilege, the same as other peddlers, of selling merchandise within the business section except between these hours, and the effect of granting this permit would be to allow him to peddle in the business section during the business hours of the day. If the petitioner is to be granted this privilege, it is reasonable to suppose that applications for the same privilege would be at once made by many hundred other peddlers, who could perhaps urge equally good reasons for having their request granted, and this would result in a return to the conditions existing previous to the adoption of this ordinance, which I apprehend would meet with great objection on the part of our citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the order was passed was reconsidered, and the question of granting permission, the Mayor's veto to the contrary notwithstanding, was decided in the negative — yeas, 0; nays, 12.

Veto — Erection of Pole.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 10, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature an order passed by your Board authorizing the Superintendent of Streets to issue a permit to Thomas F. Dockray to erect, maintain and use a wooden pole in the sidewalk in front of estate 1133 Columbus avenue, Ward 19, for the reason that the said order is illegal.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto — Use of Vehicles.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 10, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval the regulation passed by your Board striking out present Section 13 of Chapter 6 of the Revised Regulations of 1898, and substituting the following in place thereof:

"Section 13. No person shall in any street use any vehicle, other than a railroad or railway vehicle of the Fire Department, or a vehicle drawn or pushed by an animal, or a vehicle of a construction approved by the Board of Aldermen as not endangering the life or property of others."

I am unable to approve of this regulation for a number of reasons, some of them relating to the form of the proposal, and some to its substance.

Section 13 of Chapter 6 of the Revised Regulations, as it now stands, contains only a provision limiting to a walk the speed at which an animal may be allowed to draw a vehicle over a drawbridge. I am at a loss to understand why it should be proposed to introduce such a sweeping change in the law relating to the use of vehicles under the form of an amendment to this provision, particularly as the new regulation entirely omits the provision contained in the present section, and has no relation whatever to its subject matter. I am not aware of any reason for repealing the present prohibition against the driving of vehicles over a draw-bridge faster than a walk; yet such would be the result if I approved the proposed regulation. Amendments to ordinances or regulations should clearly relate to present provisions, and if such a regulation as that which has been passed by your Board is desirable at all, it should certainly be passed in some other form than as an amendment to Section 13 of Chapter 6.

A further objection to the proposed regulation is found in the fact that its terms are altogether too comprehensive; under it, the city departments could not use, without the approval of the Board of Aldermen, any vehicles not drawn by animals, and, unless a man is to be regarded as coming legally under the definition of an "animal," hand-carts would be barred off the streets unless they were of a construction approved by the Board of Aldermen — and even if a man is legally an animal, it would be impossible under this regulation for anyone to ride a bicycle in the streets of the city unless it were "of a construction approved by the Board of Aldermen," as bicycles are neither "drawn or pushed." It hardly seems to me that such a result can be intended.

But my objection to the proposed regulation extends to the object which was doubtless in the minds of its framers. Under the provisions of Section 25 of Chapter 28, and of Section 15 of Chapter 53 of the Public Statutes, the Mayor and Aldermen of cities are given the power to make certain rules and regulations relative to the use of vehicles and this proposed regulation is doubtless intended to be an exercise of such authority.

On broad grounds, I cannot approve of the passage at the present time of any regulation which seeks to impose restrictions upon the use of our streets by automobiles, so called, because, in the first place, it seems to me that this important subject should be, and doubtless will be, further dealt with by State legislation, and, secondly, that in any case, in the present preliminary stage of the development of automobiles, it would be unwise for the Board of Aldermen to exercise its powers. I believe that it would be much wiser to wait until developments in this line shall have proceeded further, and it will then be possible to frame a much fuller and wiser regulation than the one now before me.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Appointments by the Mayor.

The following appointments subject to approval and confirmation on the part of the Board were submitted by His Honor the Mayor:

(1.) Allen G. Boyd, to be a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1900.

(2.) Andrew H. Dwelley, to be a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1900.

(3.) George C. Davis, George H. Hamlin and Francis F. Harrington, to be Constables of the City of Boston for the term ending April 30, 1900.

Severally laid over, under the law.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M., Thursday, July 13, 1899. President Kiley in the chair.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Additional Band Concerts.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 3, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Secretary of the Music Commissioners in reply to orders of your body requesting them to give band concerts in the square in Massachusetts avenue, between Tremont street and Shawmut avenue, in Franklin square, Ward 12, and in Pierce square, Dorchester.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In reference to the two orders passed by the Common Council requesting the Music Commission to provide concerts in Pierce square, Dorchester, and in the square on Massachusetts avenue, between Tremont street and Shawmut avenue; I beg to say that the Music Commissioners regret their inability to give the concert in either place. The Massachusetts avenue district, being so far in town, the Commissioners feel that the concerts on the Common, Sunday afternoons, will have to answer for the people in that locality. The Dorchester district will have a concert during the season, but the Commissioners feel that it should be in a more thickly populated district than Pierce square, and have therefore located it in Hancock square, where a greater number of people may enjoy it.

The Commissioners would be glad to provide concerts at these places, and many others, if the appropriation at their disposal would permit it. They very much regret their inability to do so, and have made the best disposal of the funds for summer concerts that their judgment suggested. I enclose a list of the concerts as fixed upon for the season.

Yours very respectfully,

M. J. DWYER, Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on Music Department.

Veto—Erection of Wooden Buildings.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 6, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith without my approval an order granting authority to the joint standing committee on Building Department during the annual recess of the Common Council to allow the erection of wooden buildings and wooden additions upon such terms and conditions as said committee may deem expedient. While there are precedents for this action, I do not see any sufficient reason for failing to make such permits subject to approval by the Mayor, thus giving a committee of the City Council greater power than the City Council itself possesses. Permits of this character, if passed by the City Council, cannot take effect until approved by the Mayor or passed, over his veto, and, if this somewhat extraordinary power is to be given to a committee in order that the public may not be inconvenienced during the recess of the Common Council, it seems to me that it should be provided that the approval of the Mayor should be necessary to give effect to such votes passed by the committee.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Building Department.

Report on Printing Department.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 13, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith the report of a committee appointed to examine the accounts, finances and operation of the Printing Department for the last financial year. This committee consisted of one member of the Merchants' Municipal Committee, selected by that body, and three well-known master printers, and their report finds that the printing plant made a net profit of over $9,000 for the last financial year, after charging off 10 per cent. for depreciation.

I feel that the Superintendent of Printing and all who have been connected with the work of the office are to be congratulated upon the handsome showing made by the plant during the second year of its operation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Boston, June 15, 1899.

HIS HONOR MAYOR JOSIAH QUINCY, City Hall, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: The committee appointed to examine the accounts, finances and operations of the Printing Department of the City of Boston for the financial year ending on January 31, 1899, beg leave to submit the following report:

All charges for work done during the past year have been made on the basis of the old contract in force at the time the work was taken over by the printing plant, and, while this basis was high at that time, it is more nearly correct now when all the larger printing establishments in Boston are on a nine-hour basis, which materially increases the cost of production. It is presumed that had the work continued under contract there would have been a provision for a material increase in price in the event of the adoption of nine hours.

By the unanimous desire of the other members of the committee, Mr. Thomas P. Nichols of Lynn, a member of the Boston Master Printers' Club, investigated the details of the work of the plant, including a careful examination of every charge for work done, the amount of stock on hand, and the work in process on the first day of February, and Mr. William Franklin Hall was engaged as an accountant to examine the financial condition. Mr. Hall's report is herewith appended, and is incorporated as a part of this report.

One item of this report is, in the opinion of your committee, wrongly placed. The 11-23 of the cost of extraordinary repairs (see Mr. Hall's report), amounting to nine hundred and six dollars and twenty-seven cents ($906.27), which Mr. Hall has added to the cost of the plant, should either be charged to the expenses of the past year or (which would be more fair) be made a separate account, to be included in the expenses of the next year, thus leaving the actual value of the plant, as it should stand on the books, at forty-three thousand and nine dollars and eleven cents ($43,009.11).

No charge was made by the plant for storage. Under the old contract there was an annual charge of nine hundred (900) dollars. Adding this saving to the profit for the year, as shown by Mr. Hall's report, the net profit would be nine thousand nine hundred and fifty-one dollars and twenty-six cents ($9,951.26). If we deduct from this amount the 11-23 of the cost of extraordinary expenses, thus charging the whole cost into the running expenses of the past year, the net result would be nine thousand and forty-four dollars and ninety-nine cents ($9,044.99) profit.

The errors in charges referred to by Mr. Hall are such as are liable to occur in any establishment, and aggregate a total of less than two hundred (200) dollars for the year.

Respectfully submitted,

H. G. CURTIS, Chairman.

THOMAS P. NICHOLS,

The work of examining the affairs of the Plant has been done in the following manner, viz.:

Mr. Thomas P. Nichols had examined all the charges made for work done, with particular reference to the schedule of rates in force when the Plant was established, and with the exception of a few errors, some in excess and others of undercharges, the charges are all made correctly. He also examined the schedule of stock on hand and the value of unfinished work, and the figures which he made upon these matters have been used in making up the accounts.

After Mr. Nichols had performed his part of the work, as indicated above, the books and accounts were examined by myself and my assistant, and I am prepared to say that the statements made in this report are fully substantiated by the records upon the books of the Plant, and that the accounts are correctly kept and exhibit clearly the operations carried on.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 11, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Public Grounds in relation to your order requesting him to replace the seats on the Tremont street mall of the Boston Common.

PUBLIC GROUNDS DEPARTMENT.

July 10, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In reply to the enclosed order from the Common Council dated June 29, 1899, "that the Superintendent of Public Grounds be requested, through His Honor the Mayor, to replace the seats on the Tremont street mall of the Boston Common," I beg to submit enclosed copies of correspondence on this subject with the assurance that I have no reason to change my opinion in regard to the inexpediency of placing seats on this mall.

I remain your obedient servant,

WILLIAM DOOGUE,

Superintendent.

February 23, 1899.

NATHANIEL ROBINSON, Esq., Mayor's Office.

DEAR SIR: I beg to call to your notice the inclosed clipping from this morning's Herald in regard to the matter of seats on the Tremont street mall, about which of late I have had many complaints. This same experience was repeated on the Public Garden, and I even went so far as to have seats specially painted to be used for women and children only, but the tramps and gentlemen of leisure monopolized them the same as they are doing on the Common. I dislike to trouble His Honor about such trifles and would ask you for some suggestion in regard to the matter as the complaints are becoming of daily occurrence.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM DOOGUE,

Superintendent.

February 25, 1899.

WILLIAM DOOGUE, Esq., Superintendent
Public Grounds, East Cottage street, Boston.

DEAR SIR: In reference to your letter of the twenty-third, I asked you some time since to put in these seats for the convenience of the ladies who requested them, but I think this was before the tracks were taken off Tremont street. I now desire you to use your own discretion as to whether or not it is best for these seats to remain. If they are simply used for loafing places I agree with you that they had better be removed.

Yours truly,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Grounds Department.

"As to the kind of food furnished to the poor, we furnish flour, beans, pork, potatoes, salt fish, Indian meal, oatmeal, sugar, tea, soup, rice, peas, cocoa and condensed milk. As to the quality of food furnished, it is always good, and generally the very best that can be obtained in the market. An investigation has been made of fire on submarine cable pole supporting alternating and power wires of the Boston Electric Light Company on the westerly end of Congress-street bridge, which occurred on June 7 at about 7.30 P.M. The fire was caused by a defectively insulated alternating wire grounding on a pole, due to the heavy rain at the time.

Investigation has also been made of a tree fire opposite 478 Shawmut avenue. This was due to arc wires of the Boston Electric Light Company grounding on the limbs of a tree during the rainstorm.

The Department employees responded to a second alarm of fire from Box 412, at 4.55 A.M., June 11, at 216 Friend street.

An investigation has been made in reference to the electrical trouble which occurred at the American Legion of Honor building, 200 Huntington avenue, at about 12.40 P.M., June 6. The same was found to be due to a break-down in transformer, permitting primary current of a 2,000 volt circuit to enter building over secondary wiring, as a result of which burn-outs occurred in various portions of the building at a number of combination fixtures.

CAMBRIDGE BRIDGE COMMISSION.

City Hall, July 17, 1899.

A meeting of the Cambridge Bridge Commission was held at the Mayor's office, City Hall, Monday July 17, 1899, at 4 P.M.

Present: Commissioners Quincy and Champlin.

In accordance with the advertisement (see THE CITY RECORD, page 532), inviting bids for dredging in the Charles river, near the temporary pile bridge, proposals for the work were received, publicly opened and read. The bids were taken under advisement (see THE CITY RECORD, page 539).

The following was received and placed on file:

Charlestown, Mass., June 29, 1899.

CAMBRIDGE BRIDGE COMMISSION:

GENTLEMEN: I regret to report that the heavy timber for the arms for the draw of Cambridge Bridge were aboard the Clyde Line steamer "Pawnee," burned at sea.

I have looked over all the lumber in Boston and New York from which this lumber could be cut, but could find only six pieces out of the total, price being no question.

Except for this accident my work would have been completed on time and my consignors cannot guarantee the lumber to be here before July 27.

I therefore respectfully petition for an extension of time until August 20, due to conditions beyond my control.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM J. LAWLER.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That the Chief Engineer be authorized to purchase and have installed two electric motors for operating the draw on the Boston side of the temporary highway bridge across the Charles river, at the estimated expense of $900.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That, as the temporary highway bridge is now nearing completion, this Commission hereby requests the Boston Elevated Railway Company to make the contribution of eight thousand (8,000) dollars toward the expense of building said temporary bridge promised in a communication from its President, dated October 12, 1898, one-half of said sum to be paid to the City Collector of the City of Boston and the other half to the City Collector of the City of Cambridge, this Commission having on October 17, 1898, voted that it will, on payment of said sum of eight thousand (8,000) dollars, grant to such corporation a temporary double track surface location on said bridge.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That, as the Commission intends in the near future to grade and pave the approaches to the temporary bridge, the Boston Elevated Railway Company is hereby requested to lay its tracks in the said approaches.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That the work of paving the approach to the temporary bridge on the Cambridge side be placed in charge of the Street Department of the City of Cambridge, and that of paving the approach on the Boston side be placed in charge of the Street Department of the City of Boston, the Commission to pay, as a part of the expense of the bridge, the actual cost to said departments of said work.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That the schedule of bills and payrolls, presented by the Chief Engineer of the Commission for payment by the cities of Boston and Cambridge, amounting to one thousand four hundred and thirty (1,430) dollars and seventeen (17) cents, be certified by the Commission for payment by the respective cities of Boston and Cambridge.

The eighth and final estimate of work done and material furnished by Benjamin Young on the temporary highway bridge across the Charles river, under his contract dated October 13, 1898, and amounting to $6,424.24, was received from the Chief Engineer.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That the same be certified for payment by the cities of Boston and Cambridge, one-half thereof to be paid by each city, and that the Chairman be authorized to draw special drafts in payment thereof.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That the Board approve the bills for necessary services and fees in connection with the widening and laying out of Main street, as the Cambridge approach, amounting to the total sum of sixteen (16) dollars and twenty-three (23) cents; and that the same be certified for payment by the City of Cambridge, as a part of the cost of the approach to the Cambridge Bridge on the Cambridge side, as provided in Section 8, Chapter 467, of the Acts of 1898.

Adjourned, on motion of Commissioner Champlin, subject to call of the Chairman.

EDGAR R. CHAMPLIN, Secretary.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

The Board of Aldermen, at its meeting on Tuesday, July 25, 1899, voted to confirm the following appointments by His Honor the Mayor:

(1.) Andrew H. Dwelley, to be a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1900.

(2.) Allen G. Boyd, to be a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1900.

EAST BOSTON FERRY-BOAT.

Superintendent Wells of the Street Department is in receipt of advices from the Navy Department, stating that the City of Boston's bid of $25,000 for the "Governor Russell," formerly an East Boston ferry-boat, but sold to the United States government during the Spanish war, could not, under the law, be accepted, being less than the appraised value of the vessel, which is $35,000. The bids were submitted on the advice of the two experts, who made a thorough examination of the boat. The "Governor Russell" is in bad shape in many ways, the government having stripped her of her electric plant and various other fittings; and what with the expense and risk of bringing her to Boston, $25,000 was considered a fair price.

It is quite probable that, now that the government has refused the offer of the city, steps will be taken immediately to build a new boat.

REPORT OF AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

The report of the City Auditor of the receipts and expenditures of the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk for the financial year 1898-99 is now ready for general distribution. The report constitutes City Document No. 3.

The same general plan has been followed as that used in these reports for many years past. The tables, which present in summary form information for a series of years, have all been continued and brought down to January 31, 1899. The table setting forth the gross receipts of the city, together with the deductions necessary in order to show the real income for the year, which appeared for the first time in the report of 1897-98 (see City Record, Vol. I., No. 30, page 449), has been replaced in this year's report by a more extensive table. The new table shows to what class of accounts each item of the revenue has been credited; that is, whether credited to the general income account, to a regular department appropriation, or to a special appropriation. The amount of principal of trust funds received during the year is shown; the income of the trust funds of which the city has charge, and the amount credited during the year to the Sinking Funds. In the last column, certain miscellaneous accounts in the nature of book-keeping items are grouped together. The real income of the city may be found by adding together the footings of the first three columns, namely, General Income, Department Appropriations and Special Appropriations.

The total amount of debt created during the financial year was $6,477,630, as against $8,627,600, created in 1897-98, or a decrease of $2,149,970. Of the $6,477,630 issued in 1898-99, $4,853,650 was outside the debt limit, and $1,623,980 inside the debt limit. The following table gives the amount of debt issued outside the debt limit on account of various objects:

Sewerage Works	$1,500,000
Laying out and construction of highways	811,650
Blue Hill and other avenues	750,000
Market or other public purposes	616,000
Parks	500,000
Rapid Transit	200,000
Water Works, extension of mains	200,000
Library Building, Copley Square	100,000
South Union Station	100,000
Cambridge Bridge	50,000
Ferry Landing	26,000

Total $4,853,650

Of the $1,623,980 issued inside the debt limit, the chief objects of expenditure were streets and schools.

The following table gives the amount of debt issued inside the debt limit on account of various objects:

Streets:
Street Improvements	$335,480
Blue Hill and other avenues	142,000
Essex and Lincoln streets	63,000
Washington street, Grove Hall to Columbia Road	4,500
	$544,980
Schools,	686,000
Faneuil Hall, reconstruction	80,000
Wire Department	50,000
City Hospital, new buildings	61,500
Institutions, sundry loans	40,500
Baths, gymnasias and convenience stations	32,500
Election booths	30,000
Cemeteries	29,000
Bridges	28,500
Back Bay Fens, sewerage	25,000
Miscellaneous	16,000

Although the amount of debt created during the year amounted to $6,477,630, the increase in the liability of the city on this account was much less. The debt was reduced during the year by the payment of bonds issued in previous years to the amount of $3,131,720.04. The means on hand for paying debt, including the assets of the sinking-funds, sums set aside by the City Treasurer to meet bonds matured but not called for, and the credit balance of the betterment account, increased during the year from $28,110,742.75 to $28,716,636.22, or $605,893.47. The decrease in the assets of the sinking-funds amounted to $66,574.82, but at the same time the credit balance of the betterment account increased $330,614.79 by reason of betterments collected and the money in the treasury set aside to pay bonds matured increased $341,850. This makes the net increase in means of paying debt, $605,893.47. Deducting from the amount of debt created, the amount of debt paid and the increase in means of paying debt, leaves the net increase in liability at $2,740,-016.49 as against $5,602,799.81 in 1897-98.

The gross receipts of the city increased from $37,600,127.68 in 1897-98 to $40,587,-085.24 in 1898-99, or $2,986,957.56; the gross expenditure increased from $38,299,625.23 in 1897-98 to $40,203,687.34 in 1898-99, or $1,904,053.11; the balance in the treasury increased from $4,094,352.66 on January 31, 1898, to $4,477,759.56 on January 31, 1899, or $383,406.90.

THE EAST BOSTON TUNNEL.

Following is the final decree of the Supreme Judicial Court given on July 21, 1899, in the case of Causten Browne et al. vs. Alfred T. Turner et al. relative to the construction of the proposed East Boston tunnel by the Boston Transit Commission:

This case came on to be heard and was argued by counsel and, thereupon, upon consideration thereof and of the rescript of the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth, handed down July 3, 1899 (see THE CITY RECORD, No. 28, page 509), it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that the respondents Crocker, Dalton, Gargan, Swain and Allen, constituting the Boston Transit Commission and said Commission and its agents and servants be, and hereby are, enjoined and restrained from constructing or in any way causing to be constructed any tunnel or tunnels under the provisions of Section 17 of Chapter 500 of the Acts of 1897, or any prior statute of such character that the connection between such tunnel or tunnels and the subway in the City of Boston proper will have to be by surface street railway tracks, or any tunnel or tunnels not having an actual physical connection at the same grade at the point of junction with the subway in said City of Boston proper, and that the defendant Turner, as Treasurer of the City of Boston, be, and hereby is, enjoined and restrained from paying or disbursing any moneys of the City of Boston, or any proceeds of bonds of the City of Boston already issued, and from issuing any bonds or other obligations purporting to bond the City of Boston for the payment of the cost of the construction of any such tunnel or tunnels as said Boston Transit Commission is hereby enjoined from constructing.

And it is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that the petitioners recover against the Boston Transit Commission the costs sustained by the petitioners in this proceeding.

REPORT OF CHILDREN'S INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Children's Institutions Department for the year ending January 31, 1899 — constituting Document 6, 1899 — has recently been presented to His Honor the Mayor.

During the year sixty-two meetings of the Trustees have been held. In addition to the four standing committees, two members of the Board are appointed each month to be a visiting committee for the Parental School and the House of Reformation.

There are now in the care of the Trustees 1,475 children. Of these 485, or about one-third, are in institutions, while 990, or a little over two-thirds, are living in families scattered about in this and neighboring States, under the care and supervision of the Placing-out Division.

Of the children in institutions, 176 are in the Parental School (the truant school of the City of Boston), 138 in the House of Reformation, and 171 in or under the care of various schools for defectives, or other institutions not under the management of the Trustees where children have been placed for various reasons.

Children at the Parental School have been committed by the Courts for truancy only, on complaint of truant officers of the Boston School Committee. When their term of commitment has expired they pass out of the control of the Trustees entirely.

Children (boys only) at the House of Reformation at Rainsford Island are committed for various offences by the Courts, and are placed under the care of the Trustees either during minority, or for non-payment of fines, during shorter periods (thirty to ninety days). Boys who have been committed during minority are kept on the Island only so long as they appear to the Trustees and to the Courts to need the training and restraint of the school; after that they are allowed to go home on probation, or placed out in families, likewise on probation, if they have no fit homes. While on probation these boys are regularly visited by an agent of the Board.

The children in families, and therefore under the care of the Placing-out Division, are (1) boys released on probation from the House of Reformation; (2) occasionally boys from the Parental School; (3) neglected children; (4) dependent children.

The neglected children are committed by Courts to the care of the Trustees, not as criminals, but because they have not received proper care from their parents or guardians. These children are very seldom disposed of otherwise than by placing them in families either at board or in free homes.

By far the largest class of children are the dependents who are placed in the charge of the Trustees on account of poverty. Like the neglected children, the dependents are seldom disposed of otherwise than by placing them in country homes either at board or on indenture, until relatives or friends are able to take charge of them again.

For less than one-half of these (471) board is paid. The rest (519) are in homes where they are cared for without payment of board, either because they can make themselves useful enough to pay their way or because the families who have them in charge are willing to take care of them out of affection, or with the intention of adopting them legally.

Formerly all dependent and neglected children were placed in the Marcella-street Home, which contained at one time nearly 400 children, boys and girls, but during the past year the number was steadily diminished, until on November 22, 1898, the Home was finally closed, it having been found that all neglected and dependent children committed to the care of the Trustees could be placed at once in families.

The gradual reduction of population and final closing of the Marcella-street Home naturally increased the number of placed-out children, but this increase is not so great as might have been expected. On January 31, 1897, the number of children under visitation, boarded and in free homes was 668; on January 31, 1898, it was 836; while the number on January 31, 1899, under visitation is 991.

The juvenile offenders, who are placed in the House of Reformation, are as a rule the most lawless boys in the city, many of them having been brought up under weak parental control, and are grounded in habits of lying and deceit.

They are trained to be made strong and healthy and to become accustomed to regular habits, and to study with interest and energy. The improvement of the boys in writing and mathematics is often very great, as also in drawing, manual training, printing and shoemaking.

As soon as possible they are reinstated in the outside social life. It is believed that the visitation of the boys out on probation is one of the most important branches of the work, and valuable results from the regular and careful visitation which this Board has developed are looked for.

To do the best work for juvenile offenders the age should be limited, and children of different ages should be separated. Neither of these things has yet been accomplished, although some improvements in regard to the separation of the younger boys are in sight. It is also extremely necessary that boys committed for short periods (thirty, sixty or ninety days) for the non-payment of fines be kept apart from the boys committed for minority for more serious offences. This is to a large extent accomplished, but it is a deplorable thing, in the opinion of the Trustees, that these boys sentenced for slight offences should be made inmates of the House of Reformation at all.

The truants at the Parental School resemble the juvenile offenders in many respects, but the difference exists to a certain extent that they have not fallen so much into lawless ways, except in the matter of neglecting school.

Truants are hard to teach when they first come to the Parental School. Accustomed to roam the streets, they have lost the habit of application, and have also fallen behind their proper grade in the public schools. The problem is not only to make them study well, but to make them catch up with the boys of their own age.

To accomplish this the Trustees find it of great importance to have the classes small, so that the teaching can be more individual than in the ordinary public school.

The first report of the Trustees in 1897, showed the imperative needs of the Parental School. The report of the Superintendent for this year lays an even greater emphasis upon the same needs. As no appropriation for the new permanent buildings could be obtained, the question of erecting temporary wooden school-houses was under consideration during the whole year, but it was impossible to obtain a sum of money even for this.

In spite of the crowded condition of the Institution, notable improvements have been introduced. The number of teachers has been increased to six regular teachers, a sloyd teacher and a teacher of drawing and clay modeling, and the size of the classes has been cut down proportionately.

A little more room has been gained because the three truant girls were released. By a law of 1898, truant girls are now sent to the State Industrial School.

The boys have for the first time this year been furnished with winter underflannels, and with winter out-door jackets or sweaters. Efforts have been made to interest the boys in various ways in the evenings.

Among the improvements the chief is in the excellence of the schools.

Last autumn the Trustees asked that teachers of the Parental School should be given the same credit for length of service as if they had served in the Boston public schools. This request was granted. This makes appointment at the school desirable to good teachers.

At the beginning of the year a teacher of experience was engaged, and took charge of the schools until August, when the new Superintendent, Mr. B. C. Day, entered on his duties.

For those children who come as dependent or neglected children, generally young and free from bad habits, a good home in the country is the best cure.

To make all these thousand children as nearly as possible like boys and girls in the care of good parents is the aim of the system, and on the whole the results obtained are most gratifying.

The total number of children in charge, by classes and present placing, on February 1, 1899, is as follows:

Dependent and neglected children:
Boarding	471
In free homes, directly in care of the Trustees	374
In other institutions	171

Released to relatives on probation	83
In House of the Angel Guardian	1

Doing for themselves	6
Total	276
Grand total	1,475

The total cost of the Department during the year was as follows:

Placing-out and Office Division	$73,282 23
Marcella-street Home	22,152 47
Parental School	29,293 00
House of Reformation	42,019 56
	$166,747 26

Average per capita expense of total number of children under care, per year	$118 01
Average per capita expense of total number of children under care, per week	2 26

In addition to the report of the Trustees, from which the above extracts have been taken the general report contains the reports of the Superintendents of the House of Reformation and the Parental School, giving detailed accounts of the work at each institution during the year. Embodied in these reports are also statements from the heads of the various departments covering the work placed under their charge.

THOMAS W. FLOOD, Commissioner.

The average price per bushel of wheat exported during the fiscal year 1899 was 74.77 cents, and the average price per bushel for the wheat exported in the form of flour was 87.67 cents, calculating that $4\frac{1}{2}$ bushels of wheat are utilized in the production of a barrel of flour. This adds 12.9 cents to the amount of money received for each bushel of wheat sent abroad in this form, thus bringing to American industry over \$10,000,000 during the year as a compensation to the enterprise which transformed the 80,000,000 bushels of grain into the 18,000,000 barrels of flour exported.

The Health Department of Syracuse, N. Y., has recommended that the collection of all garbage be done at night.

He became a permanent member of the Department on September 16, 1892. At a meeting of the Executive Council held on Wednesday, August 2, 1899, Governor Wolcott's nomination of Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, in place of Chief Justice Walbridge A. Field, deceased, was confirmed.

At the close of his military service in 1864 he returned to Boston and entered the Harvard Law School, where, in 1866, he received his LL.B. In 1867 Judge Holmes was admitted to the Suffolk bar. For several years following he taught and lectured at the Harvard Law School, and from 1870 to 1873 he had editorial charge of the "American Law Review."

In 1882 Judge Holmes was appointed an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court by Governor Long.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

The Trustees report that the cost of maintaining the Library during the year ending January 31, 1899, was $264,580, which was met by (1) the annual appropriation, $246,855; (2) income of trust funds, $13,674, and (3) miscellaneous gifts, etc., $4,050. The total ordinary income of the Library, including balances from the preceding year, etc., amounted to $295,010.

Two sources of income, viz., the rents of the old Library building and the proceeds of fines and of the sales of the publications of the Library, of which the Library had heretofore received the benefit, were rendered unavailable by the appropriation bill of 1898, which required sums received from these sources to be paid into the City Treasury. In consequence, the means at the disposal of the Trustees for the general purposes of the Library were less by about $2,000 than in the preceding year, although the general appropriation by the city exceeded that of the preceding year by $10,000.

It seems just to the Trustees that the proceeds of the sales and of the fines should both be allowed to the Library, or that the expenses incurred by them in these regards should be reimbursed to them and not made a charge upon their general resources.

The use of the Library constantly increases. This increase is shown in various ways. The number of card-holders for the year 1898 was 72,005, showing an increase of 7,032, or nearly 11 per cent. over the previous year. This increased use involves increased expense in the administration of the Library, and such increased expense the Trustees have been able to meet chiefly by diminishing the purchases of books. It is upon this item of expenditure that the pressure of economy immediately falls. Accordingly the increase of the Library in volumes purchased has been considerably less during the past year than in the preceding. In 1897, 33,131 volumes were added to the Library, but in 1898 only 25,470 — a number less by 7,661.

The Trustees find it difficult, with the means at their command, to supply the Library and its branches with the popular publications of the day. It is only from the slender income of the trust funds that they can procure the rarer books needed to maintain the general character of the Library. The Library is greatly in need of means to purchase the rare historical material occasionally offered for sale, especially that relating to the history of Boston and of New England, which the Trustees consider it their especial duty to collect.

The general condition of the books in the Library is good, but prudent management calls for the expenditure of a much larger sum than the Trustees have at their command for the rebinding and repair of many volumes. At least $20,000 are required by true economy for these purposes.

The means at their command have enabled the Trustees to comply with but a few of the requests for permanent improvement of certain branches, for the establishment of new delivery stations, and for similar expenditures. During the year four additional public schools and one branch post-office have been made deposit stations, and one delivery station has been supplied with a deposit collection.

With respect to the financial position of the Library the Trustees report that they have kept their expenditures strictly within their means, and consequently there is no deficit at the close of the year. It is of course obvious that unless these means increase in proportion to the use of the Library and the growth of the city it will be impossible to maintain its present rank and usefulness.

The Trustees have added a new department this year to the Library, that of documents and statistics. In June, 1898, the American Statistical Association presented to the Library its valuable collection of books and pamphlets, numbering about 5,000 volumes. These, together with the public documents and other similar economic and sociological material already in the possession of the Library, constituted a valuable collection which the Trustees were satisfied could be made available for great service to the public. Accordingly, this department was created and Mr. Worthington C. Ford, formerly Chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the United States Treasury Department, was appointed its chief.

The Trustees again call attention to the great need of permanent endowments for the Library. It is chiefly from such sources that the permanent value of the Library can be secured.

The Trustees hope that some generous giver may recognize his opportunity and provide means for decorating the large inner court of the Library building.

In conclusion, the Trustees report that they believe that, with the facilities furnished by the recent alterations and improvements, the Library building meets as well as possible the public needs. The graded system of service and appointment now for several years established secures fidelity, interest and a sense of permanence on the part of those employed.

Following is an abstract of the principal statements contained in the report of the Librarian, which follows the report of the Trustees:

The Library system has been augmented during the year by the establishment of one additional delivery station (Station U, established December 27, 1898). A new department of work, the department of documents and statistics, has been created at the Central Library, and the scope of existing departments in certain cases has been enlarged. Four additional schools and one branch post-office have been made deposit stations. To the only delivery station lacking a deposit collection at the beginning of the year this feature has been added. The outlying system comprises a total of sixty-one outlying agencies, as against fifty-seven on February 1, 1898.

The recent alterations at the Central Library building were not designed to provide for additional departments of work so much as to enlarge the facilities of existing departments. They have, nevertheless, secured accommodations for the new department of documents and statistics; and in freeing the lecture hall, have reopened opportunity for a service to the public not hitherto fairly entered upon by the Library.

The cost of service in 1898 exceeded that in 1897 by over $8,000 (an increase of 6 per cent.); that of cleaning increased $2,000; and expenditure for repairs, and for furniture and fixtures (requisite in connection with alterations at the Central Library and branches), exceeded that for 1897 by some $8,000.

The auditor's statement shows that the total expenditure from the city appropriation in 1898, $246,855.87, was nevertheless practically no greater than in 1897, $246,541.79. With each year of its development the Library requires a larger sum for its maintenance.

The increase in the aggregate only keeps pace with the growth of population of the city, and with the increase in the volume of work which the department is called upon to do. In these respects the Public Library is on no different basis from the public schools. It is not a single, isolated institution within rigid limits, but is a system attempting to respond to the needs of a city fast growing in population and in needs. It cannot remain stationary; if it does not advance and expand it must degenerate.

Of the total sum of $100,000, contributed by the City of Boston, to be expended "upon the new Library building and the fittings thereof," the sum of $13,654.85 was required for work already done and paid for by an advance from the original building appropriation. This left $86,345.15 available for the work undertaken since May, 1898. This work, when completed, will have exhausted the entire amount.

One further endowment has recently become effective. This is a gift of $2,852, contributed by relatives and friends of the late Henry Sargent Codman, to form a memorial fund. The income will be used in the purchase of books upon landscape gardening.

With this fund the endowments of the Library aggregate but $270,000. Of this $50,000 is the Todd Newspaper Fund. The total of endowments, the income of which is applicable to the purchase of books, is but $220,000. The income of this is but a little over $9,000 per year. Under necessary reinvestment at lower rates of interest this income is steadily diminishing.

There is a general impression among the citizens of Boston that the general and even development of the Library is amply assured by endowment and appropriation. This is an error which ought by every means to be corrected. On its popular side the Library is developing normally. The scholarly side is not developing in proper proportion. On this side the Library is relatively losing rank.

It will not, cannot, regain this rank until the citizens of Boston come to its aid with further endowment.

The only additional space gained by the alterations in the Library building during the year has been in the enclosure of the Boylston-street driveway. This secured an addition of some 33,000 cubic feet to the space available for practical active use. But in enabling the current newspapers to be removed from the lecture hall it freed over 143,000 cubic feet of space, which may be available for other uses.

The space for the issue of books has been doubled.

A new set of rooms has been created for the Librarian and the executive department generally, consisting of an anteroom, main office, private office, and a room for records and files.

Within the past four years the circulation of books from the Central Library, through the outlying departments, has greatly increased. In addition to the circulation of books upon specific application there are now also deposit collections to be provided for. The enlargement of the old work, together with these new undertakings, has necessitated the organization of a considerable department, the head of which is the supervisor of branches. The space assigned to the work of the branch division, when the new building was opened, was but 216 square feet; the space now provided for it is 1,766 square feet.

The room for the ordering department has been more than doubled in size by the addition to it of a corridor and other space. It has also been greatly improved as to light, and forms now a most admirable space for the business of securing and receiving books and preparing them for the catalogue and shelf departments.

In the entresol, south side, have been provided an office for the editor of library publications, an office for the use (jointly) of the chief of the issue and of the chief of the ordering department, and luncheon and additional locker rooms for employees of both sexes.

The alterations above described represent only the main features of the work on the building accomplished during the past eight months. Details incidental to the main work were, of course, many and in a measure costly. As in the case of the heating and ventilating system, the total work actually done has exceeded by a hundred per cent. the work originally planned. Its total cost has, nevertheless, been kept within the fraction ($70,000) of the appropriation available for it. This has been possible through the ingenuity, skill and exceeding watchfulness of the architects, and through the competence, care and exceeding integrity of the general contractors.

The cleaning of building and books during and since the alterations has involved a specially heavy expense, also met by the general appropriation. Every volume of the 500,000 odd in the Central building has, within the past two months, been taken down and dusted and the shelf wiped off beneath it.

The improvements above described do not, indeed, absolutely perfect the building for present uses. But the most embarrassing difficulties have been overcome, and the most pressing needs of the moment have been met; and what has been done will add greatly to the comfort of the public, and greatly to convenience in administration.

It is obvious that library facilities are distributed very unequally throughout the city, and that such as exist are ill-proportioned to existing needs. One district has the benefit of a collection of books numbering 35,000 volumes, in an independent building, ample, well equipped and attractive; another, with perhaps double the population to be served, and more remote from the main collection, has at its disposal but a third as many books and for accommodations meagre, ill-ventilated, inconvenient and uninviting rooms, in a building devoted mainly to other and inconsistent uses, in a neighborhood tending to demoralize its readers. Such contrasts exist. The outlying departments cannot be brought to reasonable equality or into reasonable relation with the Central Library without an expenditure on buildings and books of at least $500,000.

A supreme advantage would be the application of such a sum all at once under a general scheme of improvement.

By the tables appended to this report, it appears that on January 31, 1899, the number of volumes in all departments is 716,050, of which 550,822 are in the Central Library. The net increase over 1897 is 17,162 volumes. The net gain to the Central Library is 22,743 volumes. The gain to the branches by accession is more than offset by considerable transfers to the Central Library of worn-out or unserviceable material, so that the year leaves outlying departments with 5,581 volumes less than at its beginning.

The expenditure for books and periodicals during 1898 was $34,935, as against $40,351 in 1897. This does not include $1,836 expended from the income of the Todd Fund for current newspapers; nor $488 paid for books for Delivery P out of the special appropriation; nor $732 expended by the Fellowes Athenæum for books for the Roxbury Branch.

The accessions during the past year (as distinguished from the statistic of books actually located, and excluding mere transfers from one department to another) have been as follows:

	Volumes.	Volumes.	Total.
Added by purchase, Central Library . . .	10,357	Branches, 7,970	18,327
Added by gift, Central Library . . .	6,958	Branches, 185	7,143
Totals	17,315	8,155	25,470

As against a total of 33,131 volumes in 1897.

The number of those who have made gifts to the Library in 1898 is greater by 200 than in 1897, and greater by 400 than in 1896.

The work done by the Library bindery, which is an indispensable auxiliary to the Library printing department, is indicated by the following statement: Books bound in Bates Hall binding, 8,890 volumes; 52 large daily newspapers, 58 newspapers from branch-libraries, 3,905 pamphlets, 3,877 books repaired; library publications folded, stitched, trimmed, etc., 133,304, an increase of 30,862 over 1897.

The output of the printing department still includes all the printed work of the Library, excepting the annual report. It includes catalogue cards to the number of 18,558 titles; stationery, forms, etc., 521,539 pieces; call-slips, 2,222,514 pieces; placards, 2,014; and books and pamphlets to the number of 27, embracing 846 pages in editions aggregating 129,250 copies.

The number of volumes catalogued numbered 47,615, and 120,903 cards were placed in the catalogues of the Central Library in 1898.

The aggregate number of card-holders on January 31, 1899, was 72,005, an increase of 10.8 per cent. over that of the previous year. The proportion of present card-holders to the total population was 14.49 per cent. on January 31, 1899, showing an increase of 1.49 per cent. during the year.

The report contains an unusual amount of material relating to Library policy and administration, under the head of "Supplements to the Report of the Librarian," i. e., (A) Memorandum as to the General Card Catalogue, by James L. Whitney, Chief Cataloguer, who also contributes (B) Considerations as to a Printed Catalogue in Book Form. (C) Extract from the Report of the Special Libraries, Department of Fine Arts, by Otto Fleischner. (D) Report of Chief of Department of Documents and Statistics, by Worthington C. Ford. (E) Extract from the Report of the Children's Department, by Gertrude P. Sheffield. (F) Extract from the Report of the Branch Department, by Langdon L. Ward.

The report also contains the Report of the Examining Committee for 1898, a Financial Statement by the Auditor of the Library, and the usual extensive series of statistical and other tables relating to the history and administration of the Department.

INVITATION TO THE PRESIDENT OF MEXICO TO VISIT BOSTON.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has extended a formal invitation to President Diaz and cabinet to visit Boston during October next. The following is a copy of the correspondence which has passed between the Mayor and the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements in charge of the ceremonies attending the laying of the corner-stone of the United States Government building at Chicago:

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS, UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BUILDING.

Chicago, July 21, 1899.

TO THE HONORABLE MAYOR, City of Boston, Mass.:

SIR: The committee having in charge the celebration of Chicago Day, Monday, October 9, 1899, at which time will be held the ceremonies attending the laying of the corner-stone of the United States Government building in this city by President McKinley, on the occasion of the twenty-eighth anniversary of the great Chicago fire, have received assurances that Gen. Porfirio Diaz, President of the Republic of Mexico, will be pleased to consider a formal invitation for himself and cabinet to visit the United States and attend this celebration, and meet President McKinley and his cabinet, as guests of said committee.

We feel that the formal invitation will be accepted by President Diaz, and it is proposed in that event, after he shall have finished his visit in Chicago, to take him and his party by special train to a number of the most prominent cities in the country.

In considering a possible itinerary to be hereafter submitted to him for his approval, it was thought to arrange for a stop at Boston for a day, when an opportunity would be given your citizens for extending such courtesies as might be thought desirable.

I therefore write you to suggest, if agreeable to you, that you prepare a formal invitation to His Excellency Porfirio Diaz, President of Mexico, for himself and party, tendering them a welcome to your city, and forward the same to me, addressed Room 611, Monadnock block, Chicago, Ill., when, as soon as the formal invitation from the General Committee is prepared, your invitation, together with many others, will be made a part thereof, and delivered by a special committee to be sent from Chicago, leaving here on August 5 next. It might be well, if you think it advisable, also to have your City Council pass resolutions extending the hospitalities of your city to President Diaz and party, and let a copy of the resolutions be made a part of your official letter.

As it is desired that President Diaz visit this country in October, I would suggest that you indicate that month in your invitation.

I take this occasion to state that in due time we shall be pleased to extend you an invitation to attend this celebration on the ninth of October next.

Trusting that we may have your co-operation in this matter at your early convenience, and awaiting your reply which I hope to receive before August 1, I am

Yours very truly,

CHARLES U. GORDON,

Chairman Committee of Arrangements.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY GENERAL PORFIRIO DIAZ, President of the Republic of Mexico, etc., etc.

SIR: Having learned that yourself and members of your cabinet may be able to pay a visit to the United States during the month of October, it gives me much pleasure, on behalf of the City of Boston, and as its chief executive, to extend to yourself and your party a most cordial invitation to visit this city during your trip. The extent to which our citizens have invested their capital in Mexico, and their interest in the development of your country, perhaps, may give us a special title to hope that a visit to Boston will be included in your arrangements; and I can assure you that the distinguished services which you have rendered to your country, and its wonderful progress under your administration, are well known here, and will command for you not only the official welcome due to the Chief Magistrate of a great sister Republic, but the personal reception due to your character and career.

I have the honor to subscribe myself, with much respect,

Your obedient servant,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature an order passed by your Board granting permission to Frank Ward to insert his name "Ward" in brass letters in the sidewalk in front of his dining-room at 39 Main street, Ward 5. Chapter 352 of the Acts of 1895 provides that "no person shall place and maintain . . . upon any building or other structure . . . any sign or other projection the lowest part of which is ten feet above the sidewalk thereof." I am informed that no one has been granted permission to insert his name in the sidewalk since this statute was passed, or for some years before its passage, and I do not see how such permission can legally be granted, as in the opinion of the Law Department anything placed upon a building or other structure for advertising purposes must be considered as a sign.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto — Projection of Druggist's Mortar.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 28, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature a vote passed by your Board granting permission to Edward J. Keeler to project a druggist's "illuminated" mortar at 1567 Tremont street, Ward 19, said mortar to be composed of "wood covered with bronzed tin perforated," and to project "about two feet." The distance to which illuminated signs are allowed to project has been limited to two feet, and it does not seem to me advisable to word the permission granted to project a sign so that it can properly be interpreted to exceed this distance. There is also some doubt in my mind as to whether a mortar composed of wood covered with tin can properly be termed an "illuminated" sign.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto — Barber Pole on Sidewalk.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 28, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature a vote passed by your Board granting permission to Carmelo De Luca to place a barber-pole sign on the sidewalk at No. 965 Tremont street, Ward 18, for the reason that such permission cannot legally be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the said permit was granted was reconsidered, and the question came on again granting permission, the objections of His Honor the Mayor to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Board refused to grant the permission — yeas, 0; nays, 7.

Veto — Barber Pole on Sidewalk.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 28, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature a vote passed by your Board granting permission to John J. Dailey to place a barber-pole on the sidewalk at 1423 Dorchester avenue, Ward 20, for the reason that such permission cannot legally be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto — Mortar on Post.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, July 28, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature an order passed by your Board granting permission to the Jaynes & Chapin Company to erect, maintain and use an iron post, with an illuminated mortar attached thereto, in the sidewalk in front of estate corner Summer and South streets, Ward 7, for the reason that such permission cannot legally be granted.

REPORT OF THE PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Printing Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, which constitutes City Document 27 — 1899, has recently been presented in print to His Honor the Mayor.

Following is a summary of the text of the report rendered by Mr. Whalen, the Superintendent of Printing:

"My report for the year ending January 31, 1898, which contained the details for the first eleven months' operation of the Department by the city, showed that after allowing for depreciation in value of material at the rate of 10 per cent. per year, a net gain to the city treasury was made of $8,004.30, as compared with the work as previously done by private parties under the contract system. This result was obtained by making a comparison of the same rates of charges made by this Department to the other departments of the city, as had been paid for the last twenty years according to the terms of the contract made.

"The Department has been conducted in a business-like manner, and with a proper regard to the rules of the Typographical Union. In some respects the employees have been treated with consideration beyond that accorded their fellow-workmen in the service of most private printers. Holidays throughout the year are enjoyed as part compensation for services rendered. During the months of May, June, July, August, September and October of last year all the employees were allowed the Saturday half-holiday without loss of pay, making the hours of labor 49 hours per week for six months of the year, and 54 hours per week for the remaining six months. The granting of these holidays resulted in greater efficiency and a desire on the part of the employees to show their appreciation for the consideration accorded them.

"It is with pleasure I point to the men and women who perform the respective duties to which they are assigned in this Department of the city. For intelligence, competency, and faithfulness they will compare favorably with those employed in the best printing houses of the country. They render faithful service for fair wages and generous consideration, and the result undoubtedly indicates that the city has gained financially by doing its own work in this regard, instead of having it performed by private concerns as formerly. And far beyond the mere financial gain is the spirit of content and satisfaction among the workers, which is due in no small degree to the fact that they feel they are secure in their positions so long as they are capable and faithful.

"A summary of the doings for the past municipal year ending January 31, 1899, may be briefly stated thus:

"The total business performed during the year amounted to $152,136.72. The operating expenses for the year aggregated $137,967.85, of which $78,024.87 was on account of pay-roll. Allowing for depreciation in the value of the material of the Plant at 10 per cent. per annum, the rate considered fair by the most reliable judges, we find that the city has saved the sum of $10,386.08 during the year by attending to its own printing.

"These figures are deduced by a comparison of the prices charged to the departments by this Department, and prices paid by the city to the firm which had the contract for doing the city printing previous to the establishment of the City Printing Plant. This Department has been charging precisely the same rates to other departments for printing as was paid by them to the former city printers with whom the city had a contract, and which contract was in operation for over twenty years.

"In other words, had the same amount of printed matter of like quality been produced under the terms of that contract, the city would have paid $10,386.08 more than it has paid. It will therefore be seen that during the first twenty-three months of municipal operation of the Plant a saving has been effected amounting to $18,390.38.

"The experimental stage in operating the Municipal Printing Plant of the city has passed. It has been proven to be a practical success, and I point out these important facts, justifying as they do the faith of the Chief Executive of the city in the undertaking, and his promise to the citizens of Boston that the city would be a large gainer by it.

"In this connection I desire to recommend that the rates at which some of the charges are made to the different departments be revised and reduced in order to correspond more nearly with the present condition of the printing industry. Some of the rates were made many years ago, and though still in use in the Department they were made necessary, as I have already explained, in order to get a proper basis of comparison.

"In accordance with the policy established by you at the beginning, the books of accounts and the transactions of the year have been examined by a committee of experts, consisting of Messrs. H. G. Curtis, Chairman, President of the Old Boston National Bank, George H. Ellis, Frederick Mills and Thomas P. Nichols, members of the Masters Printers' Club.

"Their report (see THE CITY RECORD, Vol. II., page 537) covers the operations of the Plant for the financial year ending January 31, last. The financial statistics of the report cover in detail the facts which I have given in a general way in the foregoing.

"That its progress has been watched with keen interest throughout the country has been made manifest by the hundreds of inquiries received by mail at this office, from city officials and other interested persons, respecting the cost of the plant, the system of management and such other information as might serve the object of the inquirers. A number of visitors also, not only from many cities in the United States but some from European cities, have called personally to investigate, and to see the working of the Department."

Appended to Mr. Whalen's report are: (1) a financial statement, setting forth in detail the receipts and expenditures of the Department, its operating expenses, etc.; (2) tables showing the cost of printing, stock, stationery and binding, supplied to the different departments of the city government, the courts of the County of Suffolk, and other appropriations enumerated and paid for by the same, outside of the City of Boston Printing Plant; (3) report of the committee appointed to examine the accounts, finances and operations of the Printing Department of the City of Boston for the financial year ending on January 31, 1899.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE INSTITUTIONS REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Institutions Registration Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, by Acting Institutions Registrar Marshall, has been submitted in print to His Honor the Mayor. The report constitutes Document 17 — 1899, and from it the following extracts are made:

"The Department has been conducted along the lines laid down in the act creating it, and has investigated all questions relating to the settlement of paupers and the commitment of the insane, and has made a collection of a mass of statistics relating to the dependent and deficient classes of the community, which should prove of great value to any student of sociological problems and to the city. It has been its aim to procure the fullest information regarding the individuals of these different groups, and its accumulations of material will, when properly analyzed, undoubtedly add much of interest and of value in regard to the causes and treatment of what might be termed the diseases of the social state, — crime, pauperism, and insanity. It must be allowed that in a healthy and model social state the first two of these evils would not exist, and that the third would be very much reduced in amount, and therefore it is the earnest wish of all social reformers to endeavor to ascertain the causes of these evils in order that they may be eradicated, or, if that is not possible, that their evil results may be nullified as far as it may be accomplished.

"All over the land vast buildings stand as monuments of what is being done for the dependent classes, and Boston is not behind in this beneficent and philanthropic work.

The city has invested in such structure the sum of $5,066,300, and its annual charges for maintenance of these institutions amount to $1,386,427. Besides all this there is expended for the out-door poor of our city the sum of $132,000.

"If forced to the conclusion that it is poverty that causes these dependent classes to exist in the community, the problem is to determine its causes and seek a remedy.

"Most of those who have studied the problem have arrived at the conclusion that the remedy consists of returning in some manner to the farm districts of the country those idle in the cities, but the many experiments which have not been crowned with success that have been made in this direction leads one to suppose that the difficulties in the way of success are insuperable.

"The lowest standard to be reached is that every man who wishes work and is earnestly seeking it should be provided with it, and it is the duty of society to see that none of our citizens should be placed in our almshouses as long as they are able to earn their own living, but that we should direct our study to the question whether the money that is spent for the support of our institutions could not more wisely and economically be spent in plans that would enable us to provide work.

"Without going into the question as to the responsibility of the creation of the distress of old age, it seems to me that the State recognizes its duty to relieve it in the expenditure of the public monies for its relief at present, and the only question to be determined is whether the money, as now spent, is expended more wisely than by a system of old age pensions. If the worthy poor could be separated from the unworthy, and the money expended for our institutions devoted to the support of the worthy poor of the community, I believe that no more money would be required than is spent at present to give the aged, worthy poor a decent, comfortable living in their own homes, and if more money were required, I am of the opinion that a tax on the amusements of the people might be made that would not be felt, or, if felt, would be paid willingly and even gladly.

"The detail work of the office has been carried on on approved sociological lines and the city has been divided into twelve districts in order to localize poverty and crime in the city. The card system of registration is showing good results.

"The walls of the office have been made into blackboards on which are shown, by means of lines, the weekly movement of population in the institutions. The diagrams showing the comparative age periods of those admitted to the almshouse on Long Island have been prepared, under the direction of Professor Sedgwick, and have been placed upon the boards of the office.

"The most important and delicate work of the office is the determination of settlements. It is important, because a careless and slipshod system would result in a largely increased expense to the community by there being charged to this municipality the support of many people who should be supported by others or by the State. This Department stands as a safeguard against this unjust imposition. The change in the laws of settlement, invalidating all those acquired previous to 1860, made necessary a review of all the histories of inmates of our eleemosynary institutions, numbering 2,338 cases. This resulted in the invalidating of the settlement of ninety-one inmates and placed the burden of their support upon the State, making a gross saving to the city of $15,271.22 yearly.

"The number of persons examined as possible insane cases during the year was 952. Of this number 206 were sent to the Observation Hospital at Deer Island until the question of their mental status could be determined. While for many cases the hospital at Deer Island is the best place for their treatment, yet in some cases it is very desirable that there should be in the city a place of detention for persons whose mental condition is doubtful and who should receive medical care until their friends are ascertained and their mentality determined.

"At my suggestion, Dr. Jelly, the senior examiner of this Department, and Dr. Prescott, the medical director of the Penal Institutions Department, have considered the matter and have reported a plan for a detention hospital near or adjoining to the Court House which would accommodate ten patients, and I recommend that an appropriation be made for the establishment of such a detention hospital."

The work of the Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, has been as follows:

Number of applications	4,774
Outside investigations	1,260
Applications withdrawn	439
Applications refused	202
Medical examinations	952
Children's examinations	607
Pauper admissions	3,207
Insane admissions	927
Settlements investigated	5,655

The expenditures of the Department for the year amounted to $16,287.57.

Clark the sum of $6,500 as payment for their estate on School street, at Charlestown, taken for school purposes by the City of Boston, April 14, 1899 (taking recorded same day), upon said trustees giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken, satisfactory to the Law Department.

(4.) That there be paid to Benjamin L. Keith and the heirs of William H. Keith the sum of $8,200 as payment for their estate at the corner of Pearl and Bartlett streets, at Charlestown, taken for school purposes by the City of Boston, April 14, 1899 (taking recorded same day), upon their giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken, satisfactory to the Law Department.

The Superintendent presented for the approval of the Board, the following re-appointments of instructors for the year 1899-1900, made to correct clerical errors in School Document No. 6, 1899, Appointments for Re-election:

To serve during the pleasure of the School Committee:

Lyman District, Mary E. Williams, first assistant, primary school; Warren District, Abbie M. Mott, first assistant, grammar school.

The reappointments were approved, under a suspension of the rules.

On recommendation of the Committee on New Buildings it was ordered:

(1.) That the accompanying plans and specifications, prepared by Hartwell, Richardson & Driver, architects, for heating and ventilating the new high school building in Dorchester, be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board; and the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with Lynch & Woodward in the sum of $25,700 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in said school-house, substantially in accordance with said plans and specifications, the said firm being the lowest bidder.

(2.) That the accompanying plans and specifications, prepared by Herbert D. Hale, architect, for heating and ventilating the high school building in South Boston, be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board; and the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with Lynch & Woodward in the sum of $24,274 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in said school-house, substantially in accordance with said plans and specifications, the said firm being the lowest bidder.

Mr. Aldrich, for the Committee on New Buildings, reported that they have advertised for and received proposals for heating, plumbing and plastering the new grammar school-house on Quincy and Perth streets,

Dorchester, and in accordance with the rules they recommend that the heating and plumbing contracts be respectively awarded to the lowest bidders. They believe, however, that the lowest bid for plastering is too high, as it exceeds the architect's estimate of the cost of the work nearly $5,000. It is their intention, therefore, to obtain new bids at a later date for this work, which they hope will result to the advantage of the city. The committee recommend the passage of the following orders:

Ordered, That the accompanying plans and specifications for heating and ventilating the new grammar school-house on Quincy and Perth streets, Dorchester, be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board; and the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with the Fuller & Warren Warming and Ventilating Company in the sum of $10,998 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in said school-house, substantially in accordance with said plans and specifications; the said firm being the lowest bidder.

L. Billings & Co., in the sum of $7,865 for furnishing and installing a plumbing system in said school-house, substantially in accordance with said plans and specifications, the said firm being the lowest bidder.

The orders were taken up separately.

The motion to suspend the rules to permit the passage of the first order was lost, the necessary number not voting therefor, and the order was accordingly laid over, under the rule.

The second order was passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Aldrich offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to prepare a form of contract to be made with architects of school buildings, and to execute such contracts with such architects whose plans have been approved by this Board.

Mr. Anderson offered the following substitute order:

Ordered, That the Law Department of the city be requested to prepare a form for contracts to be made with architects, to be submitted to this Board for its approval.

The motion to substitute was lost.

On motion of Mr. Berridge, the order offered by Mr. Aldrich was amended by adding the following words: These contracts shall be null and void unless approved by the Board.

The order, as amended, was passed.

On the recommendation of the Committee on New Buildings, under suspension of the rules, it was ordered:

(1.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to rent the house numbered 20 Mt. Vernon street, Dorchester district, for school purposes, at a rental of $1,200 per year.

Pratt.

(4.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute an order of addition to the contract of G. A. Cahill for erecting a primary school building at Forest Hills, in the sum of $387, for furnishing and laying brick trenches in the basement of said school-house, and covering the same with North river stone twelve inches wide, to meet the requirements of the building laws.

(5.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to provide temporary accommodations in the Chapman district substantially in accordance with the foregoing report, and at an expense not to exceed that specified therein.

Mr. Coolidge, for the Joint Committee on Accounts and Supplies, offered the following:

Ordered, That in consideration of twenty years of faithful and continuous service, William J. Porter, auditing clerk, be granted leave of absence from October 1, 1899, to January 1, 1900; and that during said absence his duties be performed by M. Lewis Crosby.

Passed, unanimously, by a rising vote.

Mr. Calderwood offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on High Schools are hereby authorized to employ a second laboratory assistant in the English High School at a salary of $500 per annum, until otherwise ordered.

Mr. Berridge, for the same committee, offered the following:

That the Committee on School-houses are hereby authorized to expend $2,000 for retinting the walls and ceilings of the Latin English High School-house.

The Chair read the following:

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HENRY D. HUGGAN, ESQ., President Boston School Committee.

DEAR SIR: In reply to your inquiry as to "whether the provisions of Chapter 170 of the Acts of the year 1899 apply to the election of officers, teachers, janitors, and other persons in the employ of the Boston School Committee," I have to say:

While the question is not free from doubt and is very close, the act, in my opinion, does not apply to the School Committee or any election by it. The act provides that whenever "in any city the election of any officer is vested in the Common Council, or in the Board of Aldermen, or in both acting jointly or concurrently, or in any other municipal body or board, the election shall not be valid unless it is made by a viva voce vote," etc. Chapter 129 of the Acts of the same year provides that "when the election of any city officer is vested in the Common Council, or in the Board of Aldermen, or in both acting jointly or concurrently, the election shall not be valid unless it is made by a yea and nay vote," etc.

It seems to me that the second act intended to correct an omission in the first act, and a correction in the method of voting, as the Legislature probably determined on inspection of the first act, that a vote by yea and nay was not an election, and that they had not made provision for the election of certain officers who were elected by boards of the city, such as Trustees of the Boston Public Library, Boston City Hospital, Children's Institutions, etc., and that the "city officers," contemplated in the last named act were the "city officers" intended in the first named act.

Furthermore, it has been decided by the courts that teachers of public schools are not public officers, and are therefore not city officers within the meaning of the term; and, inasmuch as the teachers of the public schools are among the most important employees of the city chosen by the School Committee, it does not seem to me that if the Legislature excluded them from the operation of the last act, they could possibly have intended to include others of less importance; and, therefore, that the Legislature intended by the term "city officers" in both those acts the city officers that are generally understood to be meant by that term; that is, officers connected with the city government elected by the City Council, or the Board of Aldermen, or by both acting jointly or concurrently, or by boards of trustees and other boards appointed by the Mayor. Still, as I have said before, the question is a very close one, and it seems to me that I do not depart much from what is expected of me if I advise the committee that the best method to be pursued in the election of Secretary of the Board, Superintendent and Supervisors of the public schools would be in the manner prescribed by said Chapter 170.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. BAILEY,
Corporation Counsel.

Placed on file.

On motion of Mr. Gallivan, the orders passed at the meeting of May 23 and June 13, whereby two reports from the Committee on Rules and Regulations relative to the extension of the summer vacation were declared accepted, were rescinded and the aforesaid reports were recommitted to the Committee on Rules and Regulations.

Mr. Gallivan, for the Committee on Rules and Regulations, to whom were recommitted, July 31, their reports presented at the meetings of May 9 and June 13, with regard to communications from the City and Common Council requesting the School Committee to extend the length of the summer vacation for the public schools, reported that, in view of the action of the Board at its meeting of June 29, they recommend that the City Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that a regulation has been adopted providing that the public schools shall reopen after the summer vacation on the second Wednesday of September in each year.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

Mr. Gallivan, for the same committee, offered the following:

Other applicants for admission shall be at least eleven years of age, and shall present certificates of character from the principals of the schools they last attended, and pass an examination equivalent to that required for admission to the seventh grade of the grammar schools, on the third Saturday in June, and on the second Wednesday in September, the questions for such examinations to be adopted by the Board of Supervisors. Candidates for admission to the Latin schools must present a written statement from parents or guardians of their intention to give such candidates a collegiate education.

Section 267. Strike out the words "Tuesday and Wednesday following the first Monday," in the fourth and fifth lines, and substitute in place thereof the words "second Wednesday and following Thursday," so that the section will read as follows:

Section 267. The examination of applicants for admission to the high schools who are not graduates from the grammar schools, shall take place on the third Friday and Saturday in June, and on the second Wednesday and following Thursday in September, and shall be conducted at the same time in each study, and with the same questions which shall be adopted by the Board of Supervisors. Applicants shall present certificates of good character from the principals of the schools they last attended, and shall pass a satisfactory examination which shall be equivalent to that required for graduation from the grammar schools.

Section 285. Strike out the words, "Wednesday following the first Monday," in the first and second lines, and substitute in place thereof the words "second Wednesday," and add the following to the section as a separate paragraph:

The examination of applicants for admission to this school who are not graduates of the high schools, fourth year course, shall take place on the second Wednesday and following Thursday in September, so that the section will read as follows:

Section 285. This school shall begin on the second Wednesday in September, and shall close on such day of the week preceding the Fourth of July as the Board may direct.

The examination of applicants for admission to this school who are not graduates of the high schools, fourth year course, shall take place on the second Wednesday and following Thursday in September.

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

The following circular to heads of departments has been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

Circular No. 64.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, August 12, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: You are hereby instructed to allow, in part compensation for their services, such of your employees whose services can be dispensed with as are members of the Grand Army of the Republic and desire to attend the National Encampment to be held at Philadelphia, beginning September 3, 1899, leave of absence, not exceeding one week, without loss of pay, for the purpose of attending said encampment.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

At its meeting held on Monday, the fourteenth instant, the Board of Aldermen voted to confirm the following appointments made by His Honor the Mayor:

John F. Murphy, Felice A. Reppucci and Ernest L. Weis, to be Constables of the City of Boston, for the terms ending April 30, 1900.

DEATH OF MR. SAMUEL JOHNSON.

Mr. Samuel Johnson, a member of the firm of C. F. Hovey & Co., died suddenly at his summer home in Nahant, Sunday morning, August 13, 1899.

Mr. Johnson was a native of Boston and was seventy-three years of age. He had occupied many positions of trust and responsibility in business, charitable and religious circles. In 1889 Mr. Johnson was appointed a member of the Board of Sinking-funds Commissioners of the City of Boston, which position he held under successive reappointments till 1898.

EXPENDITURES OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The analysis of the expenditures of the Fire Department, given in "Special Publications No. 3" of the Statistics Department, shows a deficit of $71,136.56 in 1896-97, and $106,667.48 in 1897-98. This deficit was the result of an increase in the charge for the use of water at fires from $2 per hydrant in previous years to $20 per hydrant in these two years. The result was a charge against the Fire Department of $99,643 in 1896-97 and $106,695 in 1897-98. No provision was made for meeting these charges from the annual appropriation, hence the apparent deficit. Had the charges not been made there would have been a real surplus of $15,000 in 1896-97, and of $27.52 in 1897-98.

The extra charge for water was made in order to show the real value of the water works to the city in view of the sale of a portion of the works to the Commonwealth. The transaction was purely a matter of book-keeping, and represented no actual expenditure of money or real income to the city. The bills were met by a transfer from the surplus revenue credited to the Fire Department; on payment, this was credited to the Water Department, whence it found its way back into the surplus revenue of the city as surplus revenue of that Department. In

BOSTON PORTO RICO RELIEF COMMITTEE.

Saturday, August 12, 1899.

A meeting of citizens was held at 12, noon, August 12, 1899, in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, in response to a call issued by Mayor Quincy, for the purpose of taking such action as might be deemed proper to aid the sufferers from the recent disastrous hurricane in Porto Rico.

The meeting was called as a result of the receipt by Mayor Quincy of the following telegram:

Washington, D.C., August 11, 1899.

THE MAYOR OF BOSTON, MASS.

SIR: The Governor-General of Porto Rico confirms the report that upon the eighth instant a hurricane swept over that island, entirely demolishing many of the towns, destroying many lives, and reducing, so far as he can estimate, not less than one hundred thousand (100,000) of the inhabitants to the condition of destitution, without homes or food. Unless immediate and effective relief is given, these unfortunate people will perish of famine. Under these conditions, the President deems that an appeal should be made to the humanity of the American people. It is an appeal to their patriotism, also, for the inhabitants of Porto Rico have freely and gladly submitted themselves to the guardianship of the United States, and have voluntarily surrendered the protection of Spain, to which they were formerly entitled, confidently relying upon more generous and beneficent treatment at our hands. The highest considerations of honor and good faith unite with the promptings of humanity to require from the United States a generous response to the demand of Porto Rican distress. This Department has directed the immediate distribution of rations to the sufferers by the army in Porto Rico, so far as it is within the power of the Executive; but in the absence of any appropriations we must rely largely upon private contributions. I beg that you will call upon the public spirited and humane people of your city to take active and immediate measures in this exigency. The government transport "McPherson" will be sent directly from the Port of New York direct to Porto Rico on Monday, the fourteenth instant, to carry all supplies of food which can be obtained.

Further transports will be sent at future dates, of which public notice will be given. Any committee charged with the raising of funds will receive full information and advice upon communication with this Department.

Very respectfully,
ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War.

Mayor Quincy made a statement as to the need of funds for the relief of the sufferers, and announced that he had already received the following contributions:

Anonymous	$500
De Ford & Co.	500
E. S. Converse	500
Dwight Braman	100
Cash	5
Total	$1,605

Mayor Quincy also stated that he was authorized by the giver of the anonymous contribution of $500 to say that this contribution would be increased to as large an amount as might be given by any other single contributor.

On motion of Mr. Henry L. Higginson, Josiah Quincy, Mayor of Boston, was elected permanent Chairman of the committee to have charge of the raising of funds and the expenditure thereof.

On motion of Mr. Ubert K. Pettingill, Mr. Charles H. Cole was elected Secretary of the said committee.

On motion of Mr. James P. Stearns, Mr. Francis H. Peabody was elected Treasurer of the said committee.

It was moved and voted that a committee, to have charge of the work of soliciting public subscriptions to aid the sufferers from the recent disastrous hurricane in Porto Rico be appointed by the Chairman, the committee to be announced at a later time.

Hon. P. A. Collins suggested that the motion be amended, so that the committee thus appointed would have full powers.

The amendment was adopted, and the motion as amended was carried.

At the request of Mayor Quincy, Maj. Azel Ames, who lately returned from Porto Rico, explained to those present the condition of affairs on that island.

Mayor Quincy stated that later in the afternoon he would announce the committee which he was authorized to appoint, to have charge of the raising of funds and the expenditure thereof.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mayor Quincy sent to Secretary of War Root the following telegram:

HON. ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War.

In response to your appeal, meeting of representative citizens was held at the City Hall to-day and a large relief committee has been appointed. Sixteen hundred dollars has already been received, and we are endeavoring to forward suitable supplies by steamer "McPherson" on Monday, and will send more by next steamer. Please give instructions for "McPherson" to receive our supplies, if possible. Maj. Azel Ames represents our committee and will see to shipment Monday.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor of Boston.

VIOLATION OF CITY ORDINANCES REGARDING USE OF STREETS.

Superintendent of Streets Wells, on August 11, 1899, issued the following statement concerning the violation of city ordinances relating to streets:

Some time since the Superintendent of Streets requested the Police Commissioners to assign for special duty with the Street Department two good officers. One of the purposes of this request was to stop the picking over of barrels by rag-pickers, which greatly added to the litter of the streets, and was also strongly objected to by the Board of Health, for the reason that material so gathered, carried into the tenement houses, was likely to spread disease.

Under the supervision of Deputies Atwood and O'Shea, the two officers assigned to the Department have done excellent work, as shown by the fact that over a hundred convictions have been secured in court for the following violations of the city ordinances:

Violating rules and regulations of the Board of Health — Picking over and sorting garbage and waste barrels.

Violating city ordinances — Standing team in the street for over twenty minutes, cutting firewood in the street, sweeping dirty water into the street, sweeping store and house dirt into the street, letting boxes of fish stand on the street in the sun for more than five minutes, failure to properly separate waste material.

As a result of this activity a very decided improvement is found in conditions in quarters where before it was customary for the people to use the streets as a sort of dump. Much has already been done to educate the people in certain sections. Stores and tenements in the thickly settled and foreign quarters have been visited by the officers, attention called to the ordinances, and cards left giving a brief notice of the ordinances covering the throwing of waste material, etc., into the streets.

A very careful study has been made by the deputy superintendents and these specially assigned officers, and the information gained will be of great value for covering future work; and if these two officers could secure so many convictions, it is evident that there is a continual and widespread violation of the ordinances. If the public would only realize that it is the purpose of the Department, in so far as it can control the matter, to enforce these ordinances to the extent of making arrests, the warning might be effectual.

The Board of Aldermen, at its meeting held on Monday, August 14, passed the following order, offered by Alderman Adams:

School-house site, west of railroad,
Roslindale	$911 90
Longfellow School-house, Roslindale,
west of the railroad, additional . . .	153 19

(2.) That there be paid to the executors of the estate of Thomas Doane the sum of $11,000, as payment for their estate on Pearl street, Charlestown, taken for school purposes by the City of Boston, April 14, 1899 (taking recorded same day), upon the said executors giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken satisfactory to the Law Department.

(3.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to approve the payment of the sum of $2.75 to Perkins & Betton, architects of the new primary school-house at Forest Hills, for test, made by order of the committee, of brick used in said building.

(4.) That the accompanying plans and specifications for heating and ventilating the new grammar school-house on Quincy and Perth streets, Dorchester, be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board, and the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with the Fuller & Warren Warming and Ventilating Company in the sum of $10,998 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in said school-house, substantially in accordance with said plans and specifications; the said concern being the lowest bidder.

(6.) That the plans and specifications for a grammar school-house at East Boston, prepared by Greenleaf & Cobb, architects, having been approved by the Superintendent of Schools, be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board,

(7.) That the plans for a grammar school-house at South Boston, prepared by Charles J. Bateman, architect, having been approved by the Superintendent of Schools, be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board; and the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to contract with C. On the recommendation of the Committee on New Buildings, it was ordered:

(1.) That the Benjamin Dean School-house, at the corner of H and East Sixth streets, South Boston, be accepted by this Board, subject to the terms and conditions of the contract.

(2.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to provide temporary accommodations in the Chambers-street Chapel for a class of pupils in the Wells District at a rental of $600 per annum, from September 1, 1899.

On motion of Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, it was ordered:

(1.) That the Building Commissioner be notified that the old wooden school building on Webster avenue, Brighton, for which John Nixon has made application for a permit to allow him to make alterations so as to convert the said building into a tenement house, was sold by the City of Boston at public auction June 23, 1899, subject to the following conditions: That the same will be removed in fifteen days, and if not removed in fifteen days from date of sale, then the title shall revert to the city, and may be otherwise disposed of by the authorities in charge, and the purchaser shall have no claim against the city for or on account of the purchase price paid. That the conversion of this old school-house into a large tenement house situated within eight feet of the division line between the school-house lot and the Putnam lot, will deprive the school-house of the proper amount of light, and will be detrimental to the proper use of the school-house, and this Board therefore protests against the issuing of the permit asked for.

(2.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to expend amounts not exceeding those severally specified herein in connection with the removal of the present Winship School-house to make room for the new building: Moving, $383; excavating and masonry, $600; carpenry, $1,200; plumbing, $190; heating, $208.

On the recommendation of the Committee on Accounts it was ordered, under suspension of the rules, that the sum of $5,000 each be transferred from the following-named items in the appropriation bill for 1899-1900—Salaries of Instructors, Fuel, Gas and Water, and Supplies and Incidentals (a total of $15,000), to the item Repairs and Alterations upon School Buildings, making the total appropriation for Repairs and Alterations $267,500.

On motion of Mr. Calderwood it was ordered, that a special committee of five be appointed to formulate some plan for the instruction in music in the public schools.

On motion of Mr. Burrill, it was ordered that the Committee on New Buildings report to the Board the reasons, if any, why the appropriations for Quincy and Perth-street School will be exceeded.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED.

At its meeting held on Monday, the twenty-first instant, the Board of Aldermen voted to confirm the following appointment made by His Honor the Mayor:

Of Paul G. Coblenzer, to be a Weigher of Coal, for the term ending April 30, 1900.

REPORT OF THE PAUPER TRUSTEES.

The second annual report of the Pauper Institutions Trustees, for the year ending January 31, 1899, has been printed and presented to His Honor the Mayor as City Document No. 25, 1899. Following is an abstract of the report:

The Trustees have in their charge only those poor and indigent adults not insane who receive indoor relief.

During the year 1898 these persons have been cared for, with a few exceptions, in two separate institutions, (1) the Boston Almshouse and Hospital on Long Island in Boston Harbor and (2) the Boston Almshouse in Charlestown for women and aged couples near the northern-most extremity of the city in the Charlestown district. The former is by far the larger, having had during the year an average total population of 706, while the average total population of the latter has been 107.

Some differentiation between the institutions at Charlestown and Long Island had been made by previous administrations, but such differentiation or classification was incomplete. On June 8, 1898, it was voted that the institution at Charlestown should be regarded as an almshouse for women and aged couples, and in furtherance of this policy it was decided to install as its head a woman superintendent. The Board was fortunate in securing for this position Miss Weeden, who had had previous experience in charitable and philanthropic work. Miss Weeden has already proved herself to be a competent, wise and humane superintendent, and the Charlestown Almshouse is clean, comfortable, well kept and economically administered. Of aged couples there are at present in the Charlestown Almshouse nine, beside sixty-one single women and widows.

The principal almshouse of the city is known as the Boston Almshouse and Hospital on Long Island. The Trustees control the whole of this island, excepting a portion at the northerly end (the extremity of which is known as Long Island Head) belonging to the United States Government, and occupied by important harbor fortifications and a lighthouse. Belonging to the almshouse and hospital are two wharves and six principal buildings as follows: (1.) An old-fashioned brick building now occupied exclusively by men, and designated the "Men's building." In this building, in addition to the inmates' quarters, are the Superintendent's office, etc. (2.) The Women's building, a large building of wood and plaster construction, occupied, with the exception of the bakery, exclusively by women. (3.) A large hospital of 250 beds. (4.) A chapel built of wood, spacious and well lighted. In this chapel religious services are held at different times by Protestant and Catholic chaplains, respectively. (5.) A house for the Superintendent. (6.) A barn large enough for the nine horses and thirty or more cows which belong to the institution. A piggery containing one hundred or more pigs; a carpenter's shop; a morgue, and other small out-buildings complete the list.

No new buildings have been erected during the year, but the expenditure of a very considerable sum for repairs was found necessary, and various alterations and improvements have been made as comfort required or experience demanded. All that could be done was, as far as possible, to prevent deterioration and to carry out minor changes.

The men's building is the least satisfactory of all the buildings on Long Island. It still awaits an adequate system of ventilation such as has been recommended by several successive administrations.

One of the most important improvements of the year in the men's building has been the establishment of a convenient and well-lighted storeroom and new refrigerator in one end of the old recreation hall, the latter having been transferred to the basement of the southern extremity of the building. It has repeatedly been urged by the Superintendent that a modern coldstorage plant would be a valuable adjunct to this department, an opinion in which the Trustees heartily agree, and only a lack of funds has prevented them from establishing such a plant.

The laundry is also primitive in arrangements, and deficient in lighting and in space. The kitchen is also old-fashioned in location and fittings and ought to be renovated.

An urgent appeal has been made to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for an appropriation for a new power-house in a better location and large enough to contain boilers, electrical appliances, pumps, laundry, etc., with advantage and economy.

The hospital building is in fairly good repair, and has required during the year comparatively little outlay. The need of new isolating rooms, and of special new and additional wards for tuberculosis and specific diseases is, however, very great. New quarters for the accommodation of nurses are also imperatively demanded.

The violent storm of November 27, 1898, did considerable damage to the women's building. The total cost of the repairs made necessary to this building alone was $607.

One of the greatest defects in the whole almshouse is the necessity which compels the Trustees to maintain the general bakery in the basement of the women's building. This makes impossible that absolute separation of the sexes which is so imperative in an institution of this character, and the Trustees have strongly urged upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment that some provision be made for a modern bakery in connection with a re-establishment of the boilers and power-house.

The November storm damaged the front wharf to such an extent that repairs to the planking and wood-work had to be made at a cost of $198.22, while the causeway of earth and masonry leading to the wooden part was so far weakened that it has been necessary to contract for its repair at a cost of $1,240.

The buildings on Long Island and at Charlestown are still without adequate fire protection, but arrangements are under way for providing a salt-water service for the Long Island Almshouse and Hospital.

Owing to the fact that all communication between Long Island and the mainland is by water, the Trustees have come to the conclusion that in the near future one boat at least should be provided for their exclusive use.

It was possible by making certain changes to set apart for the use of United States soldiers one entire wing of the hospital, and on September 13, 1898, a detail of sixty-one United States soldiers, almost all of them members of the regular army, was sent to Long Island for care and treatment.

The wards were thoroughly renovated and made ready for the soldiers, a large supply of additional garments and linen being provided by the Volunteer Aid Association. Although many of the soldiers were seriously ill at the time they were sent to Long Island (thirteen of them having typhoid fever and many others suffering from malarial fever) not a single death occurred.

During the year the library and reading-room have received important additions, and have been largely used both by officers and inmates.

It is the constant aim of the Trustees to reduce the number of inmates, in the belief that it is their duty to diminish as far as possible the mass of pauperism pertaining to the body politic. To this end, generally speaking, they discourage by every means in their power, resort to and continuance in the almshouses of the city.

During the year and since the total abandonment of prison labor on Long Island, more and more labor has been expected and required of inmates. This policy has had the tendency to diminish in the working season the total number of inmates, a result which the Trustees regard as wholly satisfactory. It cannot be denied, however, that one result has been and is likely to be a somewhat increased per capita expense.

Certain facts in regard to the inmates are worthy of note. Inasmuch as minors are not sent to Long Island (excepting the comparatively few cases of young men and women under twenty-one in need of hospital care, and infants too young to be separated from pauper mothers), the average age of the inmates exclusive of infants is somewhat advanced, having been forty-eight among those admitted during the year.

The aged and infirm predominate, and this is as it should be. Still, a considerable number of persons not physically infirm or aged resort to the island, especially in the winter season.

It appears that the amount of pauperism in the city varies inversely as the temperature. The fact appears to be that upon a large mass, constituting the permanent population of our almshouses, there rises with the fall of the mercury in the winter season a great wave of increase, which subsides with the rise of temperature in the spring. This winter increment constitutes one of the most serious problems with which we have to deal. In part it is undoubtedly composed of worthy poor, in part apparently it is due to a less worthy, but equally unfortunate, number who are victims of the drink habit.

After both these deductions have been made, there still remains a more considerable number of comparatively young and able-bodied persons, who are technically known as "recidivists" or "rounders."

It is the opinion of this Board that vagrants of this type are wholly out of place in pauper institutions designed for the care of the worthy poor, and it is our intention to study more closely than has been done hitherto in Boston various aspects of the "rounder" problem.

Some phases of the problem are indicated in the following paragraphs from a special report on the admissions of the year, among whom are many vagrants:

Deducting re-admissions from the total number of admissions, 1,079, to the Boston Almshouses at Long Island and Charlestown during the year February 1, 1898, to January 31, 1899, we have 917 individuals admitted, of whom 27 are children, leaving a working basis of 890 adults.

One hundred and eighty-four men out of 543 (or 33.8 per cent.) were admitted for the first time.

One hundred and eighty-five women out of 347 (or 53.3 per cent.) were admitted for the first time.

Five hundred and fourteen individuals (362 men and 152 women) or 57.8 per cent. of the whole number admitted, were under 50 years of age; but while 195 women, or 56.6 per cent. of the women admitted were over 50 years of age, only 189 men, or 33.8 per cent. of the men admitted were over 50 years of age.

Two hundred and fifty single men under 50 years of age have been admitted during the year, or 84 per cent. of the whole number of men, while only 52 single women under 50, or 15 per cent. out of a total number of 347 women have been admitted.

There are evident reasons why more than half the persons admitted into the almshouse are between 25 and 50 years of age. Many people and many societies are interested to help young men or women under 25, even if they have made a poor start in life.

But between twenty-five and fifty are the years when the inefficient or intemperate man or woman is most troublesome and least appealing.

Only a small number of widowed women between the ages of twenty-five and fifty are taken into the almshouse. The Overseers of the Poor and private charity carry along temporarily many young widows with growing children. Broadly speaking, one can safely assume that no widow who has young children comes into the almshouse, unless she is known to be a drinking woman or to be otherwise unfit to make a home for them.

Seventy-nine per cent. of the men admitted and 36.6 per cent. of women are recorded as intemperate, or 62.8 per cent. of whole number of persons admitted. Forty-six and seven-tenths per cent. of the men admitted have been in penal institutions, and 22.3 per cent. of the women admitted, or 36.7 per cent. of whole number of persons admitted.

Forty-six per cent. of all the men and women admitted went at once into the hospital; 54 per cent. into the two dormitories. Of those entering the hospital, some were probably soon discharged into the dormitories, but, to set against that, others first admitted into the dormitories went within a few days into the hospital. Only 26.5 per cent. of the whole number entering are certified as able to work; with 11.2 per cent. certified as able to do light work, this gives us 37.7 per cent. of our entering population physically able to work. Supposing this 37.7 per cent. "able to do some work" to be dwellers in the two dormitory buildings, into which went 54 per cent. of admissions of the year, we should have 16.3 per cent. of infirm and weak old people admitted to the dormitories too feeble to work, though not needing hospital care.

Thirty-six per cent. of those admitted are incapacitated for steady work by chronic illness or old age; 12 per cent. are in some way disabled (deformed, lame, partially blind or deaf, etc.); 13 per cent. suffer from some form of mental disability.

Comparison of the general percentages of of the 890 adults admitted to the almshouse during 1898, with the special percentages of those 369 adults (included in the 890) who were for the first time admitted during 1898, indicates that we are now receiving into the almshouse those persons who most stand in need of indoor relief—the old, the sick and the disabled.

It is clear that greater discrimination is now exercised than was possible in former years, and this is also indicated by the following comparison of certain figures in the report of the Mayor's Special Committee (1892) with the corresponding figures during 1898.

Comparison of figures from final report of Mayor's Special Committee (1892) with figures from report of 1898:

Decrease or Increase, 1898,	Almshouse, Long Island, 1898.	Almshouses, Long and Rainsford Islands, 1891.
—239	1,034	1,273	Number of admissions.
—99	874	973	Individuals represented.
—140	160	300	Admitted more than once during year.
—8.1	15.5	23.6	Percentage admitted more than once.
—148	358	506	Admission for first time.
—5.2	34.6	39.8	Percentage first admissions.
+84,055	541,827	457,772	Population of Boston in 1891 and 1898.
+2,730	16,377	Jan. 1, to Dec. 31, 13,647	Families helped by Overseers of the Poor in 1891 and 1898.

The present population of the Almshouse on Long Island should be compared with that of Long and Rainsford Islands in 1891. This table does not cover admissions to Charlestown Almshouse for either year.

When we find of our 890 persons admitted to the almshouse during the year that 391 need to go at once into the hospital; 318 are incapacitated for steady work outside the almshouse, and therefore for self-support, by old age or chronic illness; 105 are maimed, or lame, or partially blind, deaf, etc.; 120 are in some way mentally disqualified; 559 are recorded as "intemperate," and 327 have been inmates of penal institutions, it is clear that we cannot simply say to such a population: "Stop drinking; stand on your feet and work." Obviously, only a small number are capable of responding to the appeal.

Those who should leave the almshouse as soon as possible are, as a rule, drawn from the group whose almshouse history is shortest. This group includes:

(a.) Those men and women who have come for hospital care during temporary illness, and who should, as soon as possible, get into active work; their chance of this lessens with each week of almshouse life after recovery. Among these are the women of ordinary mental capacity, coming for confinement, for some of whom places at service with their babies can be found.

(b.) Those who might be cared for by relatives.

(c.) Those among the "incapables" or disabled who can piece out their incapacity by faithfulness, and who are at times able to work, though only under patient employers.

(d.) Those who may be counted as able-bodied, intemperate, irregular workers, who should not be allowed to use the almshouse as a free home, in which to recover from a debauch.

Among those who should be persuaded to stay are:

(a.) The mentally weak (especially the young women) who are not so markedly feeble-minded as to be fit subjects for the Custodial Department of the Massachusetts School for the Feeble Minded at Waverly.

(b.) The helpless drinkers who cannot protect themselves from temptation, and whose life outside the almshouse is an alternation of drinking, arrests and commitments.

(c.) Elderly, infirm people without responsible relatives.

We must accept the fact that for a part of our population their only prospect is life in the almshouse. For them occupation under decent and orderly conditions should be provided even when they are incapable of productive work.

With the two-fold physical and moral disqualifications of many of our men and women, it will need deliberate teaching of a high order to help our people, and re-enforce weak characters instead of simply retaining them for a while and discharging them unhelped. We need this teaching not only for those who may be pricked into some effort to leave an institution which is no longer a place for idleness, smoking and card-playing, but also to render brighter and happier the lives of those who will probably never again support themselves or be supported outside the almshouse.

We need in both men's building and women's building a teacher whose business it should be to set every unemployed person at work, even at the cost of labor, time and ingenuity.

This would only be carrying further such work as some of our officers have already done from their interest in the people under their charge, but to fully develop it, it should be the special work of well qualified persons. It would mean so much for the moral and industrial atmosphere of the almshouse that, in our opinion, it would justify the added expense of salary and maintenance of a teacher in each of the two dormitories.

Appended to the report are reports from (1) the Superintendent of Long Island; (2) the visiting medical staff of the Long Island Hospital; (3) the superintendent of nurses of the Long Island Hospital; (4) the Superintendent of the Almshouse in Charlestown for Women and Aged Couples; (5) the report of the visiting physician of the last-named institution.

The report also contains a series of statistical tables relating to the financial management of the Pauper Institutions, as well as to the characteristics and personal history of their inmates.

The expenditures of the Department for the year were as follows:

Almshouse and Hospital, Long Island,	$96,293
Almshouse, Charlestown	13,927
Office expense	2,169
Pauper expense, for support of paupers outside the city, etc.	533
Total	$112,923

The total expenditures in 1898-99 exceeded the total expenditures in 1897-98 by $12,290. The income of the Department, derived chiefly from board of patients at Long Island and Charlestown, amounted to $5,123 in 1898, an increase of $2,106 over 1897.

VETERINARY HOSPITAL FOR THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The new veterinary hospital for the Fire Department, situated on Atkinson street, near Swett street, projected by Fire Commissioner H. S. Russell, was opened on Thursday, August 17, 1899. The need of a hospital of this character has been felt by the Department for several years, and the building was finally located on land of the city. Work was begun about the middle of July, 1898, by the city Repair Division, from the plans of John A. Fox, architect. The work was continued by contract with George B. Baker, and the finishing was done by the Repair Division. The whole was substantially completed about June 1, 1899; but for the lack of a sewer in Atkinson street it was not occupied till about the first of August following.

The building is built on a pile and granite foundation, is of brick, and divided into two main sections. The easterly one measures thirty-one feet by forty-five feet six inches on the ground plan, being two stories high, with pitched roof; the westerly one measures thirty-eight feet six inches by ninety-nine feet three inches, being one story of twelve feet to the eaves, and with a steep open trussed roof, with ventilating monitor the whole length of the ridge.

The easterly section contains the surgeon's office and surgery, with all the necessary equipment; a carriage-house and "carriage-wash;" harness-room, and stairs to the second story, which has a lodging-room; hay-loft, grain-bins, etc., and access through a "fire-dive" to the long gallery to the monitor windows.

The westerly section has fifteen large box-stalls and six single stalls, watering troughs, hay and grain shoots, forge-room for horse-shoeing, and stairs to the cellar, in which is located the steam-heater and an extensive system of iron-pipe drainage from all parts of the floors and stalls. The system of ventilation is simple but efficient.

The construction is of the most substantial character, the frame being of Georgia hardpine, and the floors mostly of rock-maple or two-inch spruce plank. The stalls have the latest pattern of Fire Department "Lynn stall-fittings." The roofs are slated with Maine slates, with copper flashings, and the gable ends are of "half-timbered" work and pebble-dash. The general style is "Old English domestic." The cost of the hospital was about $21,000.

BOSTON PORTO RICO RELIEF COMMITTEE.

City Hall, August 16, 1899.

A meeting of the executive committee was held Wednesday, August 16, 1899, at the Mayor's office, City Hall, at 3 P.M.

Present: All the members except Messrs. Peabody and Pettingill.

Mr. Burnham, on behalf of the Boston Fruit Company, offered to charter to the committee one of the vessels now at Porto Rico, belonging to the company, at actual cost, estimated at about $150 per week, and suggested that if chartered it might well be used for the shipment of a cargo of bananas, yams, sweet potatoes, plantains, etc., the natural food of the people of this country, from Jamaica direct to the port in Porto Rico selected by the committee. He stated that the company also kept on hand hard pine lumber, such as is suitable for building the shelters needed by the people in Porto Rico, and offered to furnish such amount of this as the committee desired at cost.

On motion of Mr. Burnett, it was Voted, That the offer of the Boston Fruit Company be taken advantage of; that a vessel be chartered from the said company, and that a cargo of bananas, yams, sweet potatoes, plantains, etc., and a deck-load of lumber, be purchased and forwarded on the said vessel to De Ford & Co., at Jovas, Porto Rico, with the utmost despatch.

Mr. Preston, for the committee on purchase of supplies, etc., reported that he had purchased and forwarded, to be sent on the "Evelyn," the following goods:

Four thousand yards of cloth, 5,000 needles, 300,000 yards of thread and 60,000 pounds of dried fish.

Mr. Dumaresq stated that his company expected, within a few days, to have a vessel leave Jacksonville with a partial cargo for Porto Rico, and offered to furnish free transportation for as much additional merchandise as the vessel would hold.

CHARLES H. COLE, Secretary.

The committee, on August 19, 1899, issued the following appeal:

TO THE PUBLIC:

The Porto Rico Relief Committee, organized in response to the appeal of the Secretary of War, issued with the approval of the President, at the meeting held at City Hall, Boston, on August 12, desires to gratefully acknowledge the prompt generosity which has already placed the sum of $18,000 in its hands for the relief of the widespread suffering and disaster caused by the recent terrible hurricane which visited the island of Porto Rico, and at the same time the committee desires to make an urgent appeal for the continuance of the charitable impulse which has been aroused and for additional contributions to swell the fund to much larger dimensions.

The latest private advices received by the committee, as well as the official reports, prove that the extent of the disaster, the amount of suffering which it will entail, and the need of relief, have all been underestimated. The density of population on the island, and the lack of reserve resources with which to meet such a sudden and crushing calamity, make outside assistance, upon a considerable scale and continued for some length of time, an absolute necessity. The United States has severed the former colonial ties of the island, and its people have accepted our rule and welcomed our flag; it, therefore, becomes the sacred duty of the government and of the people of the United States to assist them in meeting this great calamity,—in feeding the hungry, clothing the naked and sheltering the homeless, and the opening of the rainy season makes the furnishing of such aid all the more imperative. The authority of our government to furnish adequate relief is limited, and Congress is not in session to enlarge it; and such relief would, in any case, have to be afforded through the army organization, which is not intended for such work and which may not be able to perform it without offending the sensibilities of the people. Any substantial and continuous relief must, therefore, be afforded by the charitable people of the United States, and chiefly through agencies of their own.

This committee feels warranted in stating, from the arrangements which it has already succeeded in making, that any money placed in its hands will be disbursed economically and intelligently, in such manner as will afford the largest and quickest relief of immediate distress, and as will best assist the people of the island in their own rehabilitation. The funds will be applied and disbursed directly by the committee, and it feels warranted in assuring donors that every dollar contributed will tell in the relief of distress. The money already expended has purchased a large quantity of cheap food and clothing, and the policy of the committee has been to supplement rather than duplicate the work of the War Department.

The people of Boston have always been distinguished for their prompt and liberal response to appeals to their humanity and charity, and the sufferers from many a disaster far away from New England have thus learned to speak the name of this city with affection and to look to its people with gratitude. The new relation of protection, if not of permanent government, which our people have assumed toward the inhabitants of Porto Rico give a special force to the present appeal to our humanity, and this committee believes that it is only necessary for the charitable people of Boston and New England to understand the full magnitude of the need to lead them to continue the generous contributions which have already brought in such a substantial amount.

Checks should be sent to the Treasurer of the fund at the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., 113 Devonshire street, Boston, and contributions of light clothing, etc., which are particularly desired, can be left in the basement of City Hall.

For the Porto Rico Relief Committee.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Chairman.

FRANCIS H. PEABODY, Treasurer.

CHARLES H. COLE, Secretary.

The permission hereby granted shall become null and void when the new Cambridge bridge, to be constructed by this Commission, shall be opened to public travel.

MacKenzie, of the office of the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, notifying the Commission of the approval by the Secretary of War of the modification of the established harbor lines on Charles river, at the Cambridge and Boston ends of the proposed new bridge, as shown on a drawing marked "Plan of proposed relocation of pier and bulkhead lines at the Boston and Cambridge ends of Cambridge bridge," dated April, 1899, and signed by William Jackson, Chief Engineer.

Voted, That the schedule of bills and pay-rolls, amounting to $2,406.87, presented by the Chief Engineer of the Commission for payment by the cities of Boston and Cambridge, be certified by the Commission for payment by the respective cities of Boston and Cambridge.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That because of the loss at sea of the vessel containing the heavy timber required by Mr. William J. Lawler to do the work called for under his contract dated April 27, 1899, and of unavoidable delays resulting from the difficulty in obtaining similar timbers, on account of which he was unable to complete the said work until August 15, the time allowed him under said contract for finishing the work be extended to August 15, 1899.

The fourth and final estimate of work done and material furnished by William J.

Lawler, under his contract dated April 27, 1899, on the draws and piers for the temporary highway bridge across Charles river, and amounting to $3,729.85, together with a schedule of certain extra work done and materials furnished, amounting to $785.30, making a total amount of $4,515.15, was received from the Chief Engineer.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, it was Voted, That the amounts allowed for the said extra work and materials be approved, and that the estimate received, amounting to $4,515.15, be certified for payment by the cities of Boston and Cambridge, one-half thereof to be paid by each city, and that the Chairman be authorized to draw special drafts in payment thereof.

A communication was received from Mr. William J. Lawler, offering to set all shafting, boxes, gearing and chains, and to furnish all necessary blocking and bolts, for the temporary West Boston bridge for the sum of $150.

On motion of Commissioner Leavitt, it was

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval an order granting permission to McNeil Brothers to close to public travel the public alley No. 435, District No. 5, running between Clarendon and Dartmouth streets. Respectfully submitted,

FIRE AT RAINSFORD ISLAND.

A serious fire in the main building of the Reformatory Institution for Boys on Rainsford Island, Boston Harbor, occurred on Saturday evening, August 19, 1899, at 7.15 o'clock.

The fire was discovered by Superintendent Anthony, who immediately rang the fire-alarm bell, and a systematic fight to prevent the spread of the flames was commenced by the officers and boys. Requests for assistance were responded to from the Long Island Institution, the steamer "John Howard," the Fire Department and the Police Department, and assistance was volunteered by a company of United States soldiers stationed at Fort Strong at Long Island, who gave efficient aid.

Owing to the strenuous efforts of the officers and crew of the "John Howard," the members of the Fire Department and the officers and boys of the institution, the fire was soon under control, but it was not until 11 o'clock that the flames were completely extinguished. During the excitement at the Island ten boys escaped in a boat, and are still at liberty.

The Trustees and Superintendent immediately began an investigation, and discovered that the fire had been started by some of the boys. These boys (four in number) have been sent to Boston, to be brought before the courts.

The upper two-thirds or three-quarters of the north-east half of the building was practically destroyed and the lower parts were somewhat injured. Other portions of the building were injured by water and in other ways. A part of the contents was saved in a damaged condition. The loss is estimated at $15,000 or $20,000.

As all the dormitories were rendered useless, and the kitchen somewhat damaged, it was necessary to send some of the boys temporarily to Deer Island.

The arrangement will last only until the boys can be cared for at Rainsford Island.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WATER DEPARTMENT.

Water Commissioner John R. Murphy has submitted to His Honor the Mayor the annual report of the Water Department for the fiscal year ending January 31, 1899. The report constitutes City Document 38, 1899, and from it the following extracts are made:

The net income of the Department shows a decrease as compared with last year, due to the taking of a portion of the city system by the State.

In addition to the usual detail work 33.6 miles of main pipe were laid, eight miles of which were relaid. The extension of the distribution service has so improved the supply in the Dorchester district that the Wayne-street pumping station at Elm Hill has been abandoned. The laying of pipes in Columbia road has progressed, and the new line of pipe for supplying the islands in the harbor has been almost laid to the seawall on Moon Island opposite Long Island. The system of salt-water mains (as an auxiliary fire service) has been extended so as to enable the fire-boats to make connections with the system, and its success thoroughly demonstrated by tests.

The apparatus for taking frost out of the ground that was used last winter has been much improved, enabling the Department to lay main pipe in the winter as well as in the summer.

A system of numbering hydrants throughout the city has been adopted, so that hereafter they will be known by their numbers, and the record of each is kept, showing the cost of maintenance, when and by whom inspected, etc.

There were established during last summer ten cold-water fountains, so that water could be furnished to the public in summer at a temperature pleasant for drinking purposes. This was accomplished by chilling the water by running it through small reservoirs and pipes surrounded with chopped ice, the ice and the pipes being enclosed in a box insulated on the outside by a patent material. The cost of supplying these fountains with ice was nominal, as they consumed less than 500 pounds each per day. On warm days the average number of people supplied per hour was over 600 for each fountain in the congested parts of the city. These fountains were found to be very acceptable to the public, and their patronage was so great as to create a demand for the extension of the system. Through the courtesy of the Eastern Cold Storage Company, plans for a cold-water fountain connected with their pipe line have been prepared, and the fountain will be located in Faneuil Hall square. The drinking fountain which has been adopted is artistic in its construction, and has received the approval of the Art Commission.

The Deacon service has been transferred from the Distribution to the Income Division. The methods in practice in the Meter Division have been changed, and the accounts there, as well as in the rest of the Department, are now being kept correctly. The Department has paid constant attention to electrolysis.

Under the head of the pressing needs of the Department, attention is called to the crowded condition of the yard of the Distribution Division at 710 Albany street, where there is a lack of sufficient area to perform the work in an economical manner. All castings, pipe, lumber, etc., used by the Department are received in this yard and thence distributed wherever the work may require. A year ago a part of this yard was transferred to the City Hospital. The Commissioner is of the opinion that the present wharf facilities should be increased at least one-half. It is essential also to completely modernize the machinery of the machine shop. By the adoption of new and improved machinery the work can be done at a great deal less cost than at the present time.

The style of post hydrants in use in the Department should be replaced by more modern hydrants. Now, when an engine attaches to a post hydrant, it is necessary to shut down the hydrant, in order that another engine can attach to the same hydrant. A few of the hydrants, however, are arranged with independent shut-offs to each outlet. The general adoption of this latter system of hydrants is the one recommended. This can be done gradually at a cost of about $8,000 to $10,000 a year. To meet the needs enumerated above, a special appropriation should be made.

On the Department roll dated January 30, 1896, there were 868 men eligible for employment, of whom about 600 were at work. Commencing with the latter part of December, 1895, the balance had been suspended from time to time, in accordance with the yearly practice of the Department. These suspensions did not reach all grades of labor; they affected only those who were least able to bear it and whose services the Department is least able to dispense with, viz., the laborers on trench work and main pipe laying.

For the last three years all the men of the Department have been employed in winter as well as in summer, and not laid off on two-thirds, one-half or one-quarter time. On January 26, 1899, the last pay-day of the fiscal year 1898-99, there were on the payroll 885 men, or every man who was able to work. In order that the full force might be employed continuously, more day work has been done by the employees in each of the three years of the administration than in 1895. It would be natural to expect that under these conditions the yearly expenses of the Department would be increased, but such is not the fact. The amount of money expended during each of the fiscal years 1896, 1897 and 1898 is less than that expended in 1895, and the character and the amount of work done during any one of the years will compare more than favorably with that done during 1895. The appended statements of money expended and work done during the years in question will substantiate this statement:

Current expenses	$610,101 70
Extension of mains, etc.	251,984 94
Additional supply	382,819 01
	$1,244,905 65
Paid on account of work done for corporations, etc.	18,648 71
Total	$1,226,256 94
1896-97.
Current expenses	$591,550 42
Extension of mains, etc.	232,142 98
Additional supply	217,070 45
	$1,040,763 85
Paid on account of work done for corporations, etc.	17,366 14
Total	$1,023,397 71
1897-98.
Current expenses	$623,476 51
Extension of mains, etc.	281,782 32
Additional supply	179,879 01
	$1,085,137 84
Paid on account of work done for corporations, etc.	13,300 73
Total	$1,071,837 11
1898-99.
Current expenses and extension of mains — one appropriation	$808,582 59
From loan of $200,000, issued November, 1898, for extension of mains	152,601 63
	$961,184 22
Paid on account of work done for corporations, etc.	47,798 94
Total	$913,385 28

The amounts expended during the above years upon portions of the Water Department system now held by the State, estimated as closely as possible, are as follows:

1895-96	$233,482 98
1896-97	200,608 84
1897-98	168,862 83
1898-99	14,557 91

The amount for the year 1898-99 ($14,557.91) subtracted from the total amount as stated ($913,385.28) would leave $898,827.37 as the net expenditure for that year. The total amount for the year 1897-98, that is, including the amounts paid on account of portions taken by the State, was $1,071,837.11, showing a difference of expenditure between the two years of $173,009.74, caused by the loss to the city of those portions of the Department taken by the State.

The following shows the number of miles of pipe laid by day labor during 1895-96 to 1898-99, inclusive:

	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.
By employees	23.1	33.4	28.04	32.0
By other than employees	4.9	3.0	0.16	1.6
Total	28.0	36.4	28.2	33.6

Of the above the following shows the amount of pipe relaid for the last four years:

1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.
15,840 feet.	45,408 feet.	36,960 feet.	42,240 feet.

The work in the machine, carpenter and blacksmith shops in each of the past three years was very much more than it was in 1895, and the same is true of the general work of the Department. Again, the work has been more varied during the last three years, especially during 1898. In this latter year two ice-houses were built, one at East Boston and the other at Brookline, and the ice needed to supply the fountains next summer was cut and stored, macadamized roads were built, nineteen fountains were established and eight abandoned.

The Commissioner is of the opinion that the doing of so much day work has been beneficial to the city, as the work done was of the best quality. This is illustrated by the laying of the salt-water mains for the extra fire service. The Department laid about one mile, which, at completion, was tested under a pressure of 180 to 220 pounds to the square inch, and no leak was shown.

The total receipts of the water works, from all sources, for the year ending January 31, 1899, were as follows:

Sales of water	$2,124,514 30
Shutting off and letting on water and fees	6,776 75
Elevator, fire and service pipes, sale of old materials, etc.	67,819 53
Boston and Albany Railroad Company, on account of change of road-bed at Lake Cochituate	32,998 00

Total receipts	$2,305,070 74
Less refunded water rates	4,209 93
Net receipts	$2,300,860 81

The total expenditures of the water works, from revenue, for the year ending January 31, 1899, were as follows:

Current expenses	$554,959 72
Extension of mains, etc.	253,622 87

The following shows the cost of construction and condition of the water debt:

Appended to Commissioner Murphy's report are the reports of the City Engineer and of the Superintendents of the Income and Distribution Divisions, including statistics of the operations and work of the Water Department, together with a series of reports of expert accountants, dating from 1896 to 1899, which show that recommendations made for improvements in methods and systems of book-keeping and accounting have been adopted and found to be working satisfactorily.

PARADE OF THE TWENTY-SIXTH REGIMENT.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has announced that in response to his telegram of August 9 to the Secretary of War, requesting that the Twenty-sixth Regiment, under Colonel Rice, be permitted to visit Boston before its departure for service in the Philippine Islands, arrangements have been made whereby the regiment will probably arrive in this city on the morning of September 6, and will remain during that and the following day.

It is intended to ask the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to provide the necessary funds for the entertainment of the regiment, and to invite the commissioned officers of all the militia organizations in the city to serve as a committee of reception. The first meeting of this committee will be held at City Hall on Friday next.

It is expected that the programme for the entertainment of the regiment, in which the city and State will unite, will include these features:

On the day of arrival, a morning parade through the centre of the city; in the afternoon, a review on the parade-ground of the Common, where a portion of the regiment will probably go into camp; in the evening, a public ball at Mechanics' Hall.

On the second day the regiment will be free from duty in the morning. A luncheon will be given by His Honor the Mayor to the fifty commissioned officers, and in the afternoon an exhibition of field movements will be given on the Common.

REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

Following is an abstract of the annual report of the Board of Health for the year ending January 31, 1899, which constitutes Document No. 14, 1899, and has recently been presented in print to His Honor the Mayor:

The total number of deaths for the year was 10,886, a decrease from the previous year of 268 deaths. The population, as estimated at the end of the year, is 541,827, which is based upon the geometrical rate of increase between the last two census years, 1885-1895. The death rate for the year, as calculated on this population, is 20.09 per 1,000 inhabitants. This rate is less by .99 than that of the previous year, and the lowest on record. There were 1,470 deaths from zymotic diseases, a decrease of 336 deaths from the same group of the previous year. There were 241 fewer deaths from diphtheria than in 1897, with a proportionate decrease in the number of cases. The percentage of deaths to the number of cases of diphtheria reported was 10.23 as against 12.09 per cent. the preceding year. There were 33 deaths from scarlatina, 103 fewer deaths than in the preceding year, and 129 less than the average of the previous five years. Typhoid fever caused 185 deaths during the year. Ninety of the deaths from this cause occurred during the months of August, September and October, and 113 of the whole number who died were between the ages of 20 and 40 years. There were 27 deaths from measles during the year. The number of deaths of children under five years of age was 3,577 compared with 3,708 for the previous year, showing a decrease of 131 deaths. Fully 25 per cent. of the whole mortality the past year was from diseases of the respiratory organs, as against 26 per cent. in 1897.

The death rate from diphtheria was greatest in 1876, 1880 and 1881.

In the quinquennial period ending with the year 1880, the death rate from diphtheria was 17.38 to each 10,000 of the population; for the same period ending 1885 it was 15.46; in the next period, 1890, it was 12.09; and in the period ending 1895, it was 11.02. The greatest decrease is shown in the years 1896, 1897 and 1898, when the death rates were respectively 9.80, 3.15 and 7.77 in each 10,000 population.

Cases of glanders and farcy amongst horses have continued to occur frequently, and have required unusual attention from the officer in charge of this work. Nights, Sundays and holidays are necessarily utilized to find large numbers of horses which require careful examination.

Rabies among dogs has occurred in five known instances, and in twenty-four instances the dogs have been under strong suspicion of having been bitten by rabid dogs and have been quarantined to await developments.

The Legislature of 1897 passed an act by which the Boston Board of Health could act independently in cases of glanders, farcy and rabies, but omitted to provide authority to isolate and quarantine cases of known exposure to these diseases. A building for the quarantine of dogs under suspicion of being infected with rabies, has been constructed in the rear of the Department hospital on Swett street.

Six thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine rooms have been disinfected; also 112 lots of bedding, 116 lots of clothing, 121 lots of books, etc., 17 schools and 19 carriages, on account of the following cases of infectious diseases: Diphtheria, 1,712 cases; scarlet fever, 865; measles, 111; phthisis, 129; cancer, 17; glanders, 141.

During the year 285 streets, 983 places, 700 courts, 4,111 alleys, 14,745 yards, 947 vaults, 8,704 cellars, 6,176 gutters, 7,711 water-closets, 5,879 passageways, 662 urinals, 702 vacant lots, 3,075 filthy rooms, 5,672 filthy sheds, 12,076 sinks and 13,177 cesspools have been disinfected, a total of 85,605 instances.

In 11,271 instances nuisances have been abated, including 2,137 cases of house drains repaired, 986 yards cleaned, 1,197 cellars cleaned, 2,367 water-closets cleaned and repaired, 1,036 tenements whitewashed and 452 passageways cleaned.

The Legislature of 1897 passed an act giving the Board of Health additional powers for the removal of old dwellings which had been ordered vacated by the Board on account of age, want of repairs, etc. Under this act the removal of 58 dwellings was ordered during the year; 48 of these have been removed already and the remainder will be removed. This act did not empower the Board to remove old dwellings which it had not ordered vacated, while the need for such removals was as great as that for which additional authority was given in 1897. The amendment to the Act of 1897 has been asked for to enable the Board to remove many old worn out buildings, which obstruct the light necessary for other buildings, and which foster and cover nuisances of various kinds to the injury of surrounding property. The Act of 1897 has been enforced only after personal inspection by the Board of Health and with the exercise of its judgment after considering the interests of all concerned. Damages for the removal of such buildings have been settled in 13 cases, and 45 cases remain for settlement.

The law prescribes that tenement houses shall be examined twice in each year, but the Board finds it necessary to examine such houses more frequently. Many of the tenement houses in Boston, built originally for single families, have been converted to the use of three, four or more families. Rooms are divided, and many of them are left small, dark and unventilated. Water-closets are put under the stairs, in the cellar, off hallways and in other dark places. Sinks are placed in the same way. Garbage, ashes and rubbish are frequently unprovided for, except in unsuitable places. All this ill-constructed, mismanaged and misused property is much sought for, and completely satisfies some elements of our population, chiefly because of their central location and the inherent desire of these people to herd together. Under the general law the Board of Health finds it possible to secure many changes in old buildings and in some newly constructed ones, on the ground that they are otherwise unfit for occupancy.

In addition to the old buildings demolished under the act of 1897, several have been taken down by the owners on account of the radical and extensive changes which were demanded by the Board.

The regulations for the changes, outfit and care of cheap lodging-houses, which were put in force by this Department a year ago, have been complied with by a majority of the owners and managers of such houses; where this has not been done the business has been abandoned. As a result of these changes our lodging-houses, their equipment and patrons are cleanly, more orderly, and the latter less exposed to disease and vice.

A new plant for the reduction of garbage at Calf Pasture has been completed, and was put in operation November 15, 1898.

A plant for the treatment of dry rubbish has been erected at Fort Hill wharf, at which all articles having a commercial value will be removed and prepared for the market and the residue burned. This plant is an assured success, and will be a credit to the city.

The examination for defective gasfittings and pipes, begun by this Department in 1897, has been continued during the last year with encouraging and successful results.

During the year seventy-eight houses have been found with leaky gas-pipes or fixtures. These defects are repaired as rapidly as possible after being found. It appears now to be definitely settled that the manufacture and supply of water gas will be discontinued within the next few months in favor of coal gas. Water gas means from 25 to 30 per cent. of carbonic oxide (a deadly poison), while coal gas should mean not more than 6 to 10 per cent. of this dangerous element. The number of deaths reported in Boston from this cause for the last six years, including accidental and suicidal, is as follows:

1894	33
1895	28
1896	40
1897	43
1898	54

It is to be noted that there has been a constant and somewhat rapid increase in the number of deaths from this cause, and it is probably safe to say that for each death caused by the illuminating gas there are 100 persons suffering more or less from the same gas issuing from defective or weak pipes and fixtures.

The Board of Examiners for gasfitters' licenses have held 60 examinations during the year, and have examined 182 applicants for a master's and 218 applicants for a journeyman's license. Of the 400 applicants examined, 142 passed and were certified for license, viz., 81 as masters and 61 as journeymen. Of the 258 applicants rejected, 101 had applied for a master's license and 157 for the journeyman's. It will be seen that the per cent. passing the master's examination was 44, while but 28 per cent. passed the journeyman's examinations.

Eleven oral examinations were given during the year, the candidates stating they were unable to read or write English.

During the year ending January 31, 1899, the Board of Examiners for plumbers held 51 meetings, and examined 329 candidates for plumbers' licenses; 138 were for master plumbers' licenses, and 67 (or 48 per cent.) passed the examination and were certified to the Building Commissioner for license. One hundred and ninety-one were examined for journeyman plumbers' licenses, and 127 (66.9 per cent.) passed the preliminary examination and were notified to report at the shop for the practical test. Of this number 100 passed successful examinations at the shop and were certified for licenses.

There were in addition 64 candidates whose examination became necessary by a neglect to renew their licenses on May 1.

Twenty-two of this number were masters and 42 journeymen. Three masters and six journeymen failed to pass the examination.

Pursuant to Chapter 298 of the Acts of 1898, which empowers the Street Commissioners to lay out, pave and drain alleys and passageways, the Board of Health has relinquished the power, previously enjoyed of ordering the paving and draining of such private alleyways as it found to be a menace to the public health; but it has certified a list of twelve alleyways needing such treatment to the Board of Street Commissioners.

By consent of the Mayor, early last year, preparations were begun for the establishment of a laboratory for the Health Department. In April a suitable room was secured in the Sudbury building on Sudbury street. Dr. Hibbert W. Hill was appointed Director of the proposed laboratory, and was at once put in charge of fitting up and equipping it. Everything being ready, the work of diphtheria diagnosis was transferred from the laboratory at the Harvard Medical School.

The diagnosis of diphtheria, typhoid fever, glanders, rabies, malaria, la grippe and other diseases is provided for. The analyses of suspected water and ice are also provided for, and will form a part of the work in the future. The laboratory is fitted and managed with a view of doing general and special research work. The production of diphtheria antitoxin was transferred to the State Board of Health in March.

In conjunction with the Massachusetts Association of Boards of Health, the Board of Health of Boston has been active in its efforts to secure more stringent and comprehensive legislation for the regulation of the production and distribution of milk throughout the State. Being rebuffed by the Legislature of 1897, the Boston Board of Health, in December, 1898, adopted a series of regulations for securing a more healthful supply of milk for the City of Boston, said regulations, with slight changes, being the same as those approved and adopted by the Massachusetts Association of Boards of Health. (The regulations in question which prescribe the conditions under which persons may be licensed to produce, store or sell milk within the city may be found in full, on page 729, Vol. I., of THE CITY RECORD.)

The examination of school-houses has been continued with about the same results as have been reported from year to year for the last twenty-five years. There has been an improvement in some respects in the sanitary condition and appointment of the houses, but it has been slow and not general. The general sanitary conditions of school-houses have been the subject of repeated communications from this Department to the City Council and School Committee for many years.

The medical inspection of schools has been continued. The following statement shows the work performed by the inspectors during the year 1898:

Specific infectious diseases	275
Oral and respiratory	2,722
Diseases of the ear	102
Diseases of the eye	402
Diseases of the skin	16,709
Miscellaneous diseases	2,912
	23,122
Negative examinations for pediculi	16,880
Total	40,002

Number of pupils examined in the schools	50,991
Number recommended to be sent home,	7,896
Number of consultations with teachers (about pupils returning to school, etc.)	1,783

The financial statement of the Department shows a total expenditure of $154,890, and a total income of $162,958, including the appropriation for the Department which amounted to $155,000. The larger items of expenditure are as follows: Quarantine, $28,988; inspectors of nuisances, $27,008; salaries and office expenses, $23,862; disinfection, $14,405; inspection of milk and vinegar, $10,687; medical inspection of schools, $9,056; bacteriological work, $6,595; and medical inspectors, $5,150.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: Allow me urgently to solicit your aid in procuring from the City Council a location for Engine Company 22, recently deprived of its quarters on Dartmouth street by the widening of the railroad. The territory for which that company was organized is deprived to a great degree of the services of this Department at present; and in behalf of our efficiency, as well as for the protection of said property, I make this appeal, knowing full well that every day's delay adds to the danger threatened by our absence.

Your obedient servant,

H. S. RUSSELL, Commissioner.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

August 28, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In reply to the Board of Aldermen "That the City Engineer be requested to inform the Board of Aldermen the reason for the delay on the construction of bridge at Richfield street, Ward 20, being a part of the Columbia road improvement," I would say that this is to be a steel bridge supported by two abutments and by steel columns. The bridge is to carry the tracks of the New England Railroad Company, and the plans have just been received from the railroad officials for approval; the city is to bear the greater part of the expense of the bridge, but it was deemed best that the work of building it should be under control of the railroad company.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM JACKSON, City Engineer.

Placed on file.

DEATH OF REAR ADMIRAL PICKING.

Rear Admiral Henry F. Picking, Commandant of the Charlestown Navy Yard, died very suddenly Friday morning, September 8, 1899, at his residence in the Navy Yard.

Admiral Picking was born in Pennsylvania, January, 1840, and at the age of seventeen received an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He graduated from the academy in 1861, and served with distinction during the civil war. His active service in the navy covered over forty-one years. He was commissioned a Rear Admiral March 3, 1899, and on March 25 was appointed Commandant of the Charlestown Navy Yard, succeeding Rear Admiral Howison.

ACCIDENTS CAUSED BY ICE ON SIDEWALKS.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court in the case of Emma J. Newton vs. City of Worcester, for personal injuries received by the plaintiff by reason of falling upon a sidewalk:

HAMMOND, J. This is an action under Public Statutes, Chapter 52, Section 18, to recover for personal injuries received by the plaintiff by reason of falling upon a sidewalk since Statutes 1896, Chapter 540, went into effect.

At the trial there was evidence tending to show that at the place of the accident there were a number of depressions in the surface of the sidewalk; that they were caused by some of the bricks being depressed and some being elevated; that the depressions varied in depth from one-half inch to two inches, and at the place of the accident covered an area two feet long and twelve to fourteen inches wide, and that this condition had existed for some time; that there were no projections or sharp corners, and that the surface of the depressions was smooth; that the adjoining premises sloped downward to the street; and water from a gutter-spout on the adjoining building flowed upon a concrete walk and thence over and across the defendant's sidewalk; and at the time of the accident there was ice in the depressions, on which the plaintiff slipped and was injured. A photograph of the sidewalk was used at the trial and at the argument before us.

At the close of the evidence the defendant presented the following prayers for instructions: "(1) That the plaintiff cannot recover unless the jury find that, independently of any ice or snow the way was not reasonably safe and convenient for travellers; (2) That there is no evidence that apart from snow or ice there was a condition amounting to a defect on said way;" and "(3) If the plaintiff's injuries were occasioned wholly by reason of the accumulation of ice or snow, and if it would not have occurred if there had been no ice upon the sidewalk, then the plaintiff cannot recover."

As to the first and third requests, the judge instructed the jury as follows: "It is necessary that the plaintiff should satisfy you that this way, independent of the ice, was defective, and she cannot recover unless you find that, independently of that ice or snow, the way was not reasonably safe and convenient for travellers. If you find that fact to exist, then if the way was thus not reasonably safe and convenient for travellers, and was defective, independent of the ice, the fact that ice was upon it at the time of the accident would not prevent recovery if the unsafe condition of the way which I have referred to was the cause of the accident."

He refused to give the second instruction requested, and left the matter to the jury thus: "There is evidence one way and the other that at this place where she fell there were depressions and inequalities and unevenness in the sidewalk, so that it rendered it, independent of the ice which was upon the sidewalk at this place, defective. It is for you to say. You have heard the evidence upon the one side and the other with reference to that." It will be seen that the judge gave in substance the first instruction requested, but declined to give the second and third. The question is, whether there was error in the manner in which he dealt with these last two requests.

The discussion of this question involves an inquiry as to the meaning of Statutes 1896, Chapter 540. We had occasion to examine this statute when this case was before us on exceptions raised at the former trial. Newton vs. Worcester, 169 Mass. 516. It was there held that the Court erred in refusing to instruct the jury that the plaintiff could "not recover unless the jury find that, independently of any ice or snow, the way was not reasonably safe and convenient for travellers."

The report does not set out the instructions which were given, but, on inspection of the papers, it appears that the jury were instructed that "if the sidewalk is so constructed with reference to a permanent condition of things to it, and to the operation of ordinary causes, that it is calculated to produce the formation and continuance of ice upon it, that sidewalk, under those circumstances, may be found not reasonably safe and convenient for travellers." And the instructions to the jury authorized them to find that the way might be defective, simply because it was of such a shape as to lead to the formation and continuance of ice and snow upon it.

The opening remarks of Mr. Justice Allen, in giving the opinion of the court, apply to this instruction, and the only question raised was, whether in cases like this it must appear that the way when bare is defective, and it was decided that it must so appear.

The consideration of the exceptions now before us involves a further inquiry as to the meaning of the statute. Prior to the statute ice and snow which, by reason of its roughness and slipperiness combined, was dangerous to public travel, might be regarded as an actionable defect, but smooth ice, however, no matter how dangerous to public travel, was not a defect, unless the way was so improperly constructed as to induce a special or constant deposit of ice in the locality, or was built at such an angle and so exposed to the formation of ice as to make passing over it in winter especially and unusually dangerous; but in these cases it might constitute an actionable defect, even although the way was so constructed as not to be defective when bare. Stanton vs. Springfield, 12 Allen, 556; Morse vs. Boston, 109 Mass. 446; Billings vs. Worcester, 102 Mass. 329; Gilbert vs. Roxbury, 100 Mass. 185; Pinkham vs. Topsfield, 104 Mass. 78; Adams vs. Chicopee, 147 Mass. 440; Hughes vs. Lawrence, 160 Mass. 474. In this state of the law the statute was passed. It is entitled "An Act relative to Injuries received on Highways resulting from Snow or Ice," and is as follows: "No city or town shall be liable for any injury or damage to person or property hereafter received or suffered in or upon any part of the highway, townway, causeway or bridge, by reason or in consequence of snow or ice thereon, if the place at which the injury or damage was received or suffered was at the time of the accident otherwise reasonably safe and convenient for travellers." The language of the statute is not entirely free from ambiguity, and there are two possible interpretations of it. On the one hand it may be contended that it is to be so interpreted as to mean that wherever the way, when bare, is defective, the law as to whether ice or snow thereon is an actionable defect is to remain as before; in other words, that the land constituting the travelled parts of the highways of the city is divided into two parts, the first part being that which, when bare, is defective, and the second that which, when bare, is not defective; that as to the first part the law relative to ice or snow remains as before, and that only as to the second part is the law changed by the statute.

If the travelled parts of the highway could be colored, the first part black and the second white, the traveller when upon the black, so far as concerns the danger from ice or snow, is protected by the law different from that which affects him when he gets upon a white spot. The mantle of protection is an unstable garment upon his shoulders, even although he be all of the time on the travelled part of the highway.

The change in the law in this view is, so to speak, territorial or local. This interpretation would make the ice and snow, an actionable defect, even when the defective condition of the way under it, as an operating cause, has nothing whatever to do with the accident, or even with the existence and dangerous nature of the ice. Even when the ice and snow is so thick as utterly to obliterate the shape of the bare way and the bare defect therein has no physical or causal relation whatever to the accident, still the law remains as before, and the ice or snow is still an actionable defect. If the sleigh of the traveller upon the highway comes in contact with a large snow-bank, and by reason of the size or shape of the bank is overturned and the traveller is injured, the question whether the snow was an actionable defect would depend upon the condition of the way several feet, perhaps, below the surface of the snow at the spot where the sleigh was overturned, and if upon removing the snow it should appear that there was some sort of a defect in the highway immediately beneath the spot on the snow where the sleigh was overturned then the snow-bank in law is to be regarded as an actionable defect, even although the condition of the way beneath the snow had nothing whatever to do with the accident and was in no respect the cause of the accumulation of the snow.

But if the bare way should turn out to be free from defect, then the snow-bank is not an actionable defect.

Under this interpretation the town is held answerable, not because the traveller is injured by the defective condition of the road which it negligently suffered to exist, but because the runners of the sleigh happened to be over that spot at the time it was overturned.

Illustrations might be multiplied indefinitely, but enough has been said to show that under this interpretation the town in many cases must be held answerable when the defect in the bare way has no causal relation whatever, either direct or indirect, to the accident. It is enough if there be this merely incidental, local relation between the bare defect and the condition of things which is the real cause of the accident.

An interpretation which leads to such results seems to be inconsistent with the general principles governing actions of tort, and otherwise unreasonable, and is not to be adopted unless required by the language of the statute.

The other interpretation is that when the statute speaks of the condition of the way and of the subject whether the way be otherwise free from defect, it is speaking of the state of things at the time of the accident and of the defect operating to produce the accident, and that a decisive test is not merely whether the way without the ice or snow upon it is defective, but whether "at the time of the accident" there is defect other than ice or snow, operating as such, to which the accident is in part attributable.

Under this interpretation the change made in the law is not only of a territorial but of a causal nature. It is not only necessary to show that there was a defect at the time of the accident, but that that defect was operative in part to produce the accident. This interpretation holds the town responsible for that which caused the accident. Both interpretations agree in this, that ice and snow no longer can be an actionable defect unless at the place where it is there be also another defect.

The difference between the two interpretations is that the first would make the liability exist for the accident when caused solely by the existence of the ice and snow, while the second would make the liability depend upon whether, in connection with the ice or snow, the defect in the road, when bare, was in part the cause of the accident.

We think the proper and only reasonable interpretation of the statute is that whatever ice or snow is the sole proximate cause of the accident there shall be no liability, but where, at the time of the accident, there is any other defect to which, as a proximate cause the accident is in part attributable, there may be liability, notwithstanding the fact that it also may be attributable in part to ice or snow. This other defect, however, is not a proximate cause within the meaning of this rule, simply because it causes the accumulation of the ice or snow.

In considering whether "at the time of the accident the way is otherwise reasonably safe and convenient," the attention is to be directed to the actual physical condition of the way for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is at that time any other danger to the steps of the traveller than that arising from the presence of ice or snow. If there be no other danger, then for the time being, the way is "otherwise reasonably safe and convenient."

In these cases, therefore, the real question is not simply whether the way with no ice or snow upon it is defective, but whether if there be such a defect it was operative as such at the time of the accident, and was in part the proximate cause of it. If there be such an operative defect, then there may be a liability, even although the accident be due in part to ice or snow. Otherwise there is no such liability, even if the defect was the cause of the accumulation of the ice or snow.

The effect of the statute was to change the law as to liability for defects arising from ice or snow, so far as to create an exemption from such liability in cases where the ice or snow is the sole proximate cause of the accident. It did not, of course, enlarge the liability so that ice or snow which, before the statute, was not a defect would now be considered such.

The refusal of the judge to give the third ruling requested was right, and the judge, with reference to the subject matter of that ruling, was in accordance with the true interpretation of the statute, and was correct.

We have had some trouble in understanding what is meant by the second request. If it is to be taken as asking for a ruling that there was no evidence that apart from the snow or ice there was "no condition amounting to a defect in the way" to which the accident was in any way attributable, it certainly should have been given, because it is clear upon the evidence that the inequalities in the bare way had been filled with ice, and that the accident was caused by the ice and not by those inequalities. But when taken in connection with the other requests it is doubtful, to say the least, whether the request was intended by the defendant to raise that question, and it is quite evident, we think, that the presiding judge did not so understand it.

But we think that even if the request was intended to raise the simple question whether the bare way was defective it should have been given.

By the evidence, including the photograph used at the trial and shown to us at the argument, here was a brick sidewalk with some depressions, varying from one-half inch to two inches in depth, "caused by some of the bricks being depressed and some being elevated." "There were no sharp corners" and "the surface of the depressions was smooth." We do not think the jury were warranted in finding upon this evidence that this way when bare was not reasonably safe and convenient for public travel. Raymond vs. Lowell, 6 Cush. 524. The case is clearly distinguished from the cases of Ghenn vs. Provincetown, 105 Mass. 313, and Marvin vs. New Bedford, 158 Mass. 464, upon which the plaintiff relies.

Exceptions sustained.

BOSTON PORTO RICO RELIEF COMMITTEE.

The following appeal was issued September 8, 1899, by the Boston Porto Rico Relief Committee:

The full details of the terrible destruction and loss of life in Porto Rico, caused by the cyclone of August 8, have now come in, and a cable has just been received that there are 40,000 starving people in the Ponce District alone to be fed.

The Committee feel disappointed that the subscriptions in Boston should have ceased at a sum which is less than half of what was confidently hoped for, but they also feel sure that a large number of people, who as yet have sent nothing, have only been waiting for the need to be still further declared to be very serious to express their sympathy by subscription.

The Committee have made every effort that Boston's assistance should not only be prompt, but should be wisely applied on the spot by local boards which have been organized, and are under the supervision of Americans, resident there.

It is a piteous story of distress—the poor shacks or huts of the working people have been blown away by the thousands, and they are without shelter in the hardest time of the year for them—it being the rainy season. No food, no shelter, is the story for many thousands of these poor people, and Boston's help must now stop unless more of us will listen to this cry of distress, and respond.

Subscriptions, large or small, will be gladly received and duly acknowledged by Mr. Francis H. Peabody, Treasurer (Kidder, Peabody & Co., 113 Devonshire street).

The cable above referred to asks that 25,000 pounds of provisions should be dispatched weekly from Boston for several weeks, and unless we can provide this amount, the work of our distributing committee in Porto Rico must immediately cease, as the funds already contributed have been practically exhausted.

STREET LAYING-OUT DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Street Laying-out Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, constituting City Document 36—1899, has recently been submitted to His Honor the Mayor. The leading features of the report may be summarized as follows:

Under the orders for laying out, widening and extending streets passed by the Board during the year, land to the amount of about 595,543 square feet was taken for street purposes; the total estimated damages amounted to $129,436.75. Streets having a total mileage of 5.63 were made public ways. Under authority of the act of the Legislature of 1891, for the assessment upon abutting property of the cost of laying out and constructing streets, there has been assessed, upon five streets, a total of $60,367.69.

The Board has issued eighty-nine orders of notice of intention to lay out, widen, extend and discontinue streets, or parts of streets, calling for public hearings. It has received and considered seventy petitions for street improvements, and for hearings in the matter of the payment for damages occasioned by street improvements twenty-one petitions. Upon petitions in the matter of payment for damages eighteen hearings have been given and ninety-four settlements reached. Seven petitions for release of sewer assessments have been received, and six releases made by the Board, under authority of the act empowering them to release parts of estates from assessments for sewers and sidewalks upon payment of the proportional parts due upon the parcels released.

The length of the new streets laid out as public ways during the year amounted to 5.63 miles as against 11.38 miles in 1897. The length in feet of the new streets by districts was as follows:

Boston proper, 3,832.79; East Boston, 632.84; South Boston, 370.25; Roxbury, 4,613.22; Dorchester, 13,887.99; West Roxbury, 4,425.48; Brighton, 1,789.33; Charlestown, 160.23; total, 29,712.13 feet.

Judged by their length, the principal new streets included in the foregoing statement are: Jersey street, from Brookline avenue to Audubon road, city proper, 1,631 feet; Cummington street, from Blandford street to Avon street, city proper, 1,174.64 feet; Worthington street, from Longwood avenue to the Fenway, Roxbury, 1,128 feet; Devon street, from Columbia road to Blue Hill avenue, Dorchester, 1,400.01 feet; Callender street, from Tucker street to Don street, Dorchester, 2,173.59 feet; Florida street, from King street to Templeton street, Dorchester, 1,113.95 feet; Newburg street, from Beech street to Belgrade avenue, West Roxbury, 1,976 feet; and Park street, from Centre street to Montview street, West Roxbury, 1,162.02 feet.

The estimated expense of the street improvements, not including cost of construction, ordered in 1898, was $129,436, as compared with $162,219 in 1897.

The payments made for land damages and other claims, on account of laying out, widening, relocating and extending streets, met from the department appropriation amounted to $7,398; and the payments made from other appropriations to $815,780, including, for Columbia road, $381,146; for Boylston street, $166,344; for Clinton street, $116,983; for Ipswich street, $75,000; for Spring street, $5,620; for Athelwold street, $3,500; for Peverell street, $2,791; for Batavia street, $529; for Belmore terrace, $200; for Alexander street, $75; for Columbus avenue, $37,897; for Blue Hill avenue, $12,923, and for Huntington avenue, $6,633.

The expenditure of the Board of Street Commissioners, including salaries, advertising, office expenses, etc., was $22,473, an increase of $71 over 1897; while the expenditures of the Surveying Division, including $46,508 for salaries, and $2,719 for surveyors' supplies, amounted to $54,830, a decrease of $3,056, as compared with 1897.

Messages from the Mayor.TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, held on Tuesday, September 12, 1899, at 3 P.M., Alderman Presheo presiding, in the absence of Chairman Barry, the following messages were received from His Honor the Mayor:

Communication from Bath Trustees.OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, September 2, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication received from the Trustees of the Bath Department in reply to your order requesting a statement of "the reasons for the reduction in wages of the employees of the Department."

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

BATH DEPARTMENT.

September 2, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I am requested by the Trustees of the Bath Department to state in reply to the order from Board of Aldermen, dated August 15, 1899, that no reduction was made in the wages of the employees of the Bath Department for the year 1899, and that no reduction was contemplated.

On account of the continued cold weather during the past summer season, receipts for suits and towels did not come up to the estimate made by the Trustees, and in order to continue the bathing season to September the Trustees at one time contemplated the plan of working the employees half-time, with half wages, but it was found unnecessary to put this into effect.

Yours respectfully,

DANIEL D. KEARNS, Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto—Location of Post.OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

Weston to erect, maintain and use a wooden post, seven feet high and eight inches in diameter, on the sidewalk in front of estate No. 108 Dudley street, for the reason that such permission cannot be legally granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The Board reconsidered the order, and refused to pass the order over the Mayor's veto.

REPORT OF REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Registry Department for the year 1898, constituting City Document 30—1899, has been submitted recently to His Honor the Mayor. The following is a summary abstract of the report:

For the year 1898 there were recorded 16,680 births, including 254 children of parents usually residing outside of Boston, and 35 children born out of the city, whose parents reside in Boston; 650 still births; 5,907 marriages solemnized in Boston, and 840 marriages of citizens of Boston married elsewhere, viz.: 765 in the State and 75 outside the State; and 10,903 deaths.

The following statement shows the total number of births, marriages and deaths recorded in each of the years 1894—1898 inclusive:

	1894.	1895.	1896.	1897.	1898.
Births . . .	15,401	15,613	16,484	16,973	16,680
Marriages, . .	5,464	5,932	6,318	6,062	5,907
Deaths . . .	11,531	11,331	11,650	11,170	10,903

The Legislature of 1899 passed but few laws affecting this Department; the Acts are printed in the appendix. Some progress has been made in regard to official seals, though the result is imperfect. Permission has been given by Chapter 354 to use type-writing machines on public records, a scheme of doubtful utility on such records as are kept in this office. Chapter 197 transfers the jurisdiction in the case of minors or young persons of doubtful age to the Probate Courts. By Chapter 387, the power of Justices of the Peace to solemnize marriages has been greatly curtailed, and it seems that this step is in the right direction.

Reference is made to former reports for statements of legislation greatly needed, to which successive Legislatures have turned a deaf ear.

The financial statement of the Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, is as follows:

FREE EVENING SCHOOLS.

The following announcement regarding Free Evening Schools, dated September 1, 1899, has recently been issued by the Secretary of the School Committee:

The City of Boston maintains Free Evening Schools during the fall and winter months of each year for the benefit of adults, and of children of fourteen years of age and over who are unable to attend the day schools. Books and supplies are furnished free to the pupils. Non-residents of Boston are required to pay a small tuition fee, usually amounting to about $13 for the entire term.

Term—The term of the Evening Schools begins on the last Monday in September in each year, and ends on the second Friday in March of the following year. The schools are closed during the two weeks immediately preceding the first school day in January.

Sessions—The sessions of the Evening High School begin at 7.30 and close at 9.30 o'clock on the five evenings of the week from Monday to Friday inclusive.

The sessions of the Evening Elementary Schools begin at 7 o'clock and close at 9 o'clock. These schools are also in session on the five evenings of the week from Monday to Friday inclusive.

The school-rooms are open and the teachers present fifteen minutes before the time for the session to begin.

In the Evening High branches, classes are formed in arithmetic, book-keeping, English, penmanship, phonography, and American history and civil government. Classes in other subjects may be organized should the number of pupils desiring to pursue them be sufficient to warrant the addition.

Certificates and Diplomas—Examinations in the several studies taught are held at the close of each term, and certificates of proficiency are awarded successful pupils. Each certificate represents a credit unit or fractional part thereof, and a pupil receiving certificates, the aggregate value of which is equivalent to six credit units, is entitled to a diploma of graduation.

EVENING ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS.

No examination for admission to the Evening Elementary Schools is required. Pupils are required to attend regularly, and absence for three consecutive evenings is followed by dismissal from the school.

The course of instruction corresponds closely to that in the primary and grammar schools. Arithmetic, book-keeping, civil government, geography, language, grammar, physiology, history, reading, spelling and writing are taught.

Special classes are formed for the benefit of foreigners who can neither speak nor write the English language, in which modern objective methods are used, and a number of native teachers are employed. The classes are small, usually not exceeding fifteen pupils, and those who require elementary instruction are therefore enabled to receive a considerable amount of individual attention.

At the end of the term certificates for regular and punctual attendance, good deportment and general proficiency are awarded to pupils entitled to receive them, and those who pass a satisfactory examination receive a diploma of graduation, which admits them to the Evening High School.

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL.

The "Central school" is located in the English High School-house on Montgomery street, and receives pupils from all parts of the city who are qualified for admission. Evening High School branches are also established in the Charlestown and East Boston High School-houses, which are in session on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings only.

Admission and attendance — Graduates of the Boston grammar schools and of the evening elementary schools, former pupils of the Evening High School, as well as those who have attended a day high school of the City of Boston, are admitted without examination. Others are required to pass a satisfactory examination in reading, writing, arithmetic and geography.

Examinations for admission are held during the opening week of the term in September, and also during the first school week in January.

Pupils may join the classes held Tuesday and Thursday evenings, or those held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, or both; but are required to attend the school at least four hours a week, and to take not less than two subjects.

Absence for three consecutive evenings on which attendance is due is followed by dismissal from the school.

Course of instruction — Arithmetic, algebra (two-year course), American literature, chemistry (two-year course), book-keeping (two-year course), American history and civil government, English (three-year course), French (three-year course), geometry (plane and solid), German (three-year course), Latin (three-year course), penmanship (two-year course), phonography (two-year course), physics (two-year course), physiology, typewriting.

COVE STREET EXTENSION.

The following communication from the Secretary of War has been received by His Honor the Mayor:

WAR DEPARTMENT.

Washington, September 11, 1899.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the tenth ultimo, requesting, on behalf of the City of Boston, approval of plans submitted for building a bridge across Fort Point channel, in Boston city.

In reply, I beg to inform you that the Department is also in receipt of protests in the interest of the rapidly increasing commerce of this waterway by numerous owners and lessees of wharves in South bay against the approval of the War Department of the plans for the proposed bridge, and, from the report on the subject made by Col. Charles R. Suter, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, the local engineer officer, dated August 30, 1899, it appears that there are already six highway bridges across said channel, in a length of about 4,300 feet, beside a large railroad bridge, which crosses the stream diagonally between the Dorchester avenue and Broadway bridges; that it is proposed to place this additional bridge between the railroad bridge and the existing bridge on Dorchester avenue, nearly filling the space between the said two bridges; that the draws of these bridges — six in number — will all be in line, and to enable a vessel to pass through safely they should all be open simultaneously — a result difficult to accomplish.

The commerce of the channel is large and important, and in the opinion of Colonel Suter an additional bridge, located and built as proposed, would constitute a serious obstruction to navigation. The views of Colonel Suter are concurred in by the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, and by this Department, and the papers have been returned to the Chief of Engineers, indorsed by me, as follows:

In view of the protests in this case, and the reports of Colonel Suter and the Chief of Engineers, the plan of the proposed bridge will not be approved.

Very respectfully,

ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor, Boston, Mass.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held in the School Committee chamber, Mason-street building, at 7.30 P.M., September 12, 1899, President Huggan in the chair and all the members present except Messrs. Bowdlear, Calderwood, Davison and Fleischer.

The records of the meeting of July 29, on page 286, were amended by substituting the word "Ancient" for the word "American" in the second line of the first paragraph of the modification of the course of study in the Girls' High School.

The following order, laid over under the rule at the last meeting, was read and passed:

Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute orders of addition to the contracts for heating and ventilating the new high school buildings specified, in the sums named, for the adoption of the Sidney Smith method of boiler-setting.

The Chair read the following:

(1.) STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

City Hall, September 1, 1899.

TO THE HONORABLE THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

The Board of Street Commissioners have to inform you that they have agreed with Francis G. Sager upon the sum of $8,500 as payment for his estate at the corner of Bartlett and School streets, at Charlestown, taken by the City of Boston for school purposes April 14, 1899 (taking recorded same day), upon said Sager giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken satisfactory to the Law Department.

Respectfully,

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

Placed on file.

(2.) OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, August 30, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

I return herewith, without my approval, the order passed by your Board, August 15, authorizing the execution of a contract with the Fuller & Warren Warming and Ventilating Company for heating and ventilating the new grammar school-house on Quincy and Perth streets, Dorchester. Owing to the fact that my investigations into the matter occupied more than ten days, although I have endeavored to hasten them as much as possible, the order has gone into effect without my signature. I have, however, relied upon the fact that the contract authorized by this order could not be finally concluded without my signature, and upon the knowledge of the sub-committee of your Board having this matter in charge, that I was at least in doubt in regard to giving my sanction to it.

While I regret to interfere with such action as the School Committee may deem proper in a matter of this character, I feel obliged, in view of the importance of the precedent which would be made by this contract, and in view of my belief that the heating of large school buildings by the furnace system would be seriously detrimental to the best interests of the city, to notify your Board of my unwillingness to sign the proposed contract; and in doing so I may call attention to the fact that this order was only passed by a vote of eleven yeas against seven nays, as indicating that there is at least a serious difference of opinion in the School Committee itself as to the propriety of the policy proposed.

The question of the relative merits of steam and furnace systems of heating in school-houses is an old one, and your committee is fully aware of the fact that the Consulting Architect of the city has, since his appointment, nearly four years ago, consistently opposed the use of the furnace system in school-houses, except for small buildings, and that my action upon such matters is largely guided by his advice. In view of the fact that your Board deliberately decided not to accept the opinion of the Consulting Architect upon this question, I have thought it proper to make a careful personal inquiry into the merits of the controversy, and to take the opinion of other disinterested experts. I have listened at length to all the arguments which have been brought forward by members of the sub-committee of your Board favoring the furnace system, and of the representative of the company to which the committee proposed to award the contract; and after such inquiry I cannot escape coming to the conclusion that the claims which are made as to the advantages of the furnace system, at least in so large a building as the school-house in question, are unfounded, and that the use of that system in such a building is clearly opposed to the best interests of the city, and would not be adopted in good private practice.

I have always believed that the best work was demanded in municipal service, and I do not think that our citizens are content with anything else than the best, particularly where the health and comfort of school children are concerned.

The claim has been strongly urged, and figures have been produced which apparently seem to support it, that a given number of rooms can be heated at a less consumption of coal by the furnace system than by the steam system. I am convinced that this claim is entirely fallacious, and I do not believe that any recognized scientific authority can be produced in support of the claim that it is possible in a large building to supply a given degree of heat and a given quantity of ventilation for any less coal with the furnace system than with the steam system. Such a claim seems to me scientifically untenable, and where furnaces seem to burn less coal it must be because less heat or less ventilation is supplied, and this seems to be notoriously the fact.

I transmit herewith a careful report from the Consulting Architect, and also a further report from Professor S. H. Woodbridge, and I call particular attention to their opinions in regard to this matter. I need not call attention to the fact that Professor Woodbridge is one of the very few recognized ventilation experts in this country, and has a national reputation as such. If scientific investigation is of any value—and civilization advances chiefly through it—it would seem that no good reason could exist why the City of Boston should ignore its results and adopt a policy which would be condemned by the overwhelming weight of expert authority. I may add that the City Engineer has, at my request, carefully been over this matter, and that he fully coincides in the opinions expressed in these two reports.

I desire to call particular attention to the statement of the Consulting Architect, that even economy in first cost—which by no means necessarily implies economy in the long run—is in favor, upon any proper comparative basis, of steam rather than of a hot air plant for this building upon the basis of the bids submitted, the apparent economy of the latter system being due to extra features incorporated in the steam system, which are no more necessary with steam than with furnaces.

For the above reasons, and others more fully set forth in the accompanying reports, I cannot approve any contract for the installation of the furnace system in any building having more than eight or ten rooms at the outside.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the accompanying plans and specifications for heating and ventilating the new grammar school-house on Quincy and Perth streets, Dorchester, be accepted, and the same are hereby approved by this Board; and the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with the Fuller & Warren Warming and Ventilating Company in the sum of $10,998 for furnishing and installing a heating and ventilating system in said school-house, substantially in accordance with said plans and specifications; the said concern being the lowest bidder.

Accepted.

The following order was taken from the table and passed, by a vote of 18 to 1:

Ordered, That the American System of Music, by Zuchtman, published by the King-Richardson Publishing Company, be authorized for use as additional text-books in music in the grammar and primary schools.

Bolan as principal of the Warren Evening School, reported that Mr. Bolan has withdrawn his name as a candidate for the position, and they now recommend the appointment of the former principal, James H. Leary. The report was accepted, and the rules being suspended, James H. Leary having 14 votes,

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WIRE DEPARTMENT.

Commissioner of Wires Thomas W. Flood has recently submitted to His Honor the Mayor the annual report of the Wire Department for the year ending January 31, 1899. The report, which constitutes City Document 39—1899, is now in print, and from it the following extracts are made:

In the last annual report of the Department an earnest protest against the then existing practice of granting pole rights for the support of all classes of electric wires in the public streets to companies and individuals seeking them, from the Board of Aldermen, was made. Since that time, however, all applications of this kind are, together with the plans, referred to the Department for examination and approval.

The Department is now informed of any proposed overhead construction, and can enforce any reasonable requirements before and after it is commenced.

While the situation regarding poles in the streets has greatly improved, the same cannot be said of structures on roofs of buildings, particularly where they have been abandoned by those who erected them. The Department would again renew its previous recommendation that authority be given to some department or official to remove all such unused structures.

With the close of the year 1898 underground conduits were completed, in which will be placed all the overhead wires within the district prescribed by Chapter 454 of the Acts of 1894, and all the wires now remaining over the streets, with the exception of the street railway trolley wires and those of the long-distance telephone, will be removed in the early spring of the year 1899.

The telephone companies, it must be said, would gladly hail any improvement that would enable them to place long-distance telephone wires underground, as recent storms resulting in the total destruction of nearly all overhead lines proves beyond a doubt the great value of underground electrical construction. Large amounts of money are being spent yearly in costly experiments with this end in view, and no doubt when the self-induction of underground cables can be wholly or in greater part overcome the long-distance telephone wires and poles will disappear from the surface of our streets. Provisions have been made by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company to place quite a large amount of long-distance cable underground, conduits having been constructed and plans for others are completed.

Previous to the passage of the underground act for the City of Boston the overhead trolley was universally used for the transmission of electrical energy for the propulsion of street cars. Three small roads in Europe equipped with different systems of open-slot underground conduit containing the trolley conductors, were in operation, and one short piece of road in Washington, D.C., but their success during the winter season in this climate was at that time in doubt, and inasmuch as the adoption of the open-slot system would involve an expense that could not at that time be estimated, even approximately, as it would require the reconstruction of the entire roadbed, it was deemed best to permit the use of the overhead trolley in the streets of this city. With the experience gained by the Department in the construction of electrical conduits a fairly accurate estimate of the cost can now be made. Were it decided to equip that portion of the street railway in Washington street, between the North Union Station and Dover street, with the earlier type of open-slot conduit, the cost of removing the obstructions would equal the cost of the new system of roadbed that would have to be adopted. The later open-slot systems have been improved somewhat so that the depth of the excavation for the conduit is considerably less and consequently the cost of removing obstructions not so great.

What is known as the "third-rail" system has been adopted by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, on a portion of its Nantasket Beach branch, and also between Berlin Junction and New Britain, Conn., both of which are operating very successfully. In this system a steel rail is laid in the middle of the track which is substituted for the overhead trolley wire. As the difference of potential between this third rail and the track is 550 volts it would not be safe to use this system in the streets of any city or town; consequently, several attempts have been, and are being, made to overcome this obstacle and adapt the "third-rail" system to street railways.

The Acts of 1894 did not, and the Acts of 1898 will not, compel the removal of the overhead trolley, and so long as that system of distribution of electrical energy proves satisfactory it is reasonable to suppose it will be retained.

After January 1, 1900, the task of clearing twenty miles of the streets of the City of Boston will have to be undertaken. The selection of the particular streets where this work is to be done is left to the judgment of the Commissioner of Wires. But two miles in length of streets can be cleared each year up to and including the year 1910, but there is nothing to prevent companies and individuals from placing their wires underground in any portion of the city if they desire to do so.

It will be the duty of the Department to cause the removal of overhead wires from streets containing the greatest number, and where they are the most objectionable owing to their poor condition, where they offer the greatest obstruction to the Fire Department in the performance of its duties, and where they are the greatest menace to life and property. There is no doubt but what there will be much more wire removed from the streets each year than the amount stipulated by the Acts of 1898.

With the increased mileage of underground conductors the amount of overhead wires must gradually decrease in time and the amount of care and attention bestowed on them by the Department will be much less than was necessary in the past or will be in the future. As these wires have been gradually removed from the prescribed district the Department has been enabled to devote much more attention to the overhead construction in other portions of the city, and a marked improvement therein is gradually taking place which will finally result in better construction and a less number of fires due to electrical causes.

OVERHEAD DIVISION.

The work of this division is, as its name implies, the inspection and general supervision of overhead wires, poles, fixtures, etc., and the removal of what are known as "dead" wires, so-called, because they are not in use, having served the purpose for which they were originally intended, and been abandoned by their owners for the reason that the cost of removal would exceed their value. This class of wires is a constant source of danger to any community and, if it were possible to reach the owners thereof, severe punishment should be dealt out to any person, firm or corporation that deliberately abandons any electric wire that has been erected within the limits of the city; but, inasmuch as ownership is very difficult to prove, it would be next to impossible to reach the guilty parties except in the case of wires erected since 1894.

Abandoned fixtures are also a source of danger, although in lesser degree than abandoned wires; over them the Department has very little control, as they are erected on private property and cannot be removed without the consent of the owners.

Abandoned poles can be and are removed from the streets, but owing to joint occupancy by the wires and cables of many different parties, the task of fixing responsibility for the same and the removal of all the conductors is often a tedious one.

The practice of placing different classes of low-tension wires on the same poles and fixtures is in no sense objectionable, but where they are placed on the same poles with high-tension wires—such as electric light, power and street railway feeders—they become positively dangerous, and to a much greater extent than those that are known to be so under certain circumstances. The possibility of low-tension wires being converted into high, will continue so long as both are in close proximity on the same poles and fixtures.

The following is the number of poles, fixtures and wires removed, with the exception of the trolley wires, from the 1898 district, which is the last section of the district established by the Act of 1894:

Number of poles	52
Number of fixtures of all kinds	661
Number of feet of wire on poles	226,750
Number of feet of wire on fixtures	1,475,180
Number of feet of wire in cables	49,265
Number of feet of wire dropping from fixtures	57,475
Number of feet of wire (trolley) not removed	48,632
Number of feet of guard and span wires	113,475
Number of feet of feed wires	113,475
Number of feet of dead wire	836,100
Number of feet of dead wire retained, removed	50,450
Number of feet of wire of all kinds removed	2,871,720
Number of poles in the city exclusive of the Boston Elevated Railway Company poles	15,355
Unknown fixtures removed	614
Defect notices sent out	3,693
Defects covered by above notices	15,963
Fuse inspections made	2,856
Number of places found not fused	298
Number of poles inspected	1,097
Number of inspections made	18,203
Defects corrected	3,029
Notices of new work received	4,534
Number of poles located	424
Number of poles set	424
Number of poles removed	96

The total amount of wire removed since the Department was organized is 30,813,838 feet. This is about 5,836 miles. Of this amount 18,488,300 feet, or about 3,502 miles, can be classed as "dead" and abandoned wire, some of which was removed by the owners, but nearly all was removed by the Department.

From many sections of the city come bitter complaints of the blighting effects of poorly insulated wires on the shade trees in the public streets. The answer to all such complaints is that the Department does not grant rights to erect poles and wires in the streets, and has no right to revoke them. Where such rights are granted in streets blessed with shade trees they must suffer.

INTERIOR DIVISION.

The work performed by this division of the Wire Department is, without question, of the greatest importance to the safety and welfare of the people of Boston.

The greatest possible care is insisted on in the insulation and construction of every interior equipment. So long as this can be done and a rigid supervision maintained over these equipments after they have been in use, fires due to electricity will continue to be very infrequent.

The great increase in the use of electrical energy for all purposes keeps the small force of men employed in the interior division fully employed in the supervision of new work, so that no time can be devoted to the inspection of any electrical equipment after it is first installed. This is very unfortunate and is sure to lead to serious results.

The Department has instituted and maintained a rigid examination of all candidates for positions as inspectors in the interior division.

In the past, so-called temporary wiring has caused this division no end of trouble and anxiety, particularly during the holiday seasons. Because of the fact that such equipments were to be used but for a short time, those desiring to make them, seemed to think that all the safeguards provided for work of a permanent nature should be disregarded and all rules ignored in these cases.

Electricity enters so largely into the productions placed on the theatrical stage at the present time that a great deal of time must be spent in the supervision of the various devices and appliances used in the production of scenic effects; many of these have not and will not be approved by the Wire Department.

Attention is called to the fact that the number of men now employed in this division is not sufficient to perform the duties imposed on them by the law creating the Department, and that some of the most important work devolving on it must be, and is, left undone. All that it is possible to do with the present force is to supervise the new work and a weekly inspection of the electrical plants in the theatres during the amusement season. In addition to these, large stores and other places using large amounts of electric energy are reinspected at no stated time, but when it is possible to do so.

The following is a summary of the work of the interior division:

Notices of new work received	5,355
Number of buildings in which wiring was completely examined	451
Incandescent lights examined	125,458
Arc lights examined	2,396
Motors examined	1,027
Total horse-power of motors examined, Services examined	5,681
Inspections made	1,283
Defects reported	9,472
Defects corrected	1,661
	926

The total number of fires due to electrical causes was eighty-two, and they are classed as follows:

Fires in the interior of buildings	28
Fires on the roofs of buildings	6
Fires on the outside walls of buildings	16
Fires in standpipes for distribution	2
Fires on bridges	4
Fires on poles	6
Fires in trees	11
Fires in underground services	3
Fires in street cars	1
Miscellaneous	5
Total	82

The total number of accidents due to electrical causes was sixteen. No human lives were lost during the year.

UNDERGROUND DIVISION.

The section of the city in which wires were to be placed underground during the year 1898 is that portion bounded as follows:

Beginning at the junction of Joy and Beacon streets, the boundary line runs through Joy to Cambridge street, through Cambridge street to the water front; at that point it follows the Harbor Commissioners' line to the extension of the line of Berkeley street; thence through Berkeley to Tremont street, through Tremont to Castle square, through Castle square to Ferdinand street, through Ferdinand street to Columbus avenue, through Columbus avenue to Park square, through Park square to Charles street, through Charles to Beacon street, and through Beacon street to the point of beginning at Joy street.

This district contained 7,346,300 square feet and is the last section of that portion of the city known as the underground district.

The total area of the underground district as prescribed by Chapter 404 of the Acts of 1894, is 46,415,000 square feet.

The number of permits and electrical approvals for street openings granted by the Department in connection with the underground work is 1,029. The number of inspections made by this division is 3,857. The total work for the year 1898 comprised 112,254 feet of conduit, 835,180 feet of duct, 947 service connections, 556 manholes built, 1,202,914 feet of cable drawn in.

One new feature in connection with the underground construction during the year has been in the use of submarine conduits for carrying the cables under the channel at draw-bridges.

The report contains, in addition to various statistical tables, a list of accidents and fires from electrical causes, a description of the underground work of the various companies during the year, photographs of some of the most interesting portions of the work of the Department, and a list of its properties.

The financial statement of the Wire Department for the year is as follows:

Amount of appropriation, $58,422 83
 Unexpended balance from 1897-98 appropriation . . . 12
 $58,422 95

Amount of expenditures:
 Salaries of Commissioner and employees . . . $52,254 51

From the eligibles resulting from this examination certification will be made to fill the position of civil and electrical engineer, in the engineer department at large, at Newport, R.I., at a salary of $125 per month.

The Commission also announces that on November 7, 1899, an examination may be taken at any city in the United States where the Commission has a Board of Examiners for the position of interpreter in the immigration service, Treasury Department.

From the eligibles resulting from this examination certification will be made to fill the position of interpreter of the Scandinavian and German languages at a salary of $1,000 per annum, and the position of interpreter of the Greek and Turkish languages at a salary of $1,200 per annum, in the immigration service at New York.

These examinations are open to all citizens of the United States who comply with the requirements. All such citizens are invited to apply. They will be examined, graded and certified with entire impartiality and wholly without any consideration whatever save their ability as shown by the grade attained by them in the examination.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

At its meeting on the twenty-fifth instant, the Board of Aldermen voted to adjourn till Monday, October 9, 1899, at 3 P.M.; and that all hearings assigned for a prior date be assigned accordingly.

UNVEILING OF THE STATUE OF COL. THOMAS CASS.

The new bronze statue of Col. Thomas Cass, commander of the old Ninth Massachusetts Regiment, who died on July 12, 1862, from wounds received at the battle of Malvern Hill, Va., was unveiled at the Public Garden, Friday afternoon, September 22, 1899, in the presence of several hundred people, including many survivors of the old regiment.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Chaplain Lee of the present Ninth Regiment, after which His Honor Mayor Quincy spoke briefly in behalf of the city. The statue was then unveiled by Mrs. C. G. Craib, daughter of Colonel Cass, and the ceremonies were closed with an oration by Maj. D. J. Macnamara, who was an officer in the old Ninth.

The statue, which replaces a granite statue and pedestal erected in honor of the commander, has received the approval of the Art Commission. It is dignified and imposing in effect, and is the work of Mr. Richard E. Brooks. The contract price for this memorial was $9,000.

With other monuments in the city, this statue has been erected from the income of a bequest to the City of Boston by Hon. Jonathan Phillips, its first Mayor, who died in July, 1860, by which the sum of $20,000 was left "as a trust fund, the income of which will be annually expended to adorn and embellish the streets and public places of said city."

Up to the present time there have been erected from the income derived from this fund at an expenditure aggregating $56,716.18, the following-named statues, tablets and adornments:

Statue of Josiah Quincy, in front of City Hall, dedicated in 1879 . . .	$14,716 90
Statue of John Winthrop, in Scollay square, dedicated in 1880 . . .	7,416 90
Statue of Samuel Adams, in Dock square, dedicated in 1880 . . .	6,856 44

Treatment of the Poor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, August 3, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Overseers of the Poor in reply to your order requesting information on certain points in regard to the administration of that Department.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

July 3, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: Agreeably to request contained in yours of June 20, 1899, referring for report the following order passed in Common Council June 15, 1899, namely:

Ordered, That the Board of Overseers of the Poor, through His Honor the Mayor, be requested to give to the Common Council a statement with regard to the general working of the Department, touching particularly on the following points: The kind and quality of food furnished to the poor, whether the same is supplied by contract and by whom; why the Bertillon measurement system is applied at the Wayfarers' Lodge; how much labor is required of applicants at said lodge and the money value of such labor; and why the names of the parents of such applicants are given to the Pauper Institutions Trustees.

The Board of Overseers of the Poor beg leave to report as follows:

That for a full report in regard to the general working of the Department, you are respectfully referred to the report for the year ending January 31, 1899, recently made to Your Honor and now in print.

As to the kind of food furnished to the poor, we furnish flour, beans, pork, potatoes, salt fish, Indian meal, oatmeal, sugar, soup, tea, rice, peas, cocoa and condensed milk. As to the quality of food so furnished it is always good and generally the very best that can be obtained in the market.

The food is furnished by the Committee on Supplies and is bought from time to time as occasion requires, sometimes on contract. It is supplied by McPherson Brothers, J. R. Lomasney & Co., William J. Emerson & Co., George H. Cheever, the Revere Sugar Refinery Company, Rand and Byam, John A. Andrew & Co., Charles R. Moody & Co., John P. Squire & Co., and others. The Committee endeavors to keep posted as to the daily prices of the articles purchased, and to buy the same at the lowest market price.

The Bertillon Measurement System is not applied at the Wayfarers' Lodge.

About two hours' work is ordinarily required of applicants at said lodge. As to the money value of such labor, it is difficult to state exactly what it is, as the labor required is imposed as a work test, rather than with the idea of exacting any equivalent for the food and lodging furnished.

The names of the parents of applicants at said lodge are not given to the Pauper Institutions Trustees, the records at the lodge being kept for the use of the Committee and the Board as private records.

WILLIAM P. FOWLER, Chairman.

Assigned to the next meeting.

Also upon condition that said West End Street Railway Company shall accept this order of location, and shall agree, in writing, to comply with the conditions herein contained, and shall file said acceptance and agreement with the City Clerk within thirty days from the passage of this order; otherwise it shall be null and void.

The whole work of laying the said tracks to be completed within six months from the date of the passage of this order.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE M. FELCH.

The death of Mr. George M. Felch occurred at his home, 10 Myrtle street, on Monday, October 2, 1899.

Mr. Felch was born in Sandwich, N.H., eighty years ago and came to Boston in 1839. From 1854 to 1866 he was a member of the Boston police force. For twenty-seven years previous to 1893, when he retired, Mr. Felch served the city as constable and truant officer.

APPOINTMENT OF SUPERINTENDENT AT RAINSFORD ISLAND.

The Children's Institutions Trustees have appointed Mr. Sumner D. Seavey, Superintendent of the House of Reformation for boys at Rainsford Island to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Superintendent Anthony.

Mr. Seavey was born in Maine, but has been a resident of Boston for many years. During the last twenty-eight years he has been an officer at the State Prison, Charlestown, and from 1893 to 1897 had charge of its schools. More recently, however, he has had charge of the letters and the writing list and the Bertillon system of measurement. Mr. Seavey began his duties at Rainsford Island on October 2.

APPOINTMENT OF RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.

At a meeting of the Executive Council held on Thursday, September 28, 1899, Governor Wolcott nominated Hon. James F. Jackson, of Fall River, to be a Railroad Commissioner, in place of Hon. John E. Sanford, resigned.

Mr. Jackson was born in Taunton in 1851, and is a graduate of Harvard University. He is one of the most prominent lawyers of Bristol County. From 1880 to 1888, with the exception of the year 1886, Mr. Jackson was City Solicitor of Fall River, and in 1889 and 1890 he served as Mayor.

Mr. Sanford, the retiring member of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, was appointed by Governor Russell in 1892.

THE MUNICIPAL REGISTER FOR 1899.

The printing of the Municipal Register has been completed recently. By direction of His Honor the Mayor the work of compiling the material for the Register and seeing it through the press has been done by the Statistics Department—as was the case in 1898.

Corrections in the lists of persons connected with the several departments have been made up to July 1, 1899. The current volume numbers 275 pages, showing a reduction of sixty-one pages from the number of pages contained in the Register for 1898.

The principal changes in the make-up of the volume are: (1) The printing of the following lists immediately after the lists of members of the City Government 1891–1898, viz., the Mayors of Boston, Chairmen of the Board of Aldermen, Presidents of the Common Council, alphabetical lists of Aldermen and Councilmen from 1822 to 1898, inclusive, Orators of Boston, and Justices of the Police and Municipal Courts; and (2) the bringing together of the statistical tables in the following order: Topographical statistics, population statistics, financial statistics, election statistics.

The tables relating to debt, interest and sinking-funds have been rearranged so as to show the amount paid to sinking-funds, the amount paid for interest, the amount of debt created, the amount of debt paid, the net increase of debt, the gross debt at end of the year, amount of sinking-funds at end of the year, and gross debt less sinking-funds for each of the years 1878–1898, under the general heads of Debt of All Kinds, City Debt, Cochituate Water Debt, Mystic Water Debt, and of County Debt for the years 1885–1898.

The Assessors' statistics for 1898 are presented in a new form in order to show (1) the amount in square feet; (2) assessed valuation, and (3) assessed valuation per square foot of occupied and of vacant land in the several wards of the city.

The election statistics have been condensed in certain respects and expanded in others, e. g., separate columns showing the proportion (per cent.) of actual voters to registered voters have been introduced into tables relating to the elections for President, Governor and Mayor, and the vote for School Committee on the part of women voters.

ISOLATION OF DIPHTHERIA CASES.

In the South Boston Municipal Court, on Tuesday, September 26, 1899, Judge Fallon sustained the contention of the Board of Health, that diphtheria cases must be isolated.

The case was a complaint against Patrick and Mary Feeney, of 112 Gold street, who, being the parents of a child infected with diphtheria, had neglected to cause the child to be conveyed to some isolated place approved by the Board of Health. The parents were summoned into court and fined $20 each.

The disposition by the court of this case is regarded as important, and will undoubtedly serve as a very material aid to the efforts of the Department in checking the spread of diphtheria in the future.

PROGRESS OF STREET DEPARTMENT WORK.

Superintendent Wells, on Wednesday, October 4, 1899, issued the following statement regarding the work of the Street Department:

In reply to a petition signed by substantially all the abutters on Devonshire street, between Water and State streets, requesting that the present uneven pavement be replaced with smooth and durable material, to lessen the intolerable noise and relieve the strain on the horses, Superintendent Wells states that this would be a most desirable improvement, as the pavement is in wretched condition, but that, as no funds have been made available for this work, it cannot be undertaken this season.

The widening and construction of Cambridge street, Brighton, will be commenced Thursday, when the Boston Elevated Railway Company enters upon the street for the purpose of laying the tracks in the new location. The present bit of track is very old, and the change to a new, first-class track and roadbed will be much appreciated. The street is to be widened fourteen feet, and as soon as the Elevated is through with its work, the Street Department will proceed with the construction of the street.

Congress street from Atlantic avenue to the bridge is being repaved with granite blocks on concrete base. This has been one of the worst pieces of pavement in Boston, and probably the most heavily travelled, and the teamsters have all expressed much pleasure at the improvement.

Atlantic avenue will be taken in hand as soon as the piers of the Boston Elevated are in place. There is also considerable work to be done at Dewey square as soon as the Boston Elevated work is completed. Signs have been ordered which will be of great assistance to strangers, as they will indicate the various streets and most prominent places.

Devonshire street, between Milk and Water streets, in front of the Post Office, is being repaved with asphalt. If the pavement is successful here, another season it will undoubtedly be extended to State street.

Harrison avenue, between Kneeland and Bennett streets, is being repaved, with asphalt in part, and granite blocks.

Talbot avenue, Dorchester, is well on the way to completion. The Boston Elevated tracks are laid, and the portion of the street to the railroad bridge completed. This will be one of the greatest improvements which has been effected in the Dorchester district for years, connecting as it does one section of Dorchester with the entire park system and the city proper over park roads.

Work on Commonwealth avenue has made considerable progress, although it has appeared slow, owing to the immense amount of rock-cutting, which has delayed not only the work of the Street Department, but has made it slow work for the sewer, water and gas. The Boston Elevated tracks will be laid this fall, and the avenue brought as nearly to completion as is possible.

The Street Department will soon enter upon the section of Blue Hill avenue, from Walk Hill street to Mattapan; but, owing to the failure of the commissioners appointed to arrange for the abolition of the grade crossing of the New England Railroad tracks to act in the matter, it will not be possible to undertake the work except in part. This is a disappointment, as it had been planned to complete Blue Hill avenue this season to the Milton line.

Federal street, throughout its whole length, has been repaved in the best possible manner; and, leading as it does directly from the Terminal Station to the Post Office, and carrying a great amount of teaming and carriage travel, the value of a smooth, well-paved street, as compared with the old pavement on this street, is already very apparent in the increase of traffic and the better time made by teams and carriages.

Blackstone street, between North and Hanover streets, the great Saturday night market place, has been repaved to the great satisfaction of the merchants and shoppers of that locality.

Leverett street, from the bridge to Causeway street, where the paving was in a bad condition, has been entirely repaved.

A considerable stretch of Charles street has been asphalted at the request of the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Eye and Ear Infirmary, both of which abut on this heretofore noisy street.

The portion of Endicott street, from Cooper street across Thatcher street, is being re-asphalted. There is no appropriation for this street, but the condition was absolutely dangerous, the asphalt being very old and full of holes. This is only one of the many cases where conditions are such that the Department must rebuild the street or close it; and the money thus taken from the maintenance appropriation makes it difficult to keep within the amount allowed for that purpose, and shortens up the work on maintenance lines.

Another piece of work which comes under the same head, for which no appropriation was made, but which could not be allowed to go without doing, was the laying of block paving on the South Boston side of Congress street, between A and C streets. The Commonwealth having constructed a new street from L street to C and Congress streets, the intervening strip connecting with the pavement this side of A street, being nothing but an unbuilt mud street, could not be left in that condition for the winter, as it would have been impassable to the heavy teaming which will use this thoroughfare.

One of the largest jobs of the season has been the widening and building of Charlestown street and the approaches to the Charlestown bridge. This is built under a special appropriation. One side is complete to the bridge, and the entire neighborhood will be greatly improved. In connection with this work, a considerable portion of Causeway street was repaved.

Under an act passed by the Legislature last year, the Street Commissioners were authorized to lay out, and the Superintendent of Streets to construct, such private alleys as it might be desirable for the city to control, both for sanitary and public reasons. Under this act, many of the Back Bay alleys have been made public, thoroughly reconstructed, and will now be cleaned by the Department and the city ordinances will be enforced as in case of public streets. The alleys between Irvington street and Massachusetts avenue, parallel to Huntington avenue, have all been asphalted, and several alleys in the South End and city proper have also received attention.

Owing to the fact that the paving appropriation for general construction work throughout the city was so entirely inadequate this year — being but $75,000 as against the usual appropriation of $625,000, or, in other words, averaging only $3,000 to a ward instead of $25,000 — it has not been possible to do the usual amount of work in the various sections of the city, and certain conditions which should receive attention must be allowed to go unless money is made available for their correction. It has been hoped that the $125,000 which stands on the books for the purpose of purchasing a rifle range might be transferred to the Street Department. If the City Council would make this transfer the requests which have come in from almost every ward in the city, that the most pressing cases be cared for, could receive attention; otherwise they must go on file.

It will be remembered that the passage of the Malden bridge act tied up $200,000 of money which ordinarily would be available for street work; and in addition the sum set aside for the widening of Rutherford avenue amounted to $200,000.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS CONFERENCE

The regular quarterly meeting of the Public Institutions Conference was held at 3 P.M., on Wednesday, September 27, 1899, in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall.

Present: His Honor Mayor Quincy; Prof. William T. Sedgwick, Acting Institutions Registrar and Chairman of the Pauper Institutions Trustees, Mrs. Alice N. Lincoln and Miss Frances R. Morse, also of the Pauper Institutions Trustees; Dr. Henry C. Baldwin, of the Insane Hospital Trustees; Mr. Horatio A. Lamb and Mr. John A. Bruen, of the Children's Institutions Trustees; Mr. William P. Fowler and Mr. Thomas Sproules, of the Board of Overseers of the Poor, and Mr. Thomas Francis Hunt, Acting Penal Institutions Commissioner.

His Honor the Mayor being unable to be present at the beginning of the meeting, on a motion of Professor Sedgwick, it was Voted, That Mr. Fowler act as temporary Chairman.

Mr. Hunt, on a motion of Professor Sedgwick, was requested to read the records of the last meeting. His Honor the Mayor having arrived meanwhile and taken the chair, and there being no objection raised to the records, the same were declared approved.

Mr. Lamb submitted, on behalf of the Trustees for Children, the following report:

On September 1, there were, under the care of the Trustees for Children, 925 children of the dependent and neglected classes.

They are divided as follows:

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Boarding out	246	177	423
Indentures	179	138	317
In other institutions, including Massachusetts School for Feeble Minded, hospitals, etc. (Of these 185 we pay board for 107),	96	89	185
Total	521	404	925

The health of the children during the past year has been unusually good. This is partly owing to the great care exercised in the location of the homes.

The number of admissions has decreased largely from that of former years, owing, in the main, to the greater care used in investigating applications for admission.

From January 1, 1899, to September 1, 1899, we have had 204 applications having a Boston settlement, mostly of the dependent class. On investigation only eighty-six of these have been accepted. Formerly the Marcella-street Home would have taken most of the 204. This shows the advantage of thorough investigation.

On January 1, 1899, there were 851 children boarded out and indentured. On September 1, 1899, there were 740. The decrease is accounted for as follows:

Number of dependent and neglected children boarded out and indentured January 1, 1899	851
Admissions, January 1 to September 1, 1899	86
	937
Number discharged January 1 to September 1, having been discharged to parents or guardians, arrived at age, or on account of change of settlement	191
Number died	6
Number in charge September 1, 1899,	740

At the Parental School on September 18, 1899, there were 192 boys. The number of boys at this school has increased steadily since the first of the year. Our lack of buildings for rooms and dormitories has made it very difficult for us to take care of this increase as we would like to.

The largest number of boys at the school during January was 176. The largest number during June was 214; an increase of over 21 per cent.

It is not possible for the Trustees to refuse to take a boy sent by the courts. Therefore, we have purchased two tents for use during the summer months, and are now building two temporary wooden school-houses. There is great need of additional land and proper buildings for this school.

The health of the boys has been unusually good during the year. The schools have opened for the year with a decided improvement in the interest of the boys in their work.

On September 18, 1899, there were under our care 324 boys, who have been committed to the House of Reformation for minority; 151 of these boys were on probation with their families or friends, and visited by two male agents from the office force; forty-six boys were at Deer Island, under the care of the Penal Institutions Department, owing to lack of accommodation at Rainsford Island on account of the fire; nineteen boys were at the Point Cottage at Rainsford Island. These are the younger boys, who are kept apart from the others, having their schools and meals at the Point Cottage. Fifty-eight boys were in the main building; eighteen boys were at large, eight of these having escaped at the time of the fire. Two of these have been arrested since September 18.

On August 19 certain boys of the institution set the main building on fire. These boys are now under arrest and awaiting trial. At the time, our Superintendent was confined to his room, in consequence of an accident which occurred shortly before. One of the Trustees, Mr. John A. Bruen, passing the summer at Hull, fortunately was able to go to the Island immediately, and every means to preserve order was taken at once.

By the courtesy of the Commissioner of Penal Institutions forty-six boys were transferred to Deer Island, and are now under his care, three members of our force—a male teacher and two care-takers—having been placed there by us. These boys we expect to take back to Rainsford Island before long.

On August 28 Mr. Anthony, by the advice of his physician, resigned his position as Superintendent, his health being such that he could no longer remain in charge of the institution.

On September 12 Mr. Russell R. Walton, formerly teacher of the shoemaking department, was placed in charge of the institution, pending the selection of a new Superintendent. Under him there are fifteen men and six women, including four teachers, an instructor in sloyd and an instructor in printing, a force quite sufficient to manage the institution for the present.

The resignation of Mrs. Maud Gates Everett, principal teacher, was accepted on September 25, to take effect September 29. Miss Kate L. Eddy, teacher, returns to her class on September 30. Alfred L. Leighton returned to his former position on September 19. Mrs. Hattie Shaw, baker, is expected to return shortly.

Dr. Baldwin, representing the Insane Hospital Trustees, submitted the following report:

The ordinary routine work of the Insane Hospital has gone on in a satisfactory way since the last conference. The capacity of the hospital to-day is 500 patients.

Sufficient attention has not as a rule been given to the importance of the proper care of the acute curable cases of insanity. I have been impressed, in conversation with hospital superintendents and others, with the fact that the per capita cost of patients seemed as important as the per cent. of patients cured.

Now every insane pauper costs the city approximately $200 per year. The average duration of life of these patients is beyond the usual limit for sane people because of the care taken of them and the regularity of their life, and is from fifteen to twenty years. Every patient who becomes a chronic case costs the city, on an average, from $3,000 to $4,000 in their lifetime. In other words, it would not be an extravagant sum if the city were to pay $60 to $80 a week for one year for every pauper insane person whose cure could be accomplished by such means. There is no question among medical men that the care an acute case receives determines whether that person becomes a wage-earner in the community or does not recover and becomes a pauper, this result often throwing the support of others upon the community.

It seems, therefore, that in the interests of humanity and economy there should be a hospital building for the treatment of the acute cases of insanity. Such a building should be planned so that each patient should have such individual treatment as is necessary, and should be equipped with baths and modern conveniences. The best nurses, the best food, and the best medical care should be given to these patients until they have recovered, or until it is evident that their recovery is hopeless.

The following report was submitted for the Pauper Institutions Trustees by Miss Morse:

During the last three months the contracts for the new power-house on Long Island have been awarded and work was begun early in July. The Committee on Buildings and Grounds have watched the construction carefully, to make sure that the contracts were fulfilled. The new power-house will enable us to fully use the system of ventilation in the Hospital, for which hitherto, there has never been adequate power, and it will enable us also to ventilate the men's building, which has had no other system of ventilation hitherto than perforated slides in the windows. We shall be able to adequately heat the women's building by new steam coils, for which hitherto there has not been enough power and in which there has been suffering from cold each winter.

The salt water fire system, for which there was a special appropriation, is nearly completed and will be worked by power from the new power-house.

Those acres of the farm devoted to vegetables have been more satisfactorily cultivated this summer than in 1897 or 1898, and the Superintendent and Deputy arranged to have many of the lighter vegetables picked by the women, and it has been a refreshment and change both for the women and for the matron in charge of them. A great many fresh vegetables have been eaten and enjoyed.

We think it much to be desired that there should be some receiving-room on the wharf of the "J. Putnam Bradlee" for shelter of persons and care of goods, and we hope shortly to appoint a committee for conference with the Penal Commissioner relative to some simple system of receipt for goods sent to Long Island by the "Bradlee." The Penal Commissioner concurs with us in thinking it desirable to have a matron on the "Bradlee" who should have charge of all women and sick persons.

William T. Sedgwick, Acting Institutions Registrar, reported as follows:

On the part of the settlement division, the chief, Mr. John E. Gilman, at my request, has paid personal and particular attention to that class of applicants for admission to the almshouses, known as "Rounders." In dealing with these cases, this Department has acted as agent for the Pauper Institutions Trustees and has refused admission to certain confirmed vagrants, who, in the opinion of that Board, should not be admitted to the almshouses, but sent either to the State workhouse at Bridgewater or to the reformatory at Concord. The result has thus far been gratifying, the vagrants in question, without exception, having withdrawn their applications for admission to the Almshouses when told of the policy adopted by the Pauper Institutions Trustees.

The chief of the settlement division has also called attention to the peculiar status of the so-called observation cases now sent to the hospital on Deer Island, and recommends that if a detention hospital should be established it should be under the care of the Pauper Institutions Trustees, inasmuch as its inmates would be, in the first instance, paupers rather than insane or criminals.

On the part of the statistical division, the chief, Mr. Koren, reports that he has devoted the greater part of the summer to devising a system whereby as accurate and complete histories as possible, governing the social and institutional life of the cities' wards can be obtained. This system must provide that the Department shall be the repository of all data relating to dependents and delinquents, a bureau of information for all departments and institutions. He points out that the purpose of the Registration Department is to serve the other departments and the institutions and become a connecting link between all of them.

In the establishment of the Institutions Registration Department, Boston again leads the way.

So far as can be learned, no city here or abroad has such a department, though the need of one has been felt in many places. Already inquiries are coming in regarding our methods and ultimate purpose.

The detailed plans of registration which Mr. Koren has worked out, with the co-operation of the heads of departments concerned, will soon be ready for their more careful consideration.

For the Penal Institutions Department, Mr. Hunt reported general progress, saying that the lighting of the east wing of the cell-house at the South Boston House of Correction had been improved by the installation of Welsbach burners in the place of the less modern lights. Mr. Hunt also reported that since the last meeting the new cemetery Resthaven, at Deer Island had been completed and dedicated by Mr. Marshall, and that work had been begun, and was being pushed along, on the Deer Island Hospital annex.

The several reports were accepted. Professor Sedgwick expressed pleasure with the report of Dr. Baldwin, and said he agreed with Miss Morse that a matron should be employed on the steamer "J. Putnam Bradlee." In this connection Mrs. Lincoln said that it always seemed to her that this idea of a matron was not only a good one so far as the care of women paupers was concerned, but that the women prisoners sent to Deer Island should also be cared for by such a matron.

With regard to the suggestion for a detention hospital for so-called observation cases, Dr. Baldwin said he did not approve of it. Mr. Bruen suggested closer co-operation between the public and regularly incorporated aid societies with a view to gathering as complete statistics as possible.

His Honor the Mayor then brought up the question of the transfer of the steamer "John Howard" from the Penal Institutions to the Pauper Institutions Department, saying that before Mr. Marshall went away he had talked with that official and that Mr. Marshall had assented to the transfer. His Honor accordingly announced that he would confer with Mr. Hunt for the purpose of arranging for the early transfer of the steamer "John Howard," and that the said steamer would be at the service of the Penal and Children's Institutions. Trustees the same as formerly, but that it would be under the charge of the Pauper Institutions Trustees.

THOMAS FRANCIS HUNT,
Secretary pro tempore.

ADMIRAL DEWEY'S VISIT.

While in Washington attending the banquet and reception to Admiral Dewey, Governor Wolcott secured the Admiral's promise to visit Boston on October 13 and 14.

Details of the Admiral's entertainment have not yet been arranged. The State troops will be mobilized on the fourteenth instead of the ninth, and the flagship "Olympia" will undoubtedly be in port.

The Committee on Entertainment, representing the Governor, the Mayor, the Chamber of Commerce and the Home Market Club, will begin immediately to arrange the programme for the Admiral's reception.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held in the School Committee chamber, Mason-street building, at 7.30 P.M., on Tuesday, September 26, 1899, the President in the chair.

Present: All the members except Messrs. Bowdlear, Fleischer and Strange.

The confirmations presented by the Superintendent at the last meeting were approved.

On motion of Mr. Aldrich, the message from His Honor the Mayor with regard to the heating and ventilating contract for the new grammar school-house on Quincy and Perth streets, Dorchester, received at the last meeting, was placed on file.

The following orders, laid over under the rule at the last meeting, were read and successively passed:

(1.) That there be paid to Francis G. Sager the sum of $8,500, as payment for his estate at the corner of Bartlett and School streets, at Charlestown, taken for school purposes by the City of Boston, April 14, 1899, upon said Sager giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken satisfactory to the Law Department.

(2.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute an order of addition to the contract of James Fagan, for addition to and alteration of the Mechanic Arts High School-house in the sum of $103.40 for refacing with brick portion of corridor, plastering and furring part of janitor's room, and setting and extending partitions in sanitariums.

(3.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute an order of addition to the contract of Mack & Moore for alteration and addition to the West Roxbury High School building in the sum of $848.10 for changes and improvements in fittings of laboratories.

(4.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute an order of addition to the contract of F. G. Coburn & Co., for erecting a high school building at Dorchester, in the sum of $350, for water-proofing of underground air-ducts.

The Chair read the following:

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

September 18, 1899.

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested to establish a kindergarten school at Savin Hill.

Passed.

A true copy. Attest:

JOHN T. PRIEST, Asst. City Clerk.

The Superintendent of Schools presented the resignations of sixteen teachers which were accepted.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments, for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the Rules and Regulations:

(1.) The appointments of twenty special assistants, which were approved under suspension of the rules.

(2.) The appointments of ten temporary teachers, which were placed on file.

(3.) The appointments of twenty-four teachers on probation, which were approved under suspension of the rules.

(4.) The confirmations of seven teachers, which were approved under suspension of the rules.

(5.) The transfers of five teachers, which were laid over under the rules.

On the recommendation of the Superintendent, leave of absence was granted to ten teachers.

Under a suspension of the regulations, the appointments of two temporary teachers were approved by the Board.

Under a suspension of the rules, the appointments of four teachers on probation presented by the Superintendent in pursuance of orders passed authorizing the employment of such instructors, were approved by the Board.

It was ordered, under suspension of the rules:

(1.) That an additional sub-master be allowed in the Brimmer District.

(2.) That an additional assistant be allowed in the grammar school, Tileston District.

(3.) That one additional ungraded class be allowed in the Phillips District, making five in all.

(4.) That a special teacher of drawing be allowed in the English High School, until otherwise ordered, the same to be in place of one junior-master to which the school is entitled under the rules.

(5.) That a special teacher of drawing be allowed in the Dorchester High School.

The reports of Mr. Aldrich, for the Committee on New Buildings, as follows, were accepted:

(1.) That Trinity Baptist Church had been taken in order to provide temporary accommodations in the Chapman District, and that the following contracts had been authorized for necessary changes and fittings in that building:

Carpentry, Dingwell Brothers . . .	$3,625 00
Carpentry, Sidney Peterson & Co. . .	648 28
Heating, William J. Carlin . . .	747 00
Plumbing, H. Carruthers & Co. . .	628 00

(2.) That in order to provide additional accommodations in the Martin District, the leasing of accommodations at No. 775 Huntington avenue, at a rental of $660 per annum, which amount includes heat and janitor service, had been authorized.

(3.) That in order to provide accommodations for pupils in the Bennett District during the construction of the new Winship Primary School-house, the old Winship building had been moved to the rear of the school lot, and the following contracts had been made in connection with the matter:

Carpentry, A. E. Ellis	$1,200
Excavating and masonry work, S. W. Brown	600
Moving, A. M. Richards	383
Heating, Finley & Harris	220
Plumbing, Finley & Harris	90

(4.) That in order to furnish extra accommodations for two classes in the Gaston District, for the school year 1899-1900, accommodations have been engaged at No. 732 Broadway, at a rental of $1,500 per annum, which amount includes heat and janitor service.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, reported that the estimated cost of the building for the Quincy and Perth streets School when the plans were approved by the Board last November was $105,000, including the architect's commission. The total available appropriation was but $81,255, therefore the general contract was entered into last year, leaving the plastering, plumbing and heating contracts to be met from the amount to be expended this year for new school-houses. Largely in consequence of the recent rise in building materials, the cost of this school-house will somewhat exceed the original estimate, but your committee are confident that the total cost will not much exceed $116,000, which in their judgment is very reasonable for a modern grammar school-house containing fifteen rooms and a hall.

Accepted.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, reported that at the last meeting of the Board an order was passed authorizing the execution of a contract with F. G. Coburn & Co., in the sum of $85,900 for erecting the Chapman Grammar School building in East Boston, said firm being the lowest bidder. Subsequently your committee were informed by F. G. Coburn & Co. that a clerical error had been made by them in making up the figures upon which their bid was based, in that the sum of $1,100 was entered in a certain item, when $11,000 was clearly the amount intended to be used. The original figures have been examined by your committee, and they are satisfied that the mistake was wholly unintentional, and that the larger sum was a fair one for the item in question.

The contractors are perfectly willing to forfeit the $1,500 deposited by them as security for signing the contract, but decline to go further, as to do so would involve a loss to them far in excess of the $1,500, but have agreed to undertake the contract for the sum of $93,683, which is $7,783 in excess of their original bid. This amount is $3,550 less than the proposal submitted by the next lowest bidder, and, in the judgment of the committee, it would be better for the interests of the city to accept the proposal than to readvertise for new bids, which course they are confident would not result in any saving of expense, to say nothing of the delay that would thereby result. In consideration of the facts herein set forth, and after consultation with the Corporation Counsel, and with the consent of the Mayor in writing, your committee recommend the rescinding of the order passed by the Board at its last meeting, and the passage of the following order in place thereof:

Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with F. G. Coburn & Co. in the sum of $93,683 for erecting the Chapman Grammar School building in East Boston; and on the execution of said contract by said Coburn & Co., $1,500 deposited by them as security for signing another contract to be returned to them.

The report was accepted, the order passed by the Board at its last meeting, authorizing the execution of a contract with F. G. Coburn & Co., in the sum of $85,900 for erecting the Chapman Grammar School building, in East Boston was rescinded, and the order appended to the report of the committee was passed under a suspension of the rules.

It was ordered, under a suspension of the rules, that the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to execute a contract with Connors Brothers, in the sum of $84,400 for erecting the Bigelow Grammar School Building in South Boston, the said firm being the lowest bidder.

Mr. Berridge, for the Committee on School-houses, reported that the Board at its meeting of August 15, authorized the execution of a contract with John P. Conlon for plumbing work at the Frothingham School, in the sum of $1,775. Subsequently this bid was withdrawn, and the committee, being unwilling to delay the completion of the work, and with the consent of His Honor the Mayor, awarded the contract to Huey Brothers, the next lowest bidder, in the sum of $2,637.

The report was accepted; that part of the order passed August 15, authorizing the execution of a contract with John P. Conlon, in the sum of $1,775, for plumbing the Frothingham School-house, Charlestown, was rescinded, and the action of the Committee on School-houses, in awarding the aforesaid contract to Huey Brothers, as set forth in the preceding report, was approved and confirmed.

Under a suspension of the rules, it was ordered:

(1.) That the Committee on School-houses are hereby authorized to donate to the public school system of Porto Rico such old school furniture as will not be required for further use in the schools of this city; provided, that no expense for transportation is thereby incurred by this Board.

(2.) That a special teacher of penmanship be allowed in the Evening High School, and that the salary of said instructor be fixed at the rate of $2 per evening of actual service, to date from October 2, 1899.

(3.) That Herbert L. Swan, having been approved by the Superintendent, be appointed special teacher of the school on Spectacle Island, on probation, from September 1, 1899; and that his salary be at the rate of $400 per year, payable quarterly, said sum to be in full for all expenses connected with the school, except for books.

The Committee on the Paris Exposition, reported that "it is inexpedient for this Board to rescind such action as it has already taken with regard to the Paris Exposition."

The report was accepted.

On the recommendation of the Committee on Salaries, the following orders were passed under suspension of the rules:

(1.) That there be paid to B. Cortisoz, the sum of $62 for services rendered as temporary janitor of the Bigelow school from July 1 to September 1, 1899, inclusive.

(2.) That there be paid to Charles D. Gallagher, the sum of $68 for services rendered as temporary janitor of the Wells school during the month of June, 1899.

(3.) That the salary of J. Fred. Sayer, jr., messenger, be fixed at the rate of $1,200 per annum, to date from September 1, 1899, until otherwise ordered.

(4.) That the salary of the janitor of the ward-room in the George Putnam District, rented for school purposes, be fixed at the rate of $180 per annum, to date from September 6, 1899, until otherwise ordered.

The following statement, presented by the Committee on Accounts, was received and placed on file:

The Committee on Accounts present to the Board the appropriation available for the present financial year and the expenditures incurred from January 1 to October 1, 1899, the same being nine months' payment of the financial year, exclusive of the cost of repairs and the expenditures incurred for new school-houses.

APPROPRIATION.	Estimate for year.	Expenses for nine months.	Balance unexpended.
Salaries instructors,	$2,085,000 00	$1,513,811 03	$571,188 97
Salaries officers . .	71,000 00	51,672 33	19,327 67
Salaries janitors . .	156,000 00	112,022 79	43,977 21
Fuel, gas and water,	106,000 00	90,056 22	15,943 78
Supplies and incidental expenses,	162,913 68	108,527 44	54,386 24
	$2,580,913 68	$1,876,089 81	$704,823 87

As compared with the corresponding nine months of last year:

Salaries of instructors increased .	$75,316 75
Salaries of janitors increased . .	1,935 30
	$77,252 05

Salaries of officers decreased	$1,444 67
Fuel, gas and water decreased	3,813 54
Supplies and incidentals decreased	9,068 11
	14,326 32

Increase for the year $62,925 73

Should the expenditures continue to increase in the same ratio during the remaining three months of the financial year the total expenses for the year, exclusive of repairs and new buildings, will amount to $2,506,847.70. Deducting this estimated expenditure from the appropriation for 1899-1900, it leaves a balance of $74,065.98 as the amount to be carried forward and added to the appropriation for the next financial year. This balance may be needed to maintain the present schedule of salaries for the financial year 1900-1901.

Mr. Anderson, for the Committee on Rules and Regulations, reported that from the evidence adduced before the committee, it appears that the majority of the entertainments for children provided by the City Government on the Fourth of July consist of low variety shows, containing, in many instances, features obscene, vulgar and immoral, and that this Board should refuse to grant the use of school buildings to the City Government for such purposes; and your committee further recommend that this report be transmitted to the City Council, through His Honor the Mayor.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

Mr. Anderson, for the same committee, offered the following:

Ordered, That pending the completion of the new Bigelow Grammar School-house the master be authorized, in his discretion, to dispense with the morning recess for certain of his classes, for which there are no facilities for recess, and to dismiss them at 11.45 o'clock A.M.

The order being amended, so as to include the Gaston District within its scope, was passed.

It was ordered, under a suspension of the rules, that the use of school halls for a series of free chamber concerts during the fall and winter months be granted the Music Commissioners the same as last year, provided the same will not interfere with the regular work of the schools and involves no expense to this Board.

NOTICE TO CORPORATIONS AND CONTRACTORS.

Superintendent of Streets Wells has issued the following notice to corporations and contractors regarding street openings on the occasion of Admiral Dewey's visit to Boston:

City Hall, October 9, 1899.

GENTLEMEN: I hereby request that all openings in streets in the city proper and Back Bay be closed before Friday, October 13, so as not to inconvenience the crowds that will attend the Dewey celebration on the thirteenth and fourteenth.

This request applies to all streets as far as possible; but there may be special instances where it is not within reason to make the closing. Please notify this office of such cases.

You will of course understand that there must be no openings of any kind on the route laid out for the procession of the fourteenth.

Yours very truly,

BENJ. W. WELLS,
Superintendent of Streets.

CONGESTION OF TRAFFIC AT DEWEY SQUARE.

In reply to the question what is being done to solve the problem of caring for foot and team traffic in Dewey square, Superintendent Wells of the Street Department, on October 10, 1899, stated that no action can very well be taken until the relocation of the surface tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway. As soon as the special work, which has been ordered, arrives, these tracks will be put in place, and the square repaved.

In the re-arrangement of crossings, Superintendent Wells will confer with the Board of Police, in order to get the results of the observations by the officers stationed on this square, who have had the handling of the foot travel on the crossings, and also with a view to making some arrangement whereby the lines of team travel will be kept in certain channels, and not allowed, as now, to strike across the square in all directions, thus blocking the way and confusing the situation. Thus, with properly arranged crossings and properly directed team travel, the conditions can be improved very greatly.

The Street Department and the Board of Police have this matter in mind, but can take no action that would really relieve the situation until the laying of new tracks is accomplished.

In the matter of subways, and other plans which have been proposed to facilitate travel across the square, it is not likely that anything will be done in the immediate future, and therefore the problem must be looked at, for the present, from an entirely surface point of view.

PARK SQUARE PUBLIC MARKET.

In accordance with the order of the Board of Aldermen, passed August 14, the Joint Standing Committee on Market of the City Council gave a public hearing Friday evening, October 6, to interested persons in favor of the City of Boston acquiring the land and buildings at Park square, recently vacated by the Providence Division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad for the purpose of establishing a public market similar to Quincy Market.

His Honor, Mayor Quincy was present and Alderman Barry, Chairman of the Committee, presided.

Hon. Thomas J. Gargan, representing the Park Square Improvement Association, spoke in favor of the proposed new market, giving a concise history of the market system of Boston and citing Quincy Market, established in 1823, as having been a profitable investment for the city.

Other remarks were made by Messrs. George Nowell, Wallace Lindell, M. F. Cunniff, J. J. McCormick, M. A. Sullivan and John J. Collins.

The hearing adjourned to meet Monday evening, October 16.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The United States Civil Service Commission calls particular attention to the examination which will be held on October 17, at prominent points throughout the country, for the position of assistant examiner in the patent office.

The entrance salary to this position is $1,200 per annum, with good opportunity of promotion through the different grades, to upwards of $2,500.

The probability for those who pass the examination of being reached for certification is unusually good, as during the last spring series of examinations only six eligibles were secured, and the Commission frequently receives requisitions for eligibles to this position.

In view of the great need of eligibles, the Commission will arrange to examine any one who will indicate his desire to be examined, by wire or otherwise, in time to permit of the shipment of papers to the place of examination, giving him sufficient time after the examination to file formal application. Upon receipt of request, copy of the Manual of Examinations, giving the full scope of the examination and sample questions will be forwarded.

All persons who desire to compete should at once write to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or to Mr. E. E. Stebbins, Room 141, Post Office, Boston, Mass., for application blanks (Forms 304 and 375), which should be properly executed and promptly forwarded to the Commission at Washington, D.C.

Work on East Boston Tunnel.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 9, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Boston Transit Commission in reply to your order requesting me to inquire of the Commission whether the work on the East Boston Tunnel is proceeding as vigorously as possible.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

BOSTON TRANSIT COMMISSION,

20 Beacon Street, October 4, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: The Boston Transit Commission respectfully makes reply to your request for information for the Board of Aldermen as to the progress of work upon East Boston Tunnel.

As soon as the Supreme Court rendered its opinion of July 3, the Commission rescinded its votes looking to a surface connection between the subway and the proposed tunnel to East Boston, and August 3 voted to proceed with the construction of the tunnel, as required by Chapter 500, Statutes of 1897, and as interpreted by the Supreme Judicial Court in Browne et al. vs. Turner et al.

The engineering force thereupon recommenced making plans, studies and estimates of cost, a material change from former plans in the method of construction being made necessary by the great increase of late in the cost of steel and cast-iron. An immediate investigation was instituted to learn as to what extent concrete masonry can be safely substituted for metal.

Additional borings have been made, some requiring the use of the diamond drill, and a small section of tunnel has been constructed in East Boston to serve for a practical test of the strength of the method of construction now proposed.

Early in September notice was received of an application by ten citizens again asking for an injunction to restrain the Commission from building the tunnel. In this proceeding the constitutionality of the act will undoubtedly be passed upon by the court. By advice of counsel, active work on the tunnel has again been suspended pending the decision of the court. The counsel of the Commission has been instructed to hasten the matter to an early hearing.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE G. CROCKER, Chairman.

Placed on file.

Down Town Relief Hospital.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 9, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Trustees of the City Hospital, which explains itself. The opportunity thus presented of securing a downtown relief station without expense to the city, and merely by the transfer to the Hospital Department of a parcel of land now vacant and held for municipal uses, should certainly be embraced, and I earnestly recommend the speedy passage of the accompanying order to enable the city to take advantage of the gift now offered. The Trustees of the City Hospital have for several years strongly urged the need of a relief station of the character proposed, and have endeavored, with my support, to obtain appropriations for that purpose.

Through taking advantage of the offer now made the city can obtain this much needed institution without the expenditure of public money for its construction. There can be no question that the location proposed would be a very appropriate and convenient one for the purpose, and that such a station would meet an existing public want in that section of the city, and would receive many patients.

I trust that the action required to secure to the city the benefit of such an institution in connection with its Hospital Department will be promptly embraced.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL.

October 5, 1899.

TO HIS HONOR THE MAYOR AND THE HONORABLE CITY COUNCIL.

GENTLEMEN: The Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, seconded by requests from the visiting staff of the Hospital and petitions from prominent citizens, have, for a considerable period, as you are aware, urged the importance of establishing a Relief and Ambulance Station in the more congested portion of the city, in order that the Hospital may more completely and satisfactorily render the service which a municipal hospital is called upon to perform.

Speedy aid to the injured and quick relief in sudden sickness, are recognized duties of a City Hospital, which it should exercise, not only for the saving of lives, but for the alleviation of suffering and the shortening of periods of disease and disability.

The Trustees, some time ago, considered with your Honor the desirability of taking for the purpose of such a station a portion of the land formerly occupied by the Boston and Maine Railroad as a passenger station in Haymarket square which has been surrendered to the city by the Transit Commission.

The urgency of extending this relief and ambulance work of the Hospital is so great that the Trustees have determined to divert for the construction of a building for these purposes a fund out of a private bequest which has recently been given them for the benefit of the Hospital, and which they had proposed to devote to meet pressing demands within the grounds of the Hospital proper, provided the plan shall meet the approval of your Honor and the Honorable Council, and also provided the city will furnish the land, as the sum in question would not be sufficient to include the purchase of the land.

They believe that a suitable site can be found by taking a portion of the tract referred to, beginning on Haymarket square and extending about one hundred and twenty feet on Canal street.

The site is peculiarly well located, inasmuch as it supplies the important requisite of light and air on three sides, is situated on the northerly part of the city, in close connection with Charlestown and East Boston, is readily accessible to the congested portions of Boston by the great thoroughfares which extend out from Haymarket square, is near the great railroad and steamship docks where the larger number of accidents occur, and supplements for emergency needs the main Hospital, which is situated in the southerly portion of the city.

The Trustees hope that inasmuch as the subject is of so great importance to the people of Boston, the matter may have a speedy and favorable consideration.

The transfer of this land to the Hospital Department can be made without any expense on the part of the city, and if placed in possession of the site, the Trustees will be able to erect upon it a proper building every way adapted to the desired object.

I have the honor to be on behalf of the Board of Trustees,

Yours respectfully,

A. SHUMAN, President.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

October 9, 1899.

Ordered, That so much as may be needed of the parcel of land transferred to the City of Boston by the Boston Transit Commission, under the provisions of Chapter 347 of the Acts of 1897, and bounded by Haverhill street, Haymarket square, Canal street and Travers street, extended, be placed under the charge of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, to be used for the erection thereon of a relief and ambulance station, the boundaries of the lot of land to be used for such purpose to be subsequently approved by the City Council.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, September 29, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In reply to the inquiry of the Common Council as to what is the cause of the delay in completing the construction of Idaho street, Ward 24, I would respectfully report as follows:

The sewer work was completed on March 1, 1899, and the contract for surfacing the street was signed on April 27, the work on the water and gas-pipes being then unfinished. The work on the water-pipes was completed on May 9, and on gas-pipes July 24. The delay in this case was caused by the failure of the gas company to do the work until after a long period.

Since then the work of construction has been in progress, some delay being occasioned by the failure of the Street Department to furnish the stock required, said failure being caused by the delay of the parties supplying the goods.

The street will be completed within a very few days.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

Condition of Mather School.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

September 26, 1899.

The Committee on School-houses, to whom was referred, February 14, a communication from the City Council, through His Honor the Mayor, requesting that immediate steps be taken to improve the sanitary condition of the Mather School-house in Ward 13, South Boston, report that they have investigated the matter, and do not find that cause for complaint exists with regard to the sanitation and ventilation of the building in question. The sanitaries in the yard are not of the most approved style, but are well cared for, and the expense of installing new accommodations of this character, including enlargement of the present building, plumbing, slate work, closets and ventilation, would be greater, in the judgment of the committee, than the necessities of the case demand. Your committee therefore recommend that the City Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that it is inexpedient to take further action with regard to this matter at the present time.

For the Committee,
THOMAS W. BERRIDGE,
Acting Chairman.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

Board Meetings.

Children's Institutions Department.

The following is an abstract of the records of the recent meetings of the Children's Institutions Trustees:

At the Parental School two temporary wooden buildings, costing about $1,500 each, to be used as school-rooms, are nearly completed. This will make it possible to diminish the overcrowding in the dormitories by letting the boys sleep in the rooms now used for school-rooms. The new rooms are to be heated by steam from the plant already in use.

On September 30, 1899, Mr. Sumner D. Seavey was chosen Superintendent of the House of Reformation and on October 2, 1899, he took charge of it. Mr. Seavey has been an officer at the State Prison at Charlestown for over twenty-eight years. (See THE CITY RECORD, No. 40, page 649.)

Some of the boys have been returned from Deer Island to Rainsford Island.

On October 6, 1899, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment appropriated for the repair of the building burned at Rainsford's Island $7,000, and also transferred an appropriation for drainage of land at the Parental School to the House of Reformation for the same purpose. (See THE CITY RECORD, page 678.)

Mrs. Seavey, wife of the Superintendent will enter on the duties of matron of the Institution on or before November 1. She brings to this work the best possible qualifications.

PRESENTATION OF CITY'S GIFT TO ADMIRAL DEWEY.

Following is the address of His Honor Mayor Quincy, made in front of City Hall Saturday morning, October 14, 1899, presenting Admiral Dewey, in honor of his visit to Boston, with the gift of the city, and the Admiral's reply:

ADMIRAL DEWEY: You come back to your fellow-countrymen from a brilliant and successful service in war and in peace, in a far-distant region of the earth—a service unique in modern times in its momentous results and in its appeal to the imagination of mankind. Your return has been fittingly signalized by the great national reception extended to you at the metropolis of the country, by the greeting of the Federal capital, and by the welcome home of kindred, friends and neighbors in your native State and city. It is proper that next to these the City of Boston, the metropolis of New England, should have an opportunity to do honor to the most distinguished living example of those personal qualities, characteristic of our section of the country, which have made the influence of its sons felt so strongly, from the earliest times to the present day, in the development and expansion of the nation. We may almost greet you as a fellow-citizen of long standing, for your ancestor, Thomas Dewey, landed here in 1633, and your family never got further away from us than Vermont, until you selected the harbor of Manila as a more desirable place of residence, and, in order that you might occupy it, annexed to your country a domain imperial in extent and resources. To-day we welcome you to Boston—a name as familiar to you in the Philippines as at home—and we offer you, in the fullest and largest sense, with honor for your achievements, with respect for your character, with affection for your personality, the full freedom of no mean city. In the presence of the city government and in the name of all the people of Boston, I bid you thrice welcome.

You left us a bureau officer of the navy, thoroughly trained and skilled in your high profession, respected and esteemed by your official associates—a type of the strong men who have from the beginning of our national life made America respected upon the seas; you return a full admiral, the third in all our history to wear that high title, the successor of Farragut in fame, as in rank. You set out for the Asiatic station less than two years ago, known to but few of your countrymen—a modest officer in their naval service; you return, still with the unimpaired modesty of true greatness, the commander in the greatest naval battle since Trafalgar, bearing a name famous through all the world, and holding a place forever upon the pages of history. You have gained the thanks of Congress, official reward, and promotion to the highest rank; you are now receiving—and may we not believe this is even more precious to you?—the personal and spontaneous thanks of your fellow-countrymen, the indications of their sincere affection for you, the evidences of their confidence in you, of their desire to look up to you and be led by you. The people of America are not ungrateful; they would gladly bestow upon you any honor, even the highest in their gift.

The instinct which guides great masses of men, which leads them at intervals to elevate some individual far above his fellows, and to see in him the rare qualities of true greatness, is not apt to be mistaken; individuals may be wrong, but when the universal judgment declares itself, it must be right. The American people see in your record the qualities that make up a strong and great man—courage, patience, firmness, discretion, devotion, simplicity. They would, indeed, honor and reward you merely for the victory at Manila—however it might have come, or whatever might have followed it; but they are no blind worshippers of the mere warrior. They give you their homage because by one hard and daring blow, delivered eight thousand miles from an American port, you destroyed the foundation of the Asiatic power of Spain and thus earned the right to be called a peacemaker by greatly hastening the close of the war.

But I believe that it is far more the qualities you afterwards displayed, in the year of arduous and delicate service which followed—a service unexampled in its character in our own history, and with few parallels in all history—which have won for you such unique manifestations of the respect and affection of seventy-five million people. It is not alone the daring commodore who took his fleet by the forts and the torpedoes in the early morning light of that memorable first of May, and annihilated a fleet without the loss of a man, who excites their admiration; it is even more, the public servant whose intelligent foresight and careful preparation won the battle of Manila, as you have yourself expressed it, in the harbor of Hong Kong—whose diplomacy managed the Philippines and held their good-will—whose firmness at all times controlled a most difficult situation—whose judgment never erred—whose sense of duty kept him continuously at his post in an exhausting climate—whose administrative ability gave to the world the proof that America had at least some sons conspicuously fitted to deal with the problems of distant possessions inhabited by alien peoples. Our people love you as an example of great devotion to high duty; they believe that as that has been your guiding star in the past, so it will be in the future—that whatever may be the work to which you are called, whether in war or in peace, whether naval or civil, you will not be found unmindful of any obligations which the confidence reposed in you by your fellow-countrymen may still lay upon you. In our national perplexities, arising out of the strange and trying situation which confronts us in the Philippines, we turn to you, who know the conditions so well, for counsel, for guidance, for still further service.

You are again upon your native soil; but your fame was won at Manila, and there it should be secured and perpetuated. The work which your fleet began was a work of liberation, not of conquest—of civilization, not of enslavement. However dark may be the present situation in those now distracted islands of the Eastern seas, the true intentions of the American people must in the end make themselves felt and recognized, alike at Washington and in Luzon; when peace is restored, when the wise and statesmanlike counsels associated with your own name again assert themselves, we may be sure that the Philippines—who accepted you as their friend and have never learned to regard you as their enemy — will be given the fullest liberty which they are capable of enjoying. When that happy time shall come, when the American flag shall mean in those far-off islands, as it means at home, peace, order, education, prosperity, then will be realized the promise of greater security and larger liberty which the echo of your guns carried on that May morning to the listening ears of oppressed millions; then will come the time when the statue of George Dewey shall be erected in the chief square of Manila, and when the natives themselves shall write beneath his name a single title — the proudest that can be borne by mortal man — Liberator.

The city government of Boston now desires to present to you, Admiral Dewey, a gift which you may take away as a slight token of our gratitude for your services to the country, of the special pride which we feel in you as a son of New England, and as a memento of this memorable visit.

The suggestion of a watch as a suitable present came from one of your former shipmates, and this form of gift has the merit of enabling us to utilize a distinctive product of the mechanical skill which lies at the foundation of New England's prosperity, to express our appreciation of those qualities in you — may we not also say distinctive of the sturdy New England character — which have shed additional lustre upon the mountains and valleys of your native State, and have illumined the whole country with new glory. We offer it to you upon a silver tray which will hand down to your descendants, in a more enduring form than parchment, the inscription formally extending to you the freedom of the City of Boston. May the time which this watch shall mark deal gently with you, and may you be long spared to serve your country, in whatever station she may most use you.

Admiral Dewey replied as follows:

MR. MAYOR: I wish to thank you for your kind and complimentary remarks. I wish also to thank you, and through you, the citizens of this city, for this present, for its freedom, and for this grand ovation, the like of which no living man has ever seen, I think. That ovation which was given me last night, I believe, has never been equalled within the lifetime of any of us — at all events, I never saw the equal of it. I thank you very much indeed.

DESCRIPTION OF THE CITY'S GIFT TO ADMIRAL DEWEY.

The watch presented to Admiral Dewey by the City of Boston contains a 16-size nickel movement, with twenty-one diamond and ruby jewels, two pairs of diamond caps, plate jewels and raised gold settings, gold train, double-roller escapement, exposed pallets, patent micrometer regulator, and is adjusted to heat, cold and position.

It has a special dial of the finest enamel, with Arabic figures made of rubies, emeralds and other precious stones, with a jewel over each hour figure. Between the centre and the figure 12 is a fine painting of an American eagle, holding in its talons an American flag painted in colors, and carrying also a scroll, on which are inscribed Admiral Dewey's memorable words: "Gridley, you may fire when ready."

The case is a heavy, 18-carat, open-face gold one, with the monogram "G.D." in diamonds on the back. On the inside of the case is engraved the city seal, and on the inner case are engraved the Dewey coat of arms, and the words "Presented to Admiral George Dewey, U.S.N., by the City of Boston, October 14, 1899." With the watch was presented an 18-carat, double waistcoat chain, a plain gold charm, with the Admiral's flag engraved on one side and a fouled anchor on the other, a heavy gold pencil and a long neck chain.

In order that Admiral Dewey might have a lasting memento of his visit to Boston, the watch, chains, etc., were presented on a silver salver inscribed with the seal of the city and the following words:

RESIGNATION OF WATER COMMISSIONER MURPHY.

The following correspondence and statement concerning the resignation of Hon. John R. Murphy as Water Commissioner of the City of Boston are self-explanatory:

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER.

City Hall, October 10, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In accordance with my intention, of which I verbally acquainted you some time since, I hereby respectfully tender my resignation as Water Commissioner, to take effect Monday, October 16, 1899.

I inclose herewith a statement of the financial condition of the Water Department on the first day of the current month.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN R. MURPHY,

Water Commissioner.

The statement of the financial condition of the Water Department on October 1, 1899, above referred to, is as follows:

The balance of appropriation available from all sources on October 1, 1899, is over $365,000, made up as follows:

Balance, October 1, 1899, according to City Auditor's report	$317,368 83
Due from corporations, October 1, 1899	20,241 17
Bills paid (pertaining to State taking) under authority of an order of the City Council, approved by the Mayor February 8, 1896	8,245 00
Claims paid, executions, etc.	7,326 98
Paid by corporations this year, up to October 1, on account of work done last year, and which should be credited back to the appropriation for 1899 (approximately)	12,000 00

Unless some unforeseen emergency occurs at the end of the financial year, January 31, 1900, there would be left to carry over for the ensuing year a balance of at least $60,000, which will be more than sufficient to complete the work contemplated in the order of the City Council, approved by the Mayor November 22, 1898, with a view to the further extension of the high-service system in the Dorchester Lower Mills and Jamaica Plain districts, and the order of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, dated June 22, 1899, with a view to improved fire protection.

The work in the Jamaica Plain and Roxbury districts is sufficiently advanced to turn on the high service water at a day's notice as soon as the permission of the Metropolitan Water Board is obtained. In a portion of the Dorchester Lower Mills district the high service water has already been turned on, and in the balance of the district we are ready to commence the work the moment the permission of the Metropolitan Water Board is obtained.

Mayor Quincy has sent the following letter to Water Commissioner Murphy, accepting his resignation as Water Commissioner:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 16, 1899.

HON. JOHN R. MURPHY, Water Commissioner.

DEAR SIR: I have received this afternoon your written resignation, under date of October 10, in accordance with your verbal tender of the same on that date. In compliance with your desire to retire at once from the position of Water Commissioner, I hereby accept the resignation, to take effect at noon to-morrow; under the ordinances I have designated Superintendent Wells of the Street Department to act temporarily as Water Commissioner until a permanent appointment is made, and I will therefore ask you to introduce him to the officials of the Department as your successor at that time.

While I cannot but feel, as I have told you verbally, that from the standpoint of your own personal interests, the step which you are now taking in severing your long official connection with the service of the city, whatever your plans for the future may be, is a wise one, I desire none the less to express my regret at the severance of official relations which have always been harmonious and satisfactory, and to express my appreciation of your services under the present administration.

With assurances of personal regard, I am,

Yours very truly,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

In relation to the selection of Superintendent Wells to act temporarily as the successor of Water Commissioner Murphy, His Honor Mayor Quincy makes the following statement:

Under the present ordinances I cannot designate anyone but a head of another department to fill a vacancy temporarily, as the appointment of any other person would have to be a full one. As I am not ready to make a permanent appointment to the Water Commissionership at the present time, and may not do so before going out of office, it was necessary for me to select some head of a department to fill the vacancy temporarily. I have hesitated to impose this additional labor and responsibility upon the Superintendent of Streets, on the ground that his authority and responsibility is already so large, but in going through the list of departments I was forced to the conclusion that the work of the Water Department was far more analogous to that of the Street Department than any other, and I consider Superintendent Wells the best fitted of any head of a department, by training and experience, to take up the duties of Water Commissioner; and the Street Department is now so thoroughly organized that I think he can do so without neglecting his regular duties. The fact that the work of the Water Department now lies practically wholly in the streets of the city, and that it therefore comes in contact at many points with the work of the Street Department, may make it desirable to try the experiment temporarily of having these two departments carried on under a common administrative head.

LEGALITY OF STREET LIGHTING CONTRACT.

The following communication from the Corporation Counsel was received at the meeting of the Common Council held on Thursday evening, October 12, 1899, and assigned to the next meeting:

LAW DEPARTMENT.

73 Tremont Street, October 12, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

GENTLEMEN: In reply to your communication asking my opinion "as to the legality of the contract for street lighting entered into by the City of Boston and the Rising Sun Street Lighting Company, and submit a statement of all laws and ordinances relating to the subject," I have the honor to reply that by Acts of 1825, Chapter 3, Section 1, "The Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Boston, for the time being, may cause to be set up and affixed such and so many lamps in the streets and other places in said city for the purpose of lighting the same as they may determine to be convenient and necessary, and said Mayor and Aldermen are hereby empowered to make all necessary contracts, rules, orders, and regulations respecting said lamps and the lighting of the same as they may deem most for the benefit of the city."

Acts of 1885, Chapter 266, Section 10, provides that all orders, resolutions or votes of the Board of Aldermen of the City of Boston which involve the exercise of any of the powers conferred by law upon the Mayor and Aldermen or the Board of Aldermen as a separate board, shall be subject to the veto power of the Mayor, and by Section 3, of the same act, the executive powers of the city and all the executive powers vested in the Board of Aldermen as such, as surveyors of highways, county commissioners or otherwise, are vested in the Mayor, to be exercised through the several officers and boards of the city and the respective departments of the city under his general direction and supervision.

Under these statutes, therefore, the Board of Aldermen, subject to the approval of the Mayor, has power to provide that lamps shall be placed in certain places as they shall determine to be necessary, and to determine whether they shall be lamps to burn gas, oil, naphtha or other material, but the executive power, the power of carrying out these orders, is vested in the Mayor to be exercised through some department of the city.

I find on enquiry that the Board of Aldermen has passed orders providing that certain lamps in the city shall be gas lamps and certain lamps shall be naphtha lamps. The naphtha lamps have for several years been lighted under a contract for furnishing the burners and the material to be burned and the care thereof by a company on substantially the same terms as the contract referred to in your order, and the Mayor, acting through the Lamp Department, has now, by the contract referred to, adopted the same system for the gas lamps. The rights of the Board of Aldermen are preserved in the contract by providing that the company shall light with gas or with naphtha only such lamps as now exist or that shall hereafter be ordered by the Superintendent of Lamps, subject to the Superintendent's withdrawal of lamps from being lighted, and I assume, of course, that the Superintendent will act in such matters only in accordance with the orders of the Board of Aldermen in relation to them.

I see, therefore, no illegality in the contract.

I do not deem it necessary to cite Chapter 23, of the Ordinance of 1898, relating to the Lamp Department, because those provisions are simply re-enactments, in the form of an ordinance, of the provisions of said Chapter 3, of the Acts of the year 1825.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. BAILEY,

Corporation Counsel.

PARK SQUARE PUBLIC MARKET.

A continued hearing was given Monday evening, October 16, 1899, by the Joint Standing Committee on Market Department to persons in favor of the city acquiring the property at Park square for a public market. Alderman Adams presided.

Hon. Thomas J. Gargan, counsel for the Park Square Improvement Association, read a letter from Mr. Edward Atkinson favoring the establishment of another public market. Representative Clerke and Councilman Tobin spoke in favor of the proposition and remarks were also made by representatives of the Central Labor Union, the Pattern Makers' Association, the Building Trades' Council, the Grocery and Provision Clerk's Association and other interested persons.

DEATH OF DR. CARTER.

The death of Dr. Theron H. Carter, Assistant Superintendent of the Boston City Hospital, occurred early Sunday morning, October 15, 1899.

Dr. Carter was born in Charlton, Mass., and was thirty-eight years of age. He was graduated from Brown University in the class of '86 and from the Harvard Medical School in 1893. Shortly after he was appointed a house physician at the City Hospital, in which position he served for a year and a half. In 1896 he was appointed one of the Superintendent's assistants and in March, 1899, he was promoted to be Assistant Superintendent.

DEATH OF REPRESENTATIVE DUMOND.

Representative John B. Dumond was accidentally shot and killed by being taken for a deer by his guide on Thursday, October 12, 1899, about twenty-five miles from Grindstone station, Me., on the line of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad. Mr. Dumond was one of a party of three who went to the Maine woods on a hunting expedition early in last week.

Mr. Dumond was born in New York, December 25, 1862. For a number of years he was connected with the Hartford Steam Boiler Company as consulting engineer. Mr. Dumond was prominently identified with the Republican party of the city. In 1897 he represented Ward 12 in the Common Council. In 1898 he was elected Representative to the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and was re-elected in 1899. He had but recently been renominated as Representative of his district for 1900. During his service in the House he was a member of several important committees, and was active in promoting the bill relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors and the new aldermanic law for Boston.

VISIT OF THE LORD MAYOR OF DUBLIN.

In view of the expected visit to Boston of The Rt. Hon. Daniel Tallon, Lord Mayor of Dublin, and of John E. Redmond, M.P., for Waterford, Ireland, the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on the sixteenth instant authorized the appointment of a committee of five, with such as the Common Council may join to act in conjunction with His Honor the Mayor in extending the hospitality of the city to the distinguished visitors.

THOMAS W. FLOOD, Commissioner.

RECEPTION TO ADMIRAL DEWEY.

On his arrival at the North Station at about 6 P.M., on Friday, the thirteenth instant, Admiral Dewey was met by His Honor the Mayor, who was accompanied by Aldermen Barry and Prescho, Councilmen Kiley and Emery, and Colonels Frye and Stevens of the staff of Governor Wolcott.

Under an escort made up of Grand Army Veterans, Kearsarge Naval Veterans, and Spanish War Veterans, commanded by John E. Gilman, Department Commander, G.A.R., Admiral Dewey proceeded to the Hotel Touraine, where he was entertained as the guest of the city and of the Commonwealth.

Later in the evening a brilliant display of fireworks was provided by the city on the Common in honor of the Admiral. The committee charged with arrangements for the fireworks consisted of Aldermen Colby, O'Toole and Dixon, and Councilmen Horrigan, Battis, Donahoe and Miller.

The massing of pupils of the public schools, to the number of twenty thousand or more, and their singing of patriotic songs, was a striking feature of the city's reception to Admiral Dewey on Saturday, the fourteenth instant. The preliminary arrangements relating to the selections of music and the mobilization of the pupils were in accordance with circulars issued by the Secretary of the School Committee, on behalf of the Special Committee in charge, on October 9, 10 and 11.

The transportation of the school children to and from the Common, and their marching to the places assigned them were smoothly and successfully carried out under the supervision of Mr. J. G. Bassett, Master of the Bigelow School, acting as Marshal, and his aides, who were assisted by the masters and teachers of the schools represented.

The selections sung by the pupils under the direction of Mr. J. M. McLaughlin, were: "America," first and last stanzas; "The Star Spangled Banner," first and fourth stanzas.

Admiral Dewey said of the singing of the school children:

"When I first heard of the idea of massing so many school children I did not think it feasible. It has been the most impressive sight I have seen, and the greeting the children have given me has been more enthusiastic than that given me by any people in any city."

The special committee, which represented the School Board, at the reception to Admiral Dewey and the arrangements preliminary thereto, was appointed on May 23, 1899, as follows:

Dr. William J. Gallivan, Mrs. Fifield, Messrs. Ignatius S. McDonough and Thomas J. Kenny.

President Huggan and Mrs. E. C. Keller, at the special invitation of the committee, were present with the committee on the Common and at City Hall, on Saturday.

The presentation to Admiral Dewey of a watch and salver in the name of the city by His Honor the Mayor took place at 10.30 A.M., Saturday, October 14, in front of City Hall in the presence of an assemblage of heads of departments and other city officials, for whose benefit the yard of City Hall had been reserved.

The presentation took place on a stand placed opposite the main entrance of the hall in the centre of the yard. Following is a list of the persons who, in addition to Admiral Dewey and Mayor Quincy, occupied seats on the stand:

Captain Lamberton, of the "Olympia"; Captain Dyer, of the "Baltimore"; Capt. Mortimer L. Johnson, Acting Commandant of the Charlestown Navy Yard; Col. Charles R. Suter, of the United States Engineer Corps of this district; Colonel Woodruff, of Fort Warren; Colonel Riley, of the Watertown Arsenal; Commander A. V. Wadhams and wife, of Washington; Flag Lieutenant Brumby; Hon. W. Murray Crane, Lieutenant-governor of the Commonwealth; Hon. John L. Bates, Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives; Hon. George E. Smith, President of the Massachusetts Senate; Mr. Wallace F. Robinson, President of the Chamber of Commerce; Hon. William B. Plunkett, President of the Home Market Club; Gen. James L. Carter, of the Governor's staff; Mr. Nat. G. Robinson, Mayor's Private Secretary; Mr. James A. McKibben, Mayor's Corresponding Secretary; Messrs. Huggan, Gallivan, Kenny, Courtney, McDonough, Mrs. Fifield and Mrs. Keller, of the School Committee; Aldermen Barry, Colby, Dixon, McDonald, Berwin, Prescho and O'Toole, and Councilmen Kiley, O'Brien, Emery, Donahoe, Miller, Lorey, Horrigan and Battis, of the Reception Committee of the city government.

After the Handel and Hadyn Society, Emil Mollenhauer, conductor, accompanied by a part of the Municipal Band, had sung "See, the Conquering Hero Comes," His Honor the Mayor made a presentation address to Admiral Dewey. The address of His Honor and the response of the Admiral (which are printed on page 685) concluded the formal reception of the City of Boston to Admiral Dewey, who, after leaving City Hall, became the guest of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, whose militia he reviewed later in the day from the steps of the State House.

On Monday evening the crew of the "Olympia" were tendered a supper at the Irvington-street armory, after which, through the generosity of Mr. B. F. Keith, they were entertained at Keith's Theatre. The committee in charge of the entertainment of the crew consisted of Aldermen Dixon, O'Toole, Berwin and Prescho and Councilmen Emery, O'Brien, Lorey, Horrigan and Battis.

TREMONT STREET MALL.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has received from representatives of the Societies of Sons and Daughters of the Revolution and Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution a petition, dated October 13, 1899, requesting that the mall on Boston Common, commencing at the junction of Boylston and Tremont streets, and ending at the junction of Park and Tremont streets, be named "Lafayette Mall," in honor of the Marquis de Lafayette and to commemorate his reception in Boston in 1824.

At a meeting of the Executive Council, held October 25, 1899, Governor Wolcott's nominations of Capt. Joseph W. Collins, of Boston, and Mr. Edward A. Brackett, of Winchester, as members of the Fish and Game Commission, the latter being a re-appointment, were confirmed. Captain Collins will probably act as Chairman of the Commission.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Garbage Plant Nuisance.OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 23, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Health in reply to your order requesting a report as to "what action the said Board proposes to take relative to the abating of the garbage plant nuisance existing at Cow Pasture."

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

October 21, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In response to an order of the Board of Aldermen asking to be informed at its next meeting "what action the Board of Health proposes to take relative to the abating of the garbage plant nuisance now existing at Cow Pasture," we have to say that the matter referred to has been thoroughly investigated by the Board of Health and its conclusions were some time since communicated, through His Honor the Mayor, to the Superintendent of Streets, who, under the terms of the contract between the City of Boston and the New England Sanitary Product Company, is authorized and empowered to abate any nuisance shown to be prejudicial to the public health or comfort in the operation of the new garbage plant.

Very respectfully,

The Board of Health,

SAMUEL H. DURGIN, Chairman.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Addition to Reserve Fund.OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 23, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith an order passed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment at its meeting to-day, making an additional appropriation of $100,000 to the Reserve Fund, the said appropriation to be met by additional revenue estimated by the City Auditor in excess of his estimate made at the first of this year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

October 23, 1899.

Ordered, That an additional appropriation of one hundred thousand (100,000) dollars is hereby made to the Reserve Fund, the same to be met by the additional revenue estimated by the City Auditor under date of October 18 in excess of his previous estimate of revenue.

JOHN P. DORE,

DAVID F. BARRY,

LAURENCE MINOT,

JOSIAH QUINCY,

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

New Ferryboat Authorized.OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 23, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith an order passed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment at its meeting today, authorizing the Superintendent of Streets to construct and equip a new ferryboat, the expense to be met from the loan authorized by Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1895. The City Council authorized the Superintendent of Streets to construct the "Noddle Island," the idea being to increase by one the number of ferryboats. This increase has been offset, however, by the taking of the "East Boston" by the United States government, and the need of a new boat is pressing.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

October 23, 1899.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Streets be directed to construct and equip a new ferryboat for the Ferry Division of the Street Department, the expenses thereof to be charged to the loan authorized by Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1895.

Passed, and we certify that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

JOSIAH QUINCY,

DAVID F. BARRY,

JOHN P. DORE,

LAURENCE MINOT,

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Sent to the Common Council without alteration.

Veto—Order Box on Sidewalk.OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 23, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature a vote passed by your Board granting permission to David J. Brett to place a small order box on the sidewalk at 1278 Washington street, Ward 9, for the reason that, in the opinion of the Law Department, said vote is illegal.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby leave was granted to place an order box on the sidewalk was reconsidered, and the Board refused to grant the permit over the Mayor's veto, the vote being — yeas, 3; nays, 4.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M., Thursday, October 19, 1899, President Kiley in the chair.

The following message from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Ambulance Station — South Boston.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 19, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

In connection with the building of the ambulance station in South Boston, for which the sum of $10,000 has been appropriated, it is important to arrange at once for a site. The appropriation was urged on the ground that an ambulance was very greatly needed in that section of the city, and particularly in connection with the work of Carney Hospital; and my understanding is that the appropriation was made by the Board of Apportionment and the City Council with the desire of making the ambulance station available for use in connection with this very worthy and useful institution. The appropriation is now in the hands of the Public Buildings Department for expenditure, and the building can be started as soon as the site is arranged for. It has seemed to me that the best course was for the city to lease from the Carney Hospital authorities the lot of land owned by them, which was suggested as offering the most suitable site for the ambulance station, and for the city then to lease the station, when completed, to Carney Hospital at a normal rental, for use in connection with that institution. As Carney Hospital now derives some revenue from the lot of land which it is proposed to use for this purpose, the authorities of the Hospital believe that the city should pay a ground rent of $250 a year for the use of this site, and this seems to me a reasonable proposal, — particularly in view of the fact that the ambulance will thus be put into public service. A lease of this character should be authorized by the City Council, and I therefore recommend the passage of the following order.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings, with the approval of His Honor the Mayor, be authorized to lease for the term of twenty years, and at a rental of $250 a year, for the purpose of using the same as a site for the ambulance station for South Boston, for which the sum of $10,000 has been appropriated, a certain parcel of land situated in South Boston, owned by the Carney Hospital, and bounded and described as follows: Easterly by National street, which leads into Fourth street, near its intersection with Dorchester street, forty feet six inches; southerly by land now or formerly of Martin, eighty-seven feet; westerly by land now or formerly of Calvin Aiken, by line parallel, with the westerly line of said National street, and also parallel with Old Harbor street, forty feet six inches; northerly by land supposed to have belonged to George Sweetland, eighty-seven feet.

The communication was sent up, and the order was passed.

An investigation has been made of the accidental electric shocks which were received by Alonzo D. Dodge, an employee of the city, which were received while he was oiling elevator machinery above the elevator way in the Old Court House, September 20.

The electric fire at 9.56 P.M., September 9, in the store of the Douglass Shoe Company, 620 Washington street, was caused by short circuit in brass armored tube, same being injured in some way, so that service cut into the insulation of the wire, arcing and setting fire to the inside lining of the tube.

While standing at the corner of Dorchester and Eighth streets, South Boston, on the evening of Saturday, September 16, about 10 o'clock, a car going south to Field's Corner, Dorchester, slipped the trolley, breaking the feed wire connections crossing Dorchester street, which caused the same to fall and strike Thomas A. Quinn, an employee of the Wire Department, on the back of the left hand, injuring that member and breaking a bone in same.

DEATH OF COMMODORE PERKINS, U.S.N., RETIRED.

The death of Commodore George H. Perkins, U.S.N., retired, occurred at his home, 123 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, Saturday evening, October 28, 1899.

Commodore Perkins was born in Hopkinton, N.H., December 20, 1836 and was educated at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, becoming an acting midshipman in 1851, a lieutenant in 1861, a lieutenant-commander in 1862, a commander in 1871, captain in 1882 and a commodore in 1896. He saw active service during the War of the Rebellion and displayed signal gallantry in several naval engagements. Commodore Perkins was one of two representatives of Admiral Farragut to receive the surrender of the City of New Orleans.

Twice during his career Commodore Perkins served in Boston, first from 1869 to 1871 as ordnance officer at the Charlestown Navy Yard, and again in 1876 both as ordnance officer and as lighthouse inspector of the district.

DEATH OF DR. THOMAS L. JENKS.

Dr. Thomas L. Jenks fell dead in the Superior Court, first jury session, shortly before half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of Tuesday the thirty-first instant in the seventieth year of his age.

Thomas L. Jenks was born in Conway, N.H., in 1830. He came to Boston in 1843 and found employment in a drug store, where he remained till the breaking out of the Mexican War, when he entered the naval service as a hospital steward. Early in 1849 he left the service, and in May of that year began business as a druggist on his own account at the corner of Merrimac and Portland streets, where he continued to do business till 1882. In 1854 he was graduated from the Harvard Medical School, with the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

Dr. Jenks identified himself with the Democratic party after the disruption of the Whig party, and was for many years a member and treasurer of the Democratic State Central Committee. In the years 1868 and 1869, Dr. Jenks represented old Ward 3 in the Common Council, and was a member of the Board of Aldermen in 1872. He was a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives from the Third Suffolk District in 1870, and again in 1876. Dr. Jenks served as a Trustee of the City Hospital in 1873, 1874 and 1875.

In 1878, Dr. Jenks was elected to fill a vacancy in the Board of Directors of East Boston Ferries, of which Board he continued to be a member till 1883, being Chairman in 1880 and 1881.

He was appointed a Police Commissioner, in place of Henry Walker, for an unexpired term of one month, in April 3, 1882, by Mayor Green, by whom he was reappointed for the term of three years. On February 24, 1885, he was reappointed by Mayor O'Brien for the term of three years. During his term of service as Police Commissioner, which was finally terminated on July 23, 1885 (in accordance with Chapter 323 of the Acts of 1885, which vested the appointment of the Board of Police for Boston in the Governor and Council), he was Chairman of the Board.

In 1889, when the Board of Directors of Public Institutions was abolished and an appointive Board of Commissioners of Public Institutions was established, Dr. Jenks was appointed a Commissioner for the term of three years by Mayor Hart. At the expiration of his term he was reappointed for three years by Mayor Matthews. From 1889 till 1895, when the public institutions were placed under the charge of a single commissioner, Dr. Jenks was Chairman of the Commissioners of Public Institutions.

At the time of his death, and for several years previously, Dr. Jenks was President of the North End Savings Bank.

HEIGHT OF BUILDINGS AT COPLEY SQUARE.

Following is the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court in the case of Henry B. Williams et al. vs. Attorney-General of the Commonwealth regarding the height of buildings around Copley square:

KNOWLTON, J.: This is an information by the Attorney-General to prevent the erection and maintenance of that portion of a building on Copley square, in the City of Boston, which is above the limit of height prescribed by the Statutes of 1898, Chapter 452. Section 1 of this statute is as follows:

"Any building now being built, or hereafter to be built, rebuilt or altered in the City of Boston upon any land abutting on St. James avenue between Clarendon street and Dartmouth street, or upon land at the corner of Dartmouth street and Huntington avenue, now occupied by the Pierce building, so called, or upon land abutting on Dartmouth street, now occupied by the Boston Public Library building, or upon land at the corner of Dartmouth street and Boylston street, now occupied by the New Old South Church building, may be completed, built, rebuilt or altered to the height of 90 feet and no more; and upon any land or lands abutting on Boylston street, between Dartmouth street and Clarendon street, may be completed, built, rebuilt or altered to the height of 100 feet and no more; provided, however, that there may be erected on any such building above the limits hereinbefore prescribed, such steeples, towers, domes, sculptured ornaments and chimneys as the Board of Park Commissioners of said city may approve."

Section 2 repeals the statute of 1896, Chapter 313 and the statute of 1897, Chapter 379, so far as they limit the height of buildings erected along the line of streets, parkways or boulevards bordering on public parks. Section 3 provides for the payment of damages to any person owning or having an interest in an uncompleted building begun before the fourteenth day of January, 1898, which is affected by the act, and Section 4 provides for compensation to all persons sustaining damages to their property by reason of the limitation of the height of buildings prescribed by the act. The case is reported upon the information, demurrer, pleas, and certain facts found at the hearing on the pleas.

The first question raised by the report is whether the statute is constitutional. The streets mentioned in the statute are adjacent to Copley square. On the case as now presented we must assume that Copley square, in the language of the information, "is an open square and a public park intended for the use, benefit and health of the public, and is surrounded by buildings devoted to religious, charitable and educational purposes, some of which contain books, manuscripts and works of art of great value, many of which are in their nature irreplaceable." Regulations in regard to the height and mode of construction of buildings in cities are often made by legislative enactments in the exercise of the police power, for the safety, comfort and convenience of the people and for the benefit of property owners generally. The right to make such regulations is too well established to be questioned. Salem vs. Maynes, 123 Mass. 372; Watertown vs. Mayo, 109 Mass. 315; Sawyer vs. Davis, 136 Mass. 239. See Talbot vs. Hudson, 16 Gray, 417.

In view of the kind of buildings erected on the streets about Copley square, and the uses to which some of these buildings are put, it would be hard to say that this statute might not have been passed in the exercise of the police power, as other statutes regulating the erection of buildings in cities are commonly passed. But it differs from most statutes relative to this subject in providing compensation to persons injured in their property by the limitations which it creates. In this respect it conforms to the constitutional requirements for the taking of property by the right of eminent domain. Looking to all its provisions in connection with the place to which they apply, it seems to have been intended as a taking of rights in property for the benefit of the public who use Copley square. It adds to the public park, rights in light and air and in the view over adjacent land above the line to which buildings may be erected. These rights are in the nature of an easement created by the statute and annexed to the park. Ample provision is made for compensation to the owners of the servient estates. In all respects the statute is in accordance with the laws regulating the taking of property by right of eminent domain, if the Legislature properly could determine that the preservation or improvement of the park in this particular was for a public use. The uses which should be deemed public in reference to the right of the Legislature to compel an individual to part with his property for a compensation, and to authorize a direct taxation to pay for it, are being enlarged and extended with the progress of the people in education and refinement. Many things which a century ago were luxuries, or were altogether unknown, have now become necessities.

It is only within a few years that lands have been taken in this country for public parks. Now the right to take land for this purpose is generally recognized and frequently exercised. Foster vs. Park Commissioners, 133 Mass. 321; Shoemaker vs. U. S., 141 U. S. 282. Many statutes have been passed in this Commonwealth allowing taxation for purposes affecting the health, comfort, pleasure and recreation of the people, and thus conducing to their welfare. In Kingman vs. Brockton, 153 Mass. 255, the court said, referring to a statute authorizing the raising of money by taxation for the erection of a memorial hall: "The statute * * * may be vindicated on the same ground as statutes authorizing the raising of money for monuments, statues, gates or arches, celebrations, publication of town histories, parks, roads leading to points of fine scenery, decorations upon public buildings, or other public ornaments or embellishments designed merely to promote the general welfare, either by providing for fresh air, a public recreation, or by educating the public taste or enforcing sentiments of patriotism or respect for the memory of worthy individuals. The reasonable use of public money for such purposes has been sanctioned by several different statutes, and the constitutional right of the Legislature to pass such statutes rests upon sound principles." See also Higginson vs. Nahant, Allen, 530, and Hubbard vs. Taunton, 140 Mass. 467. In Olmsted vs. Camp, 33 Conn. 551, the court, in discussing the line between public and private uses, says: "From the nature of the case there can be no precise line. The power requires a degree of elasticity to be capable of meeting new conditions and improvements, and the ever increasing necessities of society. The sole dependence must be on the presumed wisdom of the sovereign authority supervised, and in cases of gross errors or extreme wrong, controlled by the dispassionate judgment of the courts." The grounds on which public parks are desired are various. They are to be enjoyed by the people who use them. They are expected to minister, not only to the grosser senses, but also to the love of the beautiful in nature in the varied forms which the changing seasons bring. Their value is enhanced by such touches of art as help to produce pleasing and satisfactory effects on the emotional and spiritual side of our nature. Their influence should be uplifting, and, in the highest sense, educational. If wisely planned and properly cared for, they promote the mental, as well as the physical, health of the people. For this reason it has always been deemed proper to expend money in the care and adornment of them, to make them beautiful and enjoyable. Their æsthetic effect never has been thought unworthy of careful consideration by those best qualified to appreciate it.

It hardly would be contended that the same reasons which justify the taking of land for a public park do not also justify the expenditure of money to make the park attractive and educational to those whose tastes are being formed and whose love of beauty is being cultivated. We have already quoted from the information the language in regard to the surroundings of the square. The counsel on both sides referred in argument to the well-known buildings which constitute these surroundings. Trinity church, the Museum of Fine Arts, the Boston Public Library, the New Old South Church, the Second Church of Boston and the buildings of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology — all face the beholder who stands on Copley square and looks around him. Some of these buildings are public in the ordinary sense of the word, and some of the corporations which own them have been beneficiaries of the Commonwealth on account of their quasi public character, and the public certainly feels an interest in them.

It is argued by the defendants that the Legislature, in passing this statute, was seeking to preserve the architectural symmetry of Copley square. If this is a fact, and if the statute is merely for the benefit of individual property owners, the purpose does not justify the taking of a right in land against the will of the owner. But if the Legislature, for the benefit of the public, was seeking to promote the beauty and attractiveness of a public park in the capital of the Commonwealth, and to prevent unreasonable encroachments upon the light and air which it had previously received, we cannot say that the law-making power might not determine that this was a matter of such public interest as to call for an expenditure of public money, and to justify the taking of private property.

While such a determination should not be made without careful consideration, and while the growing tendency towards the enlargement of the field of public expenditure should be jealously watched and carefully held in check, a determination of this kind once made by the Legislature cannot be lightly set aside.

It is contended that if the Legislature could take this right for the use of the public, it could not require the City of Boston to make compensation for it, but should have provided for the payment of damages from the treasury of the Commonwealth. This contention would limit too strictly the power of the Legislature in the distribution of public burdens. Very wide discretion is left with the law-making power in this particular. The Legislature may change the political sub-divisions of the Commonwealth by creating, changing or abolishing particular cities, towns or counties. It may require any of them to bear such share of the public burdens as it deems just and equitable. This right has been exercised in a great variety of ways. Kingman, petitioner, 153 Mass. 566, and cases and statutes there cited. It does not depend upon the clause of the Constitution which authorizes the imposition of taxes, but upon the more general provisions defining the power of the Legislature. While the interest to which this statute looks is public, it is largely local. A very large part of the public who are affected by the statute are citizens of Boston. The valuation of Boston is a large proportion of the valuation of the whole Commonwealth. The Legislature might well put the whole of this public burden upon the City of Boston.

It appears that on October 31, 1898, the Board of Park Commissioners voted "that the sculptured ornaments erected on the buildings * * * above the height of ninety feet, as shown in the plans thereof submitted to the Board, and in the building as now erected" be approved. (See THE CITY RECORD, Volume I, No. 45, page 646.) The building is rectangular and the height of its walls to the roof is ninety-six feet. The ceilings of the rooms in the upper story are a few inches above a horizontal line of a height of ninety feet and above these rooms there is an open air space extending to the roof a distance of about four feet measured on the inside of the outer walls of the building. The walls of the building are of brick and on the two sides fronting on the streets there is an ornamental facing of terra cotta, partly in relief, and extending from the line ninety feet in height upward to the roof, constituting the architrave frieze and cornice of the building, which are referred to in the vote of the Park Commissioners as "sculptured ornaments," and on the other two sides of the building the walls of a corresponding height are of plain brick. The question arises whether the approval of these ornaments by the Park Commissioners relieves the building from the prohibition of the statute. It seems to us very clearly that it does not. The prohibition against erecting a building above the height of ninety feet is absolute, except that certain erections which are usually above the substantial parts of the building, may, with the approval of the Park Commissioners, be "on any such building" above that height. These are "steeples, towers, domes, sculptured ornaments and chimneys." It is only as these become a part of the building by their erection upon it that any part of the building can be built to a greater height than ninety feet. The other parts of the building are left within the prohibition. But the ornaments put upon this building are not "erected on a" building constructed within the limits prescribed for it. We have a building with its solid brick walls extending six feet above the prescribed limit and its roof at the top, and an enclosure within.

The Park Commissioners, by their approval of certain sculptured ornaments on the face of the wall on two sides of the building, did not assume to approve the other parts of the building which constitute the solid structure and the statute gave them no authority to approve of other parts of it, or of the building as a whole. The statute intended that the main structure of the building should not extend above the prescribed line and that only the specified parts which should project above the building proper might, if approved, be erected on the building. It does not even permit roofs to be built above the line as did the statute of 1897, Chapter 378, which it repeals. What the Park Commissioners were authorized to do was to approve sculptured ornaments surmounting the ninety-foot building; what they have done is to approve the ornamentation of the architectural frieze or cornice of two of the four walls of a ninety-six foot building, leaving the other two walls unornamented ninety-six feet in height.

In reference to the building proper as distinguished from the ornamentation on the face of two of the walls the defendants can derive no advantage from the vote of the Park Commissioners.

It is contended by the defendants that the Attorney-General cannot maintain a suit in equity to enforce this statute. His right depends upon the construction put upon the statute.

We hold that the statute gives rights in the nature of an easement over lands facing Copley square which easement is annexed to the square for the benefit of the public, for whose use and enjoyment Copley square was laid out; and that these rights are similar in their nature to rights in highways, in great ponds, and in navigable waters of the Commonwealth. For a deprivation of such public rights, an individual, unless he has suffered damages different in kind from those to the public generally, cannot maintain an action. The Attorney-General, as a public officer, represents the public and may bring all proper suits to protect their rights.

The wrong alleged in the present case, if permitted, would work a permanent injury to the public, depriving them of that which the statute gives them. It is a purpresture which, while not in a strict and narrow sense a public nuisance, is in the nature of a public nuisance, is sometimes called a public nuisance, and in equity is to be dealt with as a public nuisance. Commonwealth vs. Wilkinson, 16 Pick. 175; Attorney-General vs. Boston Wharf Company, 12 Gray, 553; Jenks vs. Williams, 115 Mass. 217; Attorney-General vs. Woods, 108 Mass. 436; Attorney-General vs. Old Colony Railroad Company, 160 Mass. 62; People vs. Vanderbilt 26 N. Y. 287. In regard to the enforcement of rights given to the public and to other land-owners in lands reserved for their use by the Commonwealth, see Attorney-General vs. Algonquin Club, 153 Mass. 447-454; Attorney-General vs. Gardiner, 117 Mass. 492-499; Attorney-General vs. Williams, 140 Mass. 329, 330, 331. In England it is held that "the Attorney-General has a right to represent the public, either in equity or by prosecution at law, and in cases where the public interests are exposed to danger or mischief." Attorney-General vs. Birmingham, etc., Railway Company, 3 Macn. and G. 453; Attorney-General vs. Mid-Kent Railway Company, L. R. 3 Ch. 100; Attorney-General vs. Shrewsbury Bridge Company, 21 Ch. Div. 752; Attorney-General vs. Cuckermouth Local Board, L. R. 18 Eq. 172. In Attorney-General vs. Jamaica Pond Aqueduct Company, 133 Mass. 361-364, it was said, in reference to a great pond, that "where an aqueduct company proceeds to draw off water to such an extent as to injure or endanger the rights of the public therein, an information in equity would furnish the only adequate means of asserting and protecting the rights of the government and the people."

The case of Attorney-General vs. Abbott, 154 Mass. 323, under facts very similar to those of the present case, sustains the right of the Attorney-General to maintain an information in equity for the protection of public rights in land dedicated to the use of the public as a park. Of similar purport is Attorney-General vs. Tarr, 148 Mass. 309-314. His right in Attorney-General vs. Revere Copper Company, 152 Mass. 444, a similar case, was assumed. See also Attorney-General vs. Consumers' Gas Company, 142 Mass. 417; Attorney-General vs. Metropolitan Railroad Company, 125 Mass. 515. We are of the opinion that the Attorney-General is the proper party and that an information in equity is the proper form to proceed for the enforcement of public rights against encroachment like those threatened in the present case.

There remains to be considered one other objection to the right of the Attorney-General to maintain this suit. It is argued that by the Statute of 1894, Chapter 257, the City of Boston is given the right to enforce its building laws, that this remedy excludes all others, and that it applies to violations of the Statute of 1898, Chapter 452. It is true that when a statute provides a remedy for violations of it, the remedy is generally exclusive; but if it provides no remedy relief from wrongs against it is to be sought at common law. Andover Turnpike vs. Gould, 6 Mass. 40-44; Wylie vs. Yale, Met. 553; Elder vs. Bemis, 2 Met. 599-604; U. S. vs. Laescki, 29 Fed. Rep. 699, and cases cited. Statute 1894, Chapter 257, is as follows: "The Supreme Judicial Court, or any justice thereof, and the Superior Court, or any justice thereof, in term time or vacation, shall, on the application of the City of Boston, by its attorney, have jurisdiction in equity to enforce or prevent the violation of the provisions of the acts relating to the erection or alteration of buildings or other structures in the City of Boston, and may, on such application, restrain the erection, alteration, use or occupation of any such building or structure which is being or has been erected or altered in violation of any of the provisions of said acts."

It was passed in reference to the elaborate statutes then in force, enacted under the police power of the Legislature for the regulation of the erection of buildings in the City of Boston. Whether the words "acts relating to the erection or alteration of buildings or other structures in the City of Boston" were intended to include any new and independent acts of a kindred character that might afterwards be passed, as distinguished from existing acts and amendments to them, may well be questioned. The natural construction of the words would make them apply only to conditions then existing. The statute under which this information is brought, as we construe it, materially differs from the acts relative to the erection of buildings in the City of Boston existing when the previous statute was passed.

It was enacted for a different purpose. It creates public rights annexed to public property. It calls for the payment of damages for the taking of the interest in land and exacts the payments from the City of Boston. The city has a pecuniary interest against the enforcement of the law. The statute does not provide a remedy for its enforcement and therefore the remedy must be sought out at common law. The kind of remedy provided by the statute in regard to the building laws gives no security to the public for the protection of their rights, for the party to enforce it has an adverse interest and cannot be compelled to proceed. We are of opinion that the Statute of 1898, Chapter 452, was not intended to create rights enforceable only under the Statute of 1894, Chapter 257, but creates rights which are enforceable under general laws. In the opinion of a majority of the court the entry must be demurrer and pleas overruled.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The Board of Aldermen at its meeting on the thirtieth instant, voted to adjourn till Monday, November 13, 1899, at 3 P.M., and that all hearings on orders of notice assigned for a prior date be postponed accordingly.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held in the School Committee chamber, Mason street, at 7.30 P.M., on October 24, 1899, the President in the chair.

Present: All the members except Messrs. Aldrich, Bowdlear, Fleischer and Strange.

It was ordered, under suspension of the rules, that the Board authorize the employment of additional teachers in excess of the number or rank allowed under the rules, as presented by the Superintendent at the last meeting.

The appointments, confirmations and transfer presented by the Superintendent at the last meeting were approved.

On motion of Mr. Merritt, the Board proceeded to ballot for the following-named principals of evening drawing schools, for the term 1899-1900, to date from October 9, 1899:

Masters — George H. Bartlett, Arlington; George Jepson, Boston.

Principals — Charles L. Adams, Boston; Anson K. Cross, Ashland; Albert L. Ware, Cambridge.

There was no choice on the first ballot. On the second ballot the whole number of votes cast was fifteen; necessary for a choice, thirteen. The several masters and principals named had each fifteen votes, and they were accordingly declared elected for the term 1899-1900.

The following order, laid over under the rule at the last meeting, was passed:

Ordered, That the salary of the special teacher of phonography, typewriting, book-keeping, commercial geography and commercial law in the Brighton High School be fixed at the rate of $1,200 per annum.

Subsequently, the vote whereby the foregoing order was declared passed, was reconsidered.

The order was amended by adding the words "to date from October 16, 1899," and the order as amended passed.

The following order, laid over under the rule at the last meeting, was passed:

Ordered, That the salary of the janitor of the Benjamin Dean School be fixed at the rate of $780 per annum, to date from September 5, 1899, until otherwise ordered.

The following orders, laid over under the rule at the last meeting, were read, and successively passed:

(1.) That the salary of the janitor of the Parkman School, Silver street, be fixed at the rate of $300 per annum, to date from September 13, 1899, until otherwise ordered.

(2.) That the salary of the special teacher of drawing in the English High School be fixed at the rate of $2,500 per annum, to date from September 13, 1899.

(3.) That Thomas G. Rees, junior master in the Mechanic Arts High School, be placed upon the sixth year of service in his rank, to date from September 13, 1899.

(4.) That James Burrier, assistant, grammar school, in the Brimmer District, be placed upon the maximum salary of his rank, to date from September 13, 1899.

(5.) That the Committee on School-houses are hereby authorized to execute a contract with the Chandler Adjustable Chair and Desk Company in the sum of $837.80 for furnishing the Frederick A. Whitney School-house, said concern being the lowest bidder. (See page 726.)

(6.) That the Committee on New Buildings are hereby authorized to approve the payment to the Boston Electric Light Company of the sum of $75 for wiring for two exhaust fans and two fan motors at the Benjamin Dean School-house, South Boston.

The Chair read the following:

(1.) STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

The Board of Street Commissioners have to inform you that they have agreed with Albert K. Teele and Richard C. Humphreys, trustees, under the will of Edmund J. Baker, upon the sum of $859.50 as payment for their land on Dorchester avenue, at Dorchester, taken, for school purposes, by the City of Boston, September 16, 1896, and November 17, 1897 (takings recorded same dates), upon the said trustees giving to the city a deed for said land so taken satisfactory to the Law Department.

Respectfully,

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

(2.) STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

City Hall, October 17, 1899.

TO THE HONORABLE THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

The Street Commissioners beg leave to inform you that, in accordance with your request in the order received by the Board, on October 13, they took, and have this day recorded their taking of, about 20,000 square feet of land from William Clafin, on Parker, Willis and Caldwell streets, for the City of Boston, for school purposes.

Respectfully,

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

(3.) IN COMMON COUNCIL.

Passed. Sent up for concurrence.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

October 16.

Concurred.

Approved by the Mayor, October 19, 1899.

A true copy. Attest:

JOHN T. PRIEST, Asst. City Clerk.

(4.) OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 18, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

I desire to congratulate your Board upon the satisfactory manner in which the plan of assembling so large a proportion of the school children of the city upon Boston Common to greet Admiral Dewey, on his visit here, on October 14, was carried out. The difficulties in the way of carrying out the unique idea of assembling some 25,000 children in one spot, and getting them safely dispersed, without accident or disorder, must have been considerable, and I feel that the committee in charge, and the Secretary,

Mr. Apollonio, are entitled to commendation for the success of this important feature of the reception to Admiral Dewey by the City of Boston.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Mr. Berridge offered the following:

Resolved, That this Board hereby expresses its warm commendation of the manner in which the Special Committee on the Reception to Admiral Dewey carried out the school children's reception to the Admiral on Saturday, October 14, 1899, and congratulates the committee upon the successful accomplishment of the event, which proved to be one of the most impressive features of the day.

Adopted unanimously by rising vote.

The Superintendent of Schools presented the resignations of four teachers, which were accepted.

The Superintendent presented appointments, confirmations and transfer for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the rules and regulations, as follows:

(1.) The appointments of thirteen special assistants, which were laid over under the rule; (2) the appointments of ten temporary teachers, which were placed on file; (3) the reappointments of nine temporary teachers, which were laid over under the rule; (4) the appointments of fourteen teachers on probation; (5) the confirmation of ten teachers, which were laid over under the rule; and (6) the transfer of one teacher, which was approved under suspension of the rules.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments of instructors in the Evening High and Evening Elementary Schools for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the rules and regulations:

(1.) Of nine assistants and three special instructors in the Evening High School; (2) of five assistants in the Eliot School; of one first assistant in the Lincoln School; of two assistants in the Quincy School; and of one first assistant in the Washington Allston School, — all of which were approved by the Board under a suspension of the rules.

Leave of absence was granted to fourteen teachers.

The Superintendent presented appointments and transfer as follows, accompanied by written statements of the reasons for requesting a suspension of the regulations pertaining thereto:

(1.) The appointments of seven temporary teachers; (2) the reappointments of four temporary teachers; (3) the appointments of three teachers on probation — all of which were approved by the Board under suspension of the rules.

Subsequently, the Superintendent presented the following appointments: (1) The appointment of one special assistant, which was approved under suspension of the rules; (2) the appointment of one special teacher on probation, which was laid over under the rule.

On the recommendation of the Committee on New Buildings, it was Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner, through His Honor the Mayor, be requested to permit the use of the old engine-house on Mt. Vernon street, West Roxbury, for school purposes.

Reports from the same committee were accepted, as follows:

(1.) That they have hired the hall in the Club House, Centre street, Dorchester, at an expense not exceeding $5 per week for actual use thereof, for drill hall accommodations for the Dorchester High School; (2) that they have provided additional school accommodations for pupils in the Wells District, to date from October 25, 1899, by hiring a portion of the Presbyterian Church on Chambers street, at a rental of $800 per annum, the church to bear one-half the expense of constructing necessary partitions; (3) that they have hired the vestry of the Unitarian Church in the Longfellow District for kindergarten purposes, at a rental of $600 per annum, which amount includes heat and janitor service, to date from October 23, 1899; (4) that for several years temporary accommodations for pupils in the Eliot District have been provided in the Moon-street parochial building, at a cost of $55 per month per room. Recently it has been found practicable to give up two of the nine rooms thus occupied, but the rental of the remaining seven rooms has been increased $5 per month each, for the reason that the two rooms referred to are so situated as to prevent their use for other purposes while our occupancy of the other seven rooms continues. This change of rental dates from October 1, 1899; (5) that in connection with the construction of the new grammar school-house in the Chapman District, East Boston, it has been found necessary to make some arrangement for the disposal of the temporary building on said lot. The expense of removing this building to another site for further occupancy for school purposes would practically equal its original cost, and after making several efforts to dispose of it more advantageously your committee have authorized its removal by the contractor for the erection of the new school-house, for which an allowance of $100 will be made in his contract.

The appointment, reported by the Committee on School-houses, of Michael J. Crowley, as janitor of the Franklin Evening School, from September 25, 1899, was approved by the Board.

The same committee, to whom was referred, September 26, a petition signed by Charles S. Stone, M.D., et al., for improved sanitation of the Weston-street Primary School-house, reported that alterations and improvements have recently been made in the ventilating system of this school-house by running pipes from the vaults to the heating shafts, which discharge above the top of the building. Since the completion of these improvements no complaints have been received from any source with regard to the sanitary condition of the building, and your committee therefore recommend that no further action by the Board is required at the present time.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

Under a suspension of the rules it was ordered that the Committee on New Buildings be instructed to erect forthwith a two-room temporary building upon the lot at the corner of Adams and Chestnut streets, Charlestown; and that the sum of $3,200 be appropriated to cover the cost thereof.

The Committee on Accounts, to whom was referred, October 10, a communication from the Board of Aldermen requesting that transportation be provided for the teachers and scholars to and from Boston Common, on Saturday, October 14, on the occasion of the review by Admiral Dewey, reported that transportation to and from the Common was provided teachers and pupils who were not within walking distance, in accordance with arrangements made by the Special Committee in charge of the reception, on whose recommendation an order was passed at the meeting of the Board on October 10, making an appropriation to cover the cost of necessary expenses on the occasion referred to. Your committee recommend that the information contained in this report be transmitted to the Board of Aldermen.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to the Board of Aldermen.

It was ordered

(1.) That the amount due Olive J. Sawyer, deceased, late grammar assistant in the Harvard School District, be paid to her brother, Henry A. Sawyer.

(2.) That Frances Tully be paid $22.20 for services as temporary teacher of sewing in the Frothingham and Harvard Schools from June 10 to June 23, 1899, inclusive.

(3.) That the Committee on School-houses be requested to report to this Board at its next meeting a recommendation for a penal sum in the bond required of the School-house Agent under Section 103 of the Rules.

(4.) That there be paid to B. Cortisoz the sum of $33 for services rendered as temporary janitor of the Bigelow School, from September 1 to October 3, 1899, inclusive.

(5.) That the salary of the special teacher of drawing in the Dorchester High School be fixed at the rate of $1,200 per annum, to date from September 19, 1899.

(6.) That the Committee on School-houses be requested to provide additional sanitary arrangements for the Hawes Hall and Simonds School buildings, in the Bigelow District.

(7.) That an additional primary class be established in the Longfellow District, with daily sessions beginning at 12.45 o'clock P.M., and ending at 3.45 o'clock P.M.

(8.) That the next January and April examinations of candidates for teachers' certificates be omitted; that the time when women, in order to be certificated to teach in high schools shall have been college graduates, be extended till September 1, 1901; and that special examinations for filling vacancies be held, whenever the list of certificated teachers does not furnish suitable candidates for appointment.

(9.) That a special teacher of phonography, typewriting, book-keeping, commercial geography and commercial law be allowed in the Girls' High School.

The Chair read the following veto message from His Honor the Mayor:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 24, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

I feel obliged to return herewith without my approval the order passed by your Board, September 12, providing for the purchase or taking of a parcel of land on Huntington avenue, near the corner of Massachusetts avenue, as a site for the proposed new normal school-house. While the law requires the approval of the Mayor before the selection of a site for a new school-house by the School Committee can go into effect, I have not been disposed to use this power of disapproval unless in a very exceptional case, and have felt that the judgment of the School Committee as to what site was best from an educational standpoint should ordinarily be taken as final; on the other hand, the law would not have required the absolute approval of the Mayor before a school-house site could be purchased, unless with the intention of throwing an additional safeguard around the financial and general interests of the city.

While I have no disposition to question the conclusion of the School Committee that the western part of the Back Bay district is the best site for a normal school building, I believe that the selection of the proposed site involves such a large and entirely unnecessary waste of public money, and is so open to objection on other grounds, that I cannot conscientiously approve it.

While the Board of Street Commissioners has the right to take this lot by eminent domain and to leave the question of the settlement of a price to a jury, the city cannot prudently count upon having to pay less per foot for this land than the amount asked by the owner in his public proposal, in competition with other land. At the price thus fixed by him ($5.50 per foot), the cost of this lot would be $165,000. I will not undertake to say that this price per foot is more than the land is worth, because that must be largely a matter of opinion, though the fact is on public record that the larger parcel of land, containing the lot now offered, changed hands not long before the offer was made to the School Committee at a considerably lower rate per foot. But I take the position very confidently that there is no sort of need for the city to pay anything like this price to obtain an entirely satisfactory lot of land, and one better located from an educational standpoint, within a very short distance of the site selected. If a lot containing as much as 30,000 feet is properly required for the normal school building, I believe that this can easily be obtained $50,000 to $75,000 cheaper; and if the size of the lot is reduced to 20,000 feet, which I am inclined to believe amply sufficient for a normal school building as large as it is desirable for the city to build, a large additional saving could be effected. I am fully satisfied that not less than half of the proposed expenditure of $165,000 is unnecessary and unwarrantable, and that it would represent, if made, only a waste of public money to that extent.

In considering the question of the amount of land required for a normal school building, it must be borne in mind that it differs entirely from the ordinary school of lower grade in that a large yard is not required for purposes of play, and in considering the accommodations which such a school building should provide, it should be remembered that our present normal school accommodations graduate a much larger number of teachers than can easily be provided with places in our public schools. I take it that it will not be claimed that the City of Boston is called upon to give a free education and special training to teachers at large expense, except for the purpose of supplying its own schools.

But even the present accommodations of the normal school have turned out graduates in such numbers that 300 of them are to-day awaiting an opportunity to find places in our public schools.

At the present rate of appointment, it would take six years to find places for such graduates. Even if the policy were followed of absolutely confining appointments as teachers in our public schools to graduates of the Boston Normal School, there would not be more than seventy-five vacancies a year at the outside. I may fairly assume that it is not the intention of the School Committee to provide for erecting a normal school-house designed to accommodate a larger number of pupils than would annually graduate enough teachers to supply the vacancies in our public schools, with a reasonable allowance for future growth; at any rate, I could not approve plans for a larger building, as it seems to me not only a waste of money, but a positive wrong, to hold out expectations of employment to larger numbers than could possibly be provided with places. The Superintendent of Schools, in reply to my inquiry, informs me that in his opinion a building sufficient to accommodate 200 pupils would supply all possible wants of the city in connection with securing teachers for its own schools. Such a building ought to be built for about $100,000, and argument is hardly necessary to prove that it is not financially justifiable, in a section of the city having so much vacant land, to pay $165,000 for a site for a $100,000 school building. Without undertaking to indicate any particular parcels of land, it is not necessary to go farther than the other bids received by the School Committee, or than facts in the possession of every real estate broker having to do with property in that district of the city, to establish the fact that suitable sites could be found within a quarter of a mile of that selected at a very much lower price.

Doubtless the basis for the high price charged for this land is to be found in the fact that it has a large frontage upon an important thoroughfare—Huntington avenue. I believe that the large frontage is entirely unnecessary for this purpose, and that the location upon a main thoroughfare with lines of electric cars is a positive and serious disadvantage. I cannot believe any competent educational authorities would say that it was advisable to locate a school building of this character upon a main thoroughfare; at an rate, the Superintendent of Schools, in response to my inquiry, informs me that he considers the location improper and objectionable on account of the noise of passing cars and traffic.

A normal school building should of course be readily accessible by street car lines from different parts of the city, but this does not mean that it should be situated directly on a main thoroughfare; if it is within a few minutes walk of a street car line, that should be entirely sufficient.

For the above reasons, which might be elaborated at greater length and with further details, but which seem to me entirely sufficient, even thus briefly and generally stated, I am unable to approve the site selected.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

July 31, 1899.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested to take, by purchase or otherwise, for a site for a new normal school-house, a parcel of land supposed to belong to R. J. Campbell, and bounded and described as follows: North-west by Huntington Avenue about 250 feet; north-east by land supposed to belong to Joseph Feldman about 120 feet; south-east by a sixteen foot passageway leading from Gainsborough street about 250 feet; and south-west by land supposed to belong now or formerly to Franklin Haven, jr., et al., trustees, about 120 feet; containing 30,000 square feet more or less.

Laid on the table.

Passed—yeas, 12; nays, 8.

THORNTON D. APOLLONIO, Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on New Buildings.

SUNDAY EVENING CONCERTS.

The first of the Sunday evening municipal concerts for the season of 1899-1900, under the auspices of the Music Commission, was given on Sunday evening, October 29, 1899, at Music Hall before a large and appreciative audience. This concert was a continuation of the series of orchestral concerts inaugurated last season.

The orchestra has been enlarged from thirty-five to fifty performers, under the direction of Mr. Emil Mollenhauer, and on Sunday evening was assisted by M. Vladimir de Pachmann, pianist, whose playing aroused much enthusiasm. The entire programme was of a high order of excellence.

A series of six concerts on successive Sunday evenings has already been arranged for, and, if these are well attended, others will undoubtedly be given. On next Sunday the orchestra will be assisted by Miss Luise Leimer, contralto, and Mr. David Bispham, baritone.

DEATH OF EX-POLICE OFFICER MAXWELL.

The death of Mr. Charles B. Maxwell, a retired police officer of Boston, occurred at his home, 337 Warren street, Roxbury, Thursday morning, October 26, 1899.

Mr. Maxwell was born in Vermont in 1831. He came to Boston when quite young, and at the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion joined Nims' Battery, serving three years, and receiving honorable mention for bravery. For many years he was connected with the old Boston Fire Department.

In 1864 Mr. Maxwell was appointed a member of the police force. He was connected at different periods with several divisions of the Department, and in 1890, on account of physical disability, was retired from the force.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

City Hall, October 26, 1899.

The fifty-fourth meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held at the Mayor's office, City Hall, on Thursday, October 26, 1899, at 2.30 P.M.

Present: All the members.

Mr. Dore, for the sub-committee, appointed October 12 to obtain prices and terms from owners of land adjacent to the Insane Hospital grounds, reported that the committee had secured the following offer from Mr. James J. Costello:

Boston, October 25, 1899.

JOHN P. DORE, Esq., Chairman, Sub-committee of Board of Apportionment.

DEAR SIR: In reply to the request of your committee, permit me to say that the price which I gave you, namely, twenty-five cents per square foot for the 840,821 square feet of land on Walk Hill and Harvard streets, Ward 23, and adjoining Pierce Farm, which is land of the City of Boston, I desire to revise, and now offer it at twenty cents per square foot.

Yours truly,

JAMES J. COSTELLO.

On motion, it was voted that Mr. Costello be invited to appear before the Board to state his position in regard to the sale of his land more fully, and he appeared accordingly.

Corporation Counsel Bailey, City Solicitor Babson and Mr. John C. Cobb, real estate expert, were also sent for by the Board and their views asked in regard to the price of land in the vicinity of the Insane Hospital grounds, and as to the best policy for the city to follow in acquiring the same.

On motion of Mr. Barry, the Board took from the files the request of the City Clerk, contained in the annual loan estimates submitted on January 31, for an appropriation of $2,500 for new document files.

A hearing was given in regard to the matter, and Acting City Clerk John T. Priest was heard.

The Board then went into executive session.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to make a loan appropriation for metallic file cases for the City Clerk's office.

The request of the City Clerk and the communication from Mayor Quincy were placed on file, and Mr. Barry moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of two thousand (2,000) dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the City Clerk in purchasing metallic file cases; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

The order was passed — yeas, 5:

Yeas — Messrs. Dore, Barry, Minot, Kiley and Mayor Quincy — 5.

The order was signed by all the members of the Board, they certifying upon the original order that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

Adjourned, on motion of Mr. Kiley, at 5.47 P.M., to meet on Friday, October 27, 1899, at 2 P.M.

City Hall, October 27, 1899.

The fifty-fifth meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held at the Mayor's office, City Hall, on Friday, October 27, 1899, at 2 P.M.

Present: All the members.

The records of the last two meetings were approved, their reading being dispensed with on motion of Mr. Barry.

The Board took up the following past assignment:

Communication from the Board of Health requesting a loan appropriation of $2,400 for a telephone cable between Long and Gallup's Islands.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to make a loan appropriation for a telephone cable between Long and Gallup's Islands.

The communications were placed on file, and Mr. Dore moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-four hundred (2,400) dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the Board of Health, in purchasing and laying a telephone cable from Long Island to Gallup's Island; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

The order was passed — yeas, 5:

Yeas — Messrs. Dore, Barry, Minot, Kiley and Mayor Quincy — 5.

The order was signed by all the members of the Board, they certifying upon the original order that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

The following communication was received from Mr. James J. Costello:

TO THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT:

Boston, October 27, 1899.

GENTLEMEN: I have considered your offer of fifteen cents per square foot for the land bounded by Walk Hill and Harvard streets, land of the City of Boston, and land of Fottler, and I must decline to accept the same, for the reason that I do not consider it a fair price. I could have bonded this land two or three times within the past year at a price in excess of this figure, and got a substantial amount as the price of the bond. The price I first gave your committee was twenty-five cents; I then reduced it to twenty cents, making a difference of $42,000. I thought then, and do now, that said price (twenty cents) is a fair one. I will now agree to split the difference between your figures (fifteen cents) and my last one (twenty cents) and call it seventeen and one-half cents. This means a drop of about $63,000 from my original price, and is the best that I can do. Terms to be as stated yesterday.

Respectfully,

JAMES J. COSTELLO.

On motion of Mr. Minot, it was Voted, That Mr. Costello be notified that the Board refuses to accept the offer contained in his communication of to-day, and that he be requested to confer with the Board.

On motion, it was voted that Mr. George W. Seaverns be invited to appear before the Board to state his position in regard to the sale of his land for the use of the Insane Hospitals, and he appeared accordingly.

At the conclusion of the conference with Mr. Seaverns, Mr. James J. Costello, in accordance with the vote printed above, appeared before the Board.

The Board then went into executive session.

Mr. Dore moved the adoption of the following:

Voted, That this Board make an appropriation for the purchase of the Costello-Callahan lot, situated at the corner of Walk Hill and Harvard streets, adjacent to Pierce Farm, and containing 846,661 square feet, more or less, at fifteen cents per foot, $20,000 to be paid in cash and the balance to be subject to a mortgage, to run for three years and to be subject to payment by the city at any time during said period, the rate of interest thereon to be 4½ per cent., Mr. Costello having agreed to accept these terms.

The vote was passed — yeas, 5:

Yeas — Messrs. Dore, Barry, Minot, Kiley, and Mayor Quincy — 5.

On motion of Mr. Barry, another conference was had with Mr. George W. Seaverns, after which, it was unanimously Voted, That the Board make an appropriation for the purchase, at a price of $100,000, of the two lots of land owned by George W. Seaverns, one situated between Canterbury and Harvard streets, adjacent to Austin Farm, and containing 209,880 square feet, more or less, and the other situated on the west side of Morton street, between Canterbury and Harvard streets, and containing 523,569 square feet, more or less, $3,000 of said amount to be paid down, and the balance to be subject to a mortgage, to run for a period of three years and to be subject to the right of the city to pay the said mortgage at any time within said period, the interest on such mortgage to be at the rate of 4 per cent., Mr. Seaverns having agreed to accept these terms.

The Board took up the following unfinished business.

Request of Representative Michael J. Sullivan, on behalf of a committee of the South Boston Citizen's Association, for a hearing in relation to a new fence around Independence square, South Boston.

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the Board to make an appropriation for improving Independence square, South Boston.

The request of the South Boston Citizen's Association and the communication from Mayor Quincy were placed on file, and Mr. Barry moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of twelve hundred (1,200) dollars be expended by the Superintendent of Public Grounds for improvements in Independence square, South Boston; and that to meet the said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

Assigned to the next meeting, on motion of Mr. Kiley.

Adjourned, on motion of Mr. Kiley, at 4.18 P.M., to meet on Monday, October 30, at 11 A.M.

UNDERGROUND CONVENIENCE STATION, BOSTON COMMON.

PUBLIC CONVENIENCE STATION, BOSTON COMMON.

The free underground convenience station for men and women, located at the Park street entrance of the Boston Common, which will be opened on Monday, November 6, 1899, is the first of its kind in the city.

The station has been built under a loan of $10,000, authorized by the City Council, and approved by His Honor the Mayor on November 21, 1898, and a further loan of $5,000 authorized on February 27, 1899 by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The work of construction has been under the direction of the Bath Commission of the City of Boston, Mr. Thomas J. Lane, Chairman, in accordance with plans prepared by the Engineering Department, Architectural Division, Mr. Frank W. Howard, Chief of Division.

The contract for the station was awarded to Messrs. Woodbury & Leighton, builders, work being commenced on July 12, 1899.

It will be seen from the accompanying sketches that the station is divided into two compartments, one for women and the other for men. Provision is made on the women's side for nine closets and four wash-bowls, and on the men's side for nine closets, fifteen urinals and two wash-bowls.

A feature, to which attention is called, is the plumbing space located centrally between the two compartments. In this space are all the plumbing and heating pipes, valves, etc., which are readily accessible for repairs in case of accident, without injury to any other parts of the station. Another feature is the Guastavino construction of the arched and domed roof. This construction is a layer of tiles, one upon another, and is self-supporting. The tiles showing in the station are of a light olive green color, which gives a pleasing effect to the eye.

Knoxville marble has been used entirely for the partitions, walls, cappings, slabs, etc., and the same have been carefully put up and secured with nickel plated trimmings.

The floor of the station is terrazzo, ornamented with a mosaic border, Greek fret pattern.

The plumbing fixtures are the best in the market and have been carefully selected from a sanitary point of view. A feature to be noted is the doing away of wooden seats on the closets. The closets and urinals can be flushed by hand, but the plumbing system as put in, is so arranged that they flush themselves automatically at frequent intervals. The doors to the closets have been so arranged as to be kept open by spring hinges when the closets are not in use. The wash-bowls are supplied with both hot and cold water. Bibb cocks have been placed at convenient points on both sides of the station for washing out the same with a hose, and ample arrangements have been made for cesspools with sanitary traps to carry off the washings.

The station is heated by a hot water heater, located in the centre of the plumbing space, but attended to from the men's side. This heater not only warms the station, but also furnishes hot water to the different wash bowls, and for washing out the place. The coal-bin is located under the stairs on the men's side, the coal being deposited in the bin through a coal-scuttle coming to the level of the sods, with proper cover on top.

During the day the station is well lighted by four hammered glass skylights, located centrally over each compartment. At night Welsbach lights are used.

Ventilation is obtained through a ventilator located directly over the plumbing space, and carried up above the ground in the shape of a very handsomely detailed copper shaft. In this shaft is also accommodated the smoke pipe from the heater, the hot water tank, dampers, etc.

The compartments are reached by broad flights of granite stairs, with polished granite side slabs. Surrounding these entrance stairs on both sides is an ornate wrought-iron fence.

It is intended to grade over and sod the station carefully, leaving the location in a first-class and slightly conditon,

Saturday forenoon Lord Mayor Tallon was escorted over City Hall, and later in the day was shown the park system and some of Boston's public buildings. In the evening an elaborate banquet was given the visitors by the city at Hotel Bellevue.

On Sunday evening a public meeting was held at the Boston Theatre, at which a large sum of money was realized towards the erection of the proposed Parnell monument. The meeting was largely attended by a sympathetic audience, and addresses were made by Hon. P. J. Flatley, of the local Parnell Monument Association, His Honor Mayor Quincy, Lord Mayor Tallon, Mr. John Redmond, M.P., Mr. William Temple Emmett, of the Parnell Committee of New York and Mr. E. H. Capen, President of Tufts College. Previous to the public meeting a parade in honor of the visitors was participated in by various interested organizations.

Insane Hospital Additional Land.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 30, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith an order passed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment at its meeting to-day appropriating the sum of $24,000 for the purchase of the equity in certain parcels of land lying immediately adjacent to, or near, Austin and Pierce Farms. The unanimous passage of this order by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is the result of its long consideration of the urgent requests of the Insane Hospital Trustees that additional lands for the use of that institution should be secured without delay. The total area of the land included in the parcels which would be purchased under the terms of this order is about thirty-four acres, and the total purchase price, under the arrangement concluded by the Board of Apportionment is about $226,000.

As only $24,000 of this amount is to be paid down, the parcels of land would be taken subject to mortgages aggregating $202,000, such mortgages being placed upon the land prior to the transfer of title to the city, so that the city is not liable thereon; and the right to prepay such mortgages in full is also reserved, so that mortgage interest can be stopped at any time that the remainder of the purchase money can be appropriated. These parcels of land are included within the lines of a comprehensive and carefully prepared plan for the enlargement of the property of the Insane Hospital, fixed upon by the Trustees after consultation with a committee of leading experts connected with the management of insane hospitals elsewhere, and the purchase of these parcels is now provided for because it is believed that they are the most urgently needed, and that there is the greatest danger that they will pass out of the hands of present owners for development in house lots, if not acquired by the city. While the policy of purchasing land subject to mortgage is not one which should ordinarily be pursued by the city, it seemed to the members of the Board of Apportionment, after full consideration, that the great importance to the future of the Boston Insane Hospital of enlarging the area of its land fully warranted, in this instance, the purchase of the equity in these parcels, leaving the amount of the mortgages to be appropriated in future.

A very substantial reduction from the prices asked for these lands was secured by the Board through negotiation, and its members believe that they have negotiated terms which are much lower than the city would in all probability have been obliged to pay later for these parcels of land, which are considered by the Trustees to be essential to the proper development of the hospital, and to the adoption of the policy of caring for a much larger proportion of the insane, for whose support the city is chargeable in our own city institution.

Respectfully submitted.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

October 30, 1899.

Ordered, That the sum of $24,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated for the purchase of the equity in the lot of land situated on Morton street, and in the lot of land situated on Austin street, West Roxbury, adjoining the Austin Farm, and both belonging to George W. Seaverns, and also for the purchase of the equity in the lot of land on the corner of Walk Hill and Harvard streets, adjoining the Pierce Farm, and belonging in part to James J. Costello and in part to John F. Callahan; that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose; and that the Insane Hospital Trustees expend said appropriation for said purpose.

Information About Garbage Plant.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 30, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith, as requested by an order passed by your Board at its last meeting, a copy of a communication addressed by the Board of Health to the Superintendent of Streets, relative to the garbage plant at Cow Pasture, under date of August 25 last.

This communication received the prompt and careful consideration of the Superintendent of Streets, in consultation with the City Engineer and myself, and we visited the garbage plant together a few days after it was received. The position taken by the Superintendent of Streets, with my approval, was verbally communicated to the Board of Health within a few days, and shortly afterwards conditions materially improved and have not since been regarded as sufficiently serious to call for radical action, particularly in view of the fact that the contracting company was, and still is, laboring to some extent under the disadvantage of having been unable to fully replace its plant in the condition in which it was prior to the fire which seriously damaged it in February last. It is certainly a fact of vital importance in connection with this matter that, although the garbage plant was in full operation from November 15, last year, no complaint of offensive odors from it was made, so far as I am aware, until many months afterwards, and subsequent to the date when an important portion of the plant had been destroyed by fire.

This would certainly seem to indicate that it was, and still is, possible to conduct the operations of the plant in such manner as not to be "objectionable to the public health or comfort." Up to the time of this fire, I think that all of the city authorities connected with the matter regarded the plant as a decided success as supplying a sanitary and unobjectionable means of disposing of garbage. As the Superintendent of Streets therefore considered that it had been demonstrated in the past that this plant was capable of meeting the expectations of his Department, he naturally felt inclined to make every effort to have it brought back to the same conditions before taking any radical action under the contract, which might result in compelling the city to go back to discarded and objectionable methods of disposing of its garbage — and this position was taken by him with my full approval.

The examination above referred to, made at the end of August, led to the conclusion that the odor complained of must come chiefly from the raw garbage upon the scows, prior to its entering the plant, or from the pressed tankage made up of the residue of the garbage left after the extraction of grease and water therefrom. Measures were promptly taken to deodorize the raw garbage by treating it with a suitable disinfectant while in the carts in which it is gathered, and before its collection in large masses, and these efforts seemed to meet with success. It is believed that the main cause of complaint has been due to odors from the pressed tankage placed upon the scows prior to removal.

The necessity of removing this tankage, instead of drying and grinding it within the building as formerly, for use as a fertilizer base, — which is intended to constitute one of the main products of the manufacturing operation, — arises from the fact that the dryers formerly used were destroyed in the fire referred to. The representative of the contractor states that the order for new dryers was placed shortly after the fire, and that no expense or effort has been spared to secure their delivery and installation, but that this has been delayed, owing to the overcrowded condition of the iron and steel industry and the impossibility of securing prompt attention to orders. It is stated, however, that the dryers are now promised within a very short time. It should be noted in this connection that the arrangements for completely disposing of the vapor and odors from the digestors seemed to be working perfectly satisfactorily, and it does not seem to be claimed that any odors of this character are detected, although these would be the most objectionable, and are the most difficult to control.

It should further be stated in connection with this matter that the identical process in use at Cow Pasture has for some time been in satisfactory operation in the cities of New York and Philadelphia, and I have been furnished with recent statements from officials of both of these cities expressing entire satisfaction with the sanitary conditions connected with the operation of these plants.

In view of this situation, it has not seemed to the Superintendent of Streets or to myself that the city would yet be warranted in taking the position that this plant cannot be operated in accordance with the provisions of the contract, or that the company can as yet be fairly placed in the position of being either unable or unwilling to operate this plant in a thoroughly sanitary manner. While it cannot be denied that unfortunate conditions have existed at times during the summer season, it has certainly been demonstrated that conditions formerly complained of could be materially improved, and I believe that all concerned should at least await the installation of the new dryers and the resumption of normal operation of the plant before calling for radical action. If the garbage plant cannot be operated in its present location without being "objectionable to the public health or comfort," it will have to be abolished or removed; but the importance of its operation to the city is such that no objections should be allowed much weight unless they are based upon solid and substantial grounds. It should further be noted that the great bulk of the complaints, particularly those made recently, have come from a small number of persons living in a very limited area of territory, and that at least some of the complaints have been fixed at times when the direction of the wind has been such that it would seem physically impossible for smells to have travelled in the direction claimed.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Old Court House, August 25, 1899.

BENJAMIN W. WELLS, Esq., Superintendent of Streets.

DEAR SIR: The Board of Health respectfully begs to call your attention to the following facts concerning the garbage plant adjoining the pumping station at Cow Pasture, Dorchester District, and recommends such immediate action on your part as the terms of the contract between the City of Boston and the New England Product Company may seem to you to demand.

This garbage plant was installed and called into use November 15, 1898. Complaints of offensive odors from said plant began to be made early in the present summer. The Board of Health made a thorough investigation and found that the offensive odors from this garbage plant were reaching distances of over one mile, and that the complaints of the residents of Dorchester and elsewhere were well founded. Hearings were given by the Board of Health to the complainants and to the officers of the New England Sanitary Product Company early in July. Promises were made to the Board of Health by the officers of the said company to so alter and repair the plant as to do away with any nuisance, and that such repairs and alterations should be completed on or before August 1, 1899. This time was granted as requested, and the officers of the company reported the work as completed about the first of August.

Nevertheless, these alterations in the plant and the assurances of its management that its condition was then such as to control the odors, the complaints from the residents of Dorchester and elsewhere have continued with increasing frequency and force down to the present date. The Board of Health has diligently traversed the territory, within range of the odors complained of, by day and by night, with a view of estimating the degree of nuisance and with an earnest hope that the alterations in the plant would be found to be successful in so far diminishing the nuisance as to make the plant tolerable to the people living in the vicinity.

The Board of Health now, however, feels bound by its convictions and obligations to report to you that the said garbage plant at Cow Pasture has been for several months and is now, causing such offensive odors to the inhabitants of Dorchester, South Boston and elsewhere as to warrant it in declaring the said plant to be "objectionable to the public health or comfort" within the meaning of the terms of the contract between the City of Boston and the New England Sanitary Product Company, and to call for immediate action on the part of yourself under the following terms of the said contract, (Article 3, Section E.)

"Carry on all said work in such manner that the appearance, smell and use of said scows and their loads and the appearance, smell and operation of said plant and the taking of any substances, materials, residues or waste, to or from said island and the depositing or keeping of any part thereof, in any place, will not be objectionable to the public health or comfort.

(Article 9.) "If the contractor, from any cause, except fire or extraordinary ice in the water surrounding the city or in Boston harbor, or process of law, or other extraordinary or unavoidable cause as aforesaid, shall fail for more than five successive days, to remove or to cremate or render said garbage as required in this contract, or to dispose of the residue or waste thereof as so required, the Superintendent acting for the city by notice in writing to that effect, signed by him and approved by the Board of Health of said city and the Mayor, given to the contractor or mailed to him at the business address given by him to the Superintendent, may cancel this contract, or using any labor, materials, implements or machinery of the contractor with any others he may deem necessary, and by day labor, contract or otherwise, without further notice, may take possession of the plant and any scows of the contractor he may desire, forcibly if necessary, and thereafter do the things required in this contract of the contractor; and in case that such cancellation or the taking possession of the property and doing things as aforesaid any expenses, losses or damages incurred by the city in each and every month of said term of ten years in removing and disposing of the garbage, to be removed by the contractor under his contract, over and above the amount which would have been paid to the contractor by this contract, shall be paid to the city by the contractor."

Very respectfully,

The Board of Health,

SAMUEL H. DURGIN, Chairman.

IX. While the polls remain open an officer of rank will visit the polling places in each division at stated intervals, to be designated by the captain, and in case of any disturbance will report the fact to the commanding officer at the station-house without delay. If additional men are needed beyond the number available in that division, the officers in charge will communicate immediately with headquarters.

X. Special attention is called to the circular issued by the Board of Election Commissioners, entitled: "Instructions to Police Officers detailed for Duty at the Polling Places on Election Days."

Green, of the Massachusetts Historical Society, Edward G. Porter, President of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, and Charles F. Adams, was opened and read:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 19, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF CEMETERY TRUSTEES:

GENTLEMEN: I transmit herewith petition, with accompanying letters and plans, which are self-explanatory, and should be glad to have your Board consider this request at an early date. I see no reason myself why it should not be granted.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The petition of the Victorian Club is as follows:

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In commemoration of faithfulness to duty, it is proposed by the Victorian Club of the City of Boston to erect a monument to the memory of the British officers and soldiers who fell at the battle of Bunker Hill.

On behalf of the above named club, recognizing the commendable growth of kindly feeling between the British and American nations, we the duly appointed committee, lay before your Honor this petition, requesting that a site be granted us in the Central Burying Ground (where tradition indicates some of the deceased were buried), that we may place thereon a shaft of Quincy granite or Gaelic cross permanent in its character and dignified in its design, that it may witness to American chivalry toward those who are no longer enemies, and whose fellow-countrymen are proven friends; and also to render tardy honor to the memory of brave men of different nationalities who were faithful unto death.

Absolutely non-political in its character and location, the inscription would simply read:

In memory of the British officers and soldiers, some of whom are here buried, who fell in the discharge of their military duties at the battle of Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775.

The names of the deceased and the regiments engaged would appear upon the pedestal.

Regarding this proposed monument as one of the refinements of peace and civilization, and believing that you will realize the fitness of our purpose and the reasonableness of our request, we pray the granting of our petition by yourself and the committee having charge of the Central Burying-ground.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours respectfully,

S. B. ELLIOTT, M.D.,

President Victorian Club.

THOMAS T. STOKES,

B. B. USHER,

Committee on Monument.

Voted, That the petition of the Victorian Club, forwarded with the sanction of His Honor the Mayor, be granted.

DEATH OF PATROLMAN BROWN.

Patrolman Moses P. Brown, of Division 5, one of the oldest men on the police force in point of service, died suddenly Sunday afternoon, November 5, 1899, while on duty.

Patrolman Brown was born in Moultenboro', N.H., June 22, 1839, and was appointed on the police force in December, 1864, and assigned to Division 5, where his entire thirty-five years of service had been spent.

THE FIRST BOSTON GYMNASIUM.

It would appear that the first public gymnasium of any note in the United States was the Boston Gymnasium. The "Medical Intelligencer" for October 3, 1826, has the following: "The Boston Gymnasium was opened on Thursday last (i.e., September 28), at 6 o'clock in the morning, for exercise and instruction. The principal instructor is Charles Follen, LL.D., a pupil of the celebrated Jahn. The assistant instructor is George F. Turner, A.B., of Virginia, recently a distinguished pupil in the gymnasium at Cambridge."

On March 13, 1826, a petition of William Sullivan and others, asking for the "use of a piece of land not exceeding one acre in extent, at the junction of Boylston, Pleasant and Charles streets, for two years from the first day of May next, for the purpose of establishing a school for gymnastic instruction and exercise," was favorably received by the Board of Aldermen of Boston.

The matter was referred to a joint committee, consisting of Aldermen Welsh, Oliver and Loring, and Councilmen Bassett, Rice, Farnsworth and Bent.

On April 17 the Aldermen, and the Common Council in concurrence, granted the petition on the ground that the contemplated institution was to be "of a public nature and for the use of all citizens."

To the Boston City Government of 1826 belongs the credit of granting first aid towards the establishment of the first public gymnasium in the United States.

"Gentlemen of the first respectability" were enlisted in the cause, as is evidenced by the fact that Daniel Webster wrote a letter favoring the scheme, and by the names of the committee charged to solicit contributions and apply them to the establishment of a "gymnastic school." The committee consisted of Dr. John C. Warren, George Ticknor, Dr. John G. Coffin, John S. Foster, Thomas Motley, Josiah Quincy, and John B. Davis. The public meeting, which resulted in the appointment of this committee, was held at the Exchange Coffee House, June 15, 1826. A full report of the meeting, signed by its secretary Charles P. Curtis, appears in the "Boston Daily Advertiser" of June 19. The "Advertiser" of July 24 notes that only thirty shares at $20, of the 250 offered by the committee had thus far been taken.

The difficulty of securing the amount of money desired may serve to account for the fact that the Boston Gymnasium was opened out of doors, after the German fashion, in the Washington Gardens, on the northern corner of Tremont and West streets, instead of on the land whose use had been granted by the City Government. The gymnasium opened with a distinguished list of about 200 pupils. The patrons increased to 400 in number within the first year, and dwindled to four in the course of the second year, it is said.

Both Dr. Follen and Dr. Francis Lieber, who succeeded him in July, 1827, were trained gymnasts, in the school of Jahn, and had left Germany as political refugees. Dr. Lieber came to America from London for the express purpose of taking charge of the Boston Gymnasium, and of establishing a swimming-school. The swimming-school established by Dr. Lieber was continued for many years under the name Braman's Baths. He was warmly recommended by Father Jahn himself, who declined the overtures made to him to assume direction of the Boston Gymnasium. "But," as has been said by another, "no talent could keep the gymnasium alive after the novelty had ceased, and some of the gymnasts had been caricatured in the print-shops."

TEMPORARY MALDEN BRIDGE, MYSTIC RIVER.

Following is a communication from Secretary of War Root to His Honor Mayor Quincy, approving plans for the construction of the proposed temporary bridge across Mystic river:

BOSTON SOCIETY OF MUNICIPAL OFFICERS.

The first annual meeting of the Boston Society of Municipal Officers was held at the Mayor's office, October 25, 1899. Various reports were read and officers for the ensuing year were elected (see THE CITY RECORD, No. 44, page 726). Following is the Secretary's annual report, submitted by Mrs. Alice N. Lincoln of the Pauper Institutions Trustees:

The Boston Society of Municipal Officers was organized on January 17, 1899, and the Constitution and By-laws were submitted to the officials of the City of Boston in accordance with a circular issued by His Honor the Mayor.

The first regular meeting of the Society was held on Wednesday, March 8, at Young's Hotel. Mayor Quincy presided and thirty-eight members were present.

The Mayor spoke of the advantage it would be to promote a personal acquaintance between those who were serving the city in the various departments, and the purposes of the society were briefly outlined as follows:

(1.) To stimulate outside interest in the affairs of Boston.

(2.) To promote a better civic spirit.

(3.) To interest a larger number of people in the work which the city has to do.

The Mayor stated that it was intended that the society should discuss questions relating to municipal subjects from an expert standpoint, and viewed in this light it has large possibilities of usefulness.

At this meeting an informal vote was taken, which resulted in the choice of Wednesday afternoon for the regular day on which future meetings should be held.

Prior to the next meeting of the Society a formal vote was taken concerning the day of meeting, with the same result, viz., that the largest number of votes was cast in favor of Wednesday afternoon.

The second meeting of the Boston Society of Municipal Officers was held at the Public Library on Boylston street on April 15. Through the courtesy of the Trustees of the Library a thorough inspection of its rooms was allowed, and Mr. Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress, delivered a most interesting address on the "Use and Scope of the Library." Thirty-two members and three guests were present. Thirty-five present in all.

The third regular meeting of the society was held at the Parker House on May 10.

Prof. William T. Sedgwick, Vice-president of the Society, addressed the members on the subject of "Dust, Smoke and Gas in Boston." Professor Sedgwick stated that the prevalence of dust storms in Boston is largely due to macadamized streets, and that there is need of more asphalt paving. Professor Sedgwick also stated that Boston is threatened with some of the conditions prevailing in Western cities in regard to smoke. The volume of smoke, poured out by many chimneys, diminishes the light and increases the dirt. The dangerous conditions of water gas were also touched upon. Twenty members were present.

The fourth and last regular meeting of the Boston Society of Municipal officers was held at Long Island, Boston Harbor, and included a visit to the Pauper Institutions of Long Island, and several brief addresses were made by Mrs. Lincoln, Secretary of the Society, on the "History of Long Island"; Mr. Ernest C. Marshall, Penal Institutions Commissioner, on the "Life and Benevolent Bequest of Mr. Randidge, the Founder of the Randidge Excursions for Poor Children," and Mr. James F. Wise, on the subject of a "Municipal Camp for Boys."

Thirty-five members and guests were present.

With this occasion the regular meetings for the season came to a close, and the society adjourned until the second Wednesday in October.

The society now numbers nearly ninety members, representing most of the departments of the City of Boston. It is hoped that during the ensuing year a larger number of the institutions under the care of the various departments may be visited, to familiarize the officials with all branches of the public service.

The retiring Secretary wishes to thank the members of the Society, and especially of the Executive Committee, for their assistance and co-operation in the pleasant task of making the meetings a source of benefit and profit to all concerned.

October 23, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: We have received your communication, enclosing an order of the Common Council requesting this Board to lease Churchill's field in Ward 24 for skating purposes. We regret to say that the smallness of our maintenance appropriation renders it inadvisable to increase the area of ice to be cared for by us next winter.

Yours respectfully,

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

October 23, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: We have your communication of October 20, enclosing an order of the Common Council requesting information as to our action in locating a playground in Ward 18. We have taken a tract of about 80,000 square feet of land in the rear of Columbus avenue, between the base-ball grounds and Camden street.

We have no money to develop the grounds. A request made by us, August 14, to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for a small sum to improve the land has not yet been granted.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Chairman.

Compilation of Special Laws.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, October 26, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Corporation Counsel in reply to your order requesting a report as to "what progress, if any, the special commission appointed to prepare a compilation of the special laws relating to the City of Boston has made, and how soon a report of their work may be expected."

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

73 Tremont Street, October 26, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In reply to your request that I should inform you of "what progress, if any, the special commissioners appointed to prepare a compilation of the special laws of the City of Boston have made, and how soon a report of their work may be expected," I have the honor to say that the commissioners are not engaged in a mere compilation of the special laws, but are making a revision of the laws, embodying in a form of charter all the special acts in force giving authority to the City of Boston and the officers thereof, and the commissioners have given a great deal of time to the work. I have just received your communication and am unable to see the other commissioner, Hon. A. E. Pillsbury (General Collins having resigned some time since), but for my part, I think we have made such progress that we can complete the work to such a degree as to make a report, including substantially the charter as we desire to leave it, before the end of the year. In a work of this character it is impossible to give any idea of what progress is made. All that we can say is that the whole work has received a great part of our time, especially the last six months, and there is not an act or section of an act of all the special acts passed since the charter of the city in 1854, that we have not considered and acted upon, but as to giving any further information, it is impossible to do so.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. BAILEY,

Corporation Counsel.

LAMP DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, October 25, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In accordance with the request contained in the enclosed order of the Common Council, I beg to report that the gas lanterns that have been removed by reason of substitution for the new lamps, have been stored in the various yards of the Street Department and at the shop of this Department. COVE STREET BRIDGE.

Secretary of War Root has appointed Colonel Suter of Boston, Major Lockwood of Newport, and Major Fiske of Portsmouth, to hear testimony and report on the proposition to build another bridge across Fort Point Channel at Cove street.

Plans for this bridge were forwarded to the War Department last August, and in a letter from the Secretary of War to His Honor, Mayor Quincy, dated September 11, 1899 (see THE CITY RECORD, No. 38, page 630), approval of them was refused on the grounds that already there were six bridges across Fort Point Channel, besides a railroad bridge; that the commerce of the channel was large; that an additional bridge would constitute an obstruction to navigation, and that protests had been filed against the construction of such a bridge.

COMMONWEALTH PARK GYMNASIUM, SOUTH BOSTON. (Transverse Section.)

COMMONWEALTH PARK GYMNASIUM.

The ceremonies attending the formal opening of the new municipal gymnasium at Commonwealth Park, D street, South Boston, took place at the institution on Wednesday evening, November 1, 1899, in the presence of a large and representative gathering.

The municipal band was in attendance and rendered several selections during the evening. The singing of the male choir of St. Vincent's Church, sixty voices, was a feature of the evening's programme.

After the opening exercises, Mr. Thomas J. Lane, Chairman of the Bath Commission, spoke briefly and introduced His Honor Mayor Quincy, who referred to the event as being the first in-door gymnasium to be opened by the City of Boston, and so far as known the first municipal gymnasium to be erected in any city in the country. Being a public enterprise, it is open to all citizens of Boston, standing on the same footing as our streets, parks and schools. The structure represents an expenditure of $28,000 of public money and should be to the body what the schools are to the mind.

Ex-Councilman Norris, through whose instrumentality the first appropriation for the gymnasium was secured, in behalf of the people of South Boston, offered congratulations on the completion of the building.

Remarks were also made by Commander John E. Gilman, of the G.A.R., and Rev. George J. Patterson, pastor of St. Vincent's Church.

The South Boston Gymnasium building for men and women, erected from plans prepared by the Engineering Department, Architect Division, F. W. Howard, Chief of Division, covers an area of approximately 10,000 square feet. The style of the building is English domestic architecture.

Provision is made for a gymnasium giving a floor area of approximately 6,800 square feet, with a clear height under trusses of eighteen feet. There is a running track, eighteen laps to the mile, around the walls of the building, suspended from the trusses. The finished floor of the building is maple, and the interior finish is of North Carolina pine. The running track, raised at corners, is padded and covered with rubber matting.

On the northerly side of the building on the first floor are located the office, coat-rooms and locker-rooms, giving accommodations for 200 men, dressing-rooms, toilet-rooms and shower bath-rooms. On the second floor, are the accommodations for women. The building is heated by steam from a boiler plant located in an adjoining brick building, covering an area 600 square feet. From this plant is supplied the hot water for bathing and toilet purposes. It is the intention to use the shower-room as a public bath.

The building was erected by contract with D. J. McKim & Co., builders, and the interior finish, plumbing and heating installed by the Repairs Division of the city. It is lighted by electric lights installed by the Electrical Construction Division of the city. The total cost of the building was $28,000, authorized by loans of $15,000 in July, 1896; $5,000 in November, 1898, and $8,000 in April, 1899.

The building has been thoroughly equipped with first-class apparatus and the management has been placed under the charge of Mr. John W. Bowler, formerly Superintendent of the Charlesbank Gymnasium

Alderman Prescho has received assurances from the City Government of Philadelphia that the Liberty Bell will be in Charlestown on Bunker Hill Day.

The work done by the Division may be summarized as follows:

The construction of a new stone crushing plant in the Brighton District; paving and regulating fourteen streets with granite blocks, a total of about 137,738 square yards; paving 37,284 square yards of gutters; setting and resetting 162,809 lineal feet of edge-stones; asphaltting 8,539 square yards on a concrete base; laying and relaying sidewalks, viz.: brick, 71,813 square yards; crushed stone, 25,390 square yards; artificial stone, 15,797 square yards.

Work has also progressed on thirty-two streets, laid out under Chapter 323 of the Acts of 1897, and twenty of these have been finished.

The average appropriation for new work under the general law (not assessable), since the consolidation of the Department, which took place in 1891, has been $850,000 per year. The appropriation for 1898 was $448,000. The regular work of the Division has been considerably handicapped by the drain made upon the maintenance appropriation owing to the heavy expense of snow removal, the amount of snowfall exceeding any in the history of the Department. The snow cost in this one year was $172,963.

SEWER DIVISION.

Expenditures—Maintenance, $337,376.27; specials, $1,610,178.26.

The work done by this Division included the building of 38.37 miles of sewers and 671 catch-basins; flushing of 201 miles of sewers; removing 808 cubic yards of deposit from sewers and 8,670 cubic yards of sludge from the pumping-station; the cleaning of 6,061 catch-basins and removing therefrom 19,735 cubic yards of deposit.

In the last annual report was printed a copy of the "Act Relative to the Sewerage Work of the City of Boston," passed in 1897. This act has made it possible to accomplish much valuable sewer work. (The law being under discussion from two different directions, first in the Legislature, and secondly in the Supreme Court, the Superintendent gives an explanation of the reason and purpose of the act. The act since the date of the report has been declared unconstitutional. See THE CITY RECORD, No. 21, page 393.)

SANITARY DIVISION.

Expenditures, $508,152.88.

The past year the collections of this Division were as follows: 394,937 loads, 54 cubic feet each, of house dirt and ashes; 57,764 loads of house offal.

The principal changes or improvements made in the Division during the past year have been as follows:

A contract has been closed with the New England Sanitary Product Company for the utilization of about 78 per cent. of the swill collected in the city daily. The plant is located in an isolated section of the city which is known as the Cow Pasture, was started on November 15 and is now treating daily about 130 or 140 tons.

There has also been put in force a third separation, viz.: separating the papers and other combustible waste from the ashes.

This waste is now being separated in 55 per cent. of our daily collections of ashes, and the same carted to a new plant which has recently been erected near Fort Hill wharf. The matter there will be sorted, the marketable portion culled out, and the balance burned.

There have also been purchased thirty new steel-bodied dumping wagons for collecting offal, and there has been built a new dumping-plant at Fort Hill wharf for the more expeditious and sanitary handling of the garbage. A similar plant, for a like purpose, is also being constructed on the Roxbury Canal at the foot of East Canton street, and will be ready for operation in a very short time.

With these changes in the methods of collection and disposal of garbage the system in Boston now surpasses that in use in any other city in this country. It is the purpose of the Department during the coming year to still further improve the service, and by January 1, 1900, there will be little room left, as far as can be seen, for improvement.

The horses of the Division are in excellent condition, many of the older ones having been replaced by the purchase of new animals. The stables have received such attention as has been possible from the maintenance appropriation and the shop work has been continued with excellent results, the greater part of the shoeing of the horses, building and repairing of carts, harnesses, etc., of the Department being done by the Division.

STREET-CLEANING DIVISION.

Expenditures, $316,052.73.

The Division has removed 131,705 loads of dirt and emptied 27,148 public waste barrels.

The appropriation for the Street-cleaning Division work remaining about as in past years it has not been possible to extend the service, as recommended in the last annual report, to Dorchester, Brighton and East Boston.

A change has been made in the manner of doing the work in the West and North ends of the city from machine sweeping to hand sweeping, and the results attained have been so excellent that this method will be extended.

I again call attention to the failure on the part of the police to enforce the ordinances in regard to throwing waste materials into the streets, which, in certain sections of the city, makes it impossible to bring about better conditions without an expenditure of money which is unnecessary and unwarranted.

BRIDGE DIVISION.

Expenditures—Maintenance, $129,253.03; special, $11,006.04; new construction under charge of the City Engineer, $34,328.02.

In the Bridge Division, owing to the fact that absolutely no new money was appropriated except for the regular maintenance, there has been no work of any considerable importance undertaken. The necessity for action in relation to many of the bridges is urgent. Some are in need of almost entire reconstruction, and others should be thoroughly overhauled.

Broadway, Charles river, Congress street, Mt. Washington avenue, Warren, Ferdinand street and Hyde Park avenue, over Stony brook, bridges have been overhauled and repaired during the year.

Talbot-avenue bridge was completed this year, the entire work of grading and building the bridge so as to allow the street to pass under the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad (Midland Division), being done by the railroad company at an expense to the city of $25,000.

FERRY DIVISION.

Expenditures—Maintenance, $213,055.79; specials, $131,736.40.

The receipts amounted to $165,001.57 during the year. The traffic consisted of 12,182,842 foot passengers and 938,140 teams.

The new boat, "Governor Russell," just ready to go into commission, was purchased by the United States government for war purposes, for the sum of $71,000, the exact cost to the city. Also, the propeller ferry-boat "East Boston" was taken for the same purpose, for which was paid the sum of $57,500, making a total of $128,500. A contract was made for another new boat, which will be completed by February 15, 1899. Another new boat should be built, unless both the boats sold to the United States government should be repurchased. Contracts for two new drops and tanks have been made, and these are now being put in place. Two slips have been sheathed at an expense of about $4,000.

STREET-WATERING DIVISION.

Expenditures, $138,728.57. Miles of streets watered, 409.95.

Prior to 1891, any watering of the city streets was done by private subscription. In that year a change was made, the city undertaking the watering of all macadam streets, leaving the paved streets still to be watered by the abutters. This method was unsatisfactory in many ways.

The past year another change was inaugurated, the city undertaking the watering of all public streets, whether paved or not, assessing the cost of the work on the abutting estates, under authority of the statute authorizing all cities of 50,000 inhabitants and over to do street-watering by special assessment. Under this act, however, it was not possible to assess by districts. The line was drawn to substantially include the territory within four miles of City Hall, and all estates within this line abutting on public streets were assessed five cents per front foot for the street watering, the portion of the city outside of the four-mile limit being cared for out of the general tax levy.

The statute should be amended so that it would be possible to assess the watering by districts, in order that the sections of the city requiring and receiving the greater service and the greater benefit should pay proportionally.

One electric watering car was in service during the season, and gave excellent satisfaction. It was not possible to extend the system, owing to certain uncontrollable conditions.

The Department records show that there are 3,473 persons eligible for employment in the several divisions, and of that number 3,208 were upon the January, 1899, pay-rolls.

The total length of public streets in the city is 479.47 miles.

FANEUIL HALL REPAIRS.

The work of reconstructing and preserving the historic Faneuil Hall building, which for a number of years has been regarded as being in an unsafe condition, and likely in case of a serious fire to be totally destroyed, is now practically completed.

The repairs and improvements to the building have been very extensive. New foundations have been substituted for the old ones, and the structure itself, with its steel frame, terra cotta partitions and brick arches, has been made thoroughly fire-proof. Within, the building has been entirely refitted; heating and ventilating apparatus has been installed, and plumbing and electric work carefully arranged.

The first appropriation for reconstructing the building was made under an order of the City Council, approved by His Honor the Mayor, June 14, 1898, authorizing a loan of $80,000. To cover the cost of heating and ventilating, plumbing and electrical work, (items which were not included in the first contract) an additional loan of $23,000 was authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment on January 24, 1899. Besides these loans, an appropriation of $1,500 was made by the Board of Apportionment on October 12, 1899, for furnishing the building, making the total amount of money granted for reconstructing and furnishing the building $104,500.

The work on the building proper, which was begun in September, 1898, was done by Messrs. Woodbury & Leighton; the plumbing and electrical work by the Repairs Division and the Electrical Construction Division of the Public Buildings Department, respectively; the heating and ventilating apparatus by the Boston Furnace Company, and the furnishings by the Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Company, Cobb, Buzzell & Co., and Allen, Long & Co.

Contracts with these firms were made by the Architect Division of the Engineering Department in behalf of the city, and the repairs and alterations performed under its supervision.

The officials of the City of Philadelphia, who arrived in Boston, Thursday, November 9, 1899, for the purpose of spending a few days in this city inspecting some of its public institutions and advanced municipal undertakings, took their departure for Philadelphia, Sunday evening, November 12, well pleased with what had been an enjoyable and profitable visit.

The visiting delegation consisted of Hon. Samuel H. Ashbridge, Mayor of Philadelphia; Abraham L. English, Director of Public Safety; George G. Pierie, Chief of Bureau of City Property; James L. Miller, President of Select Council; Wencel Hartman, President of Common Council; Select Councilmen Jacob J. The garbage plant at Cow Pasture, the sewerage system at Moon Island and the public institutions at Deer Island, the Public Library, the Elevated Railroad structure, the subway and the New England Coal and Gas Company's works at Everett were visited during the two days.

On Saturday evening a banquet was tendered the visiting officials by the city at Hotel Bellevue. Sunday afternoon, before their departure for Philadelphia, the guests were shown over Boston's park system.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on December 5, 1899, an examination will be held in any city in the United States where it has a board of examiners for the position of clerk in charge of proposals and purchases, bureau engraving and printing, Treasury Department.

The Department states that it is desirable that competitors should have experience in the purchasing, and be familiar in a general way with the following classes of supplies: Paper, engraver's and plate printer's supplies, binder's supplies, dry colors, chemicals, etc. They should also be somewhat familiar with the form of specifications, contracts and requisitions required in transacting the business of large business houses engaged in handling the supplies mentioned.

From the eligibles resulting from this examination certification will be made to fill the position of clerk in charge of proposals and purchases, bureau engraving and printing, Treasury Department, at a salary of $1,800 per annum.

Stebbins, Room 141, Post Office, Boston, Mass., or to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C., which should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington, D.C.

SALE OF CHRISTOPHER GIBSON SCHOOL FUND LAND.

The land in Dorchester, with the buildings thereon, belonging to the Christopher Gibson School Fund, held in trust by the Board of Aldermen, was sold at public auction, November 11, 1899, by Messrs. Holbrook & Co., auctioneers.

The land was divided into some thirty-seven lots, the larger ones varying in size from 4,000 to 8,000 square feet each. The average price paid per foot was about thirteen cents. The highest price paid was thirty-six cents, the lowest five cents per foot.

There were five buildings on the land, the price paid for them being $100, $115, $205, $236 and $325 each.

NEXT MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

At its meeting on Thursday, the ninth instant, the Common Council voted to adjourn till Thursday, November 23, 1899, at 7.45 P.M.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

An adjourned regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Wednesday, November 8, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding, and all the members present.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Appointment of Constable.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 8, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint Victor Weimar a Constable of the City of Boston for the term ending April 30, 1900, in place of Edward W. Kelly, who was removed from the position of Constable on November 6, 1899.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Laid over, under the law.

Veto—Removal of Trees.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 5, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return without my approval an order passed by your Board granting permission to Frank G. Coburn & Co. "to remove such trees from Eutaw street, East Boston, as may be necessary to facilitate the erection of the new Chapman School building." I am informed by the Superintendent of Public Grounds that his Department has removed one of the trees referred to, and that the others are good trees and do not interfere with the new building, and therefore should not be removed.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the order was passed was reconsidered and the Board refused to grant permission over the Mayor's veto.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

The regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M., on Thursday, November 9, 1899, President Kiley in the chair.

The following message from His Honor the Mayor was received:

Veto—Election Returns.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 4, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith without my approval the order providing for the receiving of election returns at City Hall, at the State and city elections, for the reason that there is no unexpended balance in the appropriation for City Council, Incidental Expenses, to which this expense—which is a considerable one—would be chargeable. I have requested the Board of Apportionment to provide by transfer enough money to meet the expense of receiving returns for the city election and am willing to approve the order, if confined to the city election.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The order was indefinitely postponed.

Under a suspension of the rules, the following order was offered and passed:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be directed to make arrangements for receiving and announcing election returns in the Common Council Chamber on the evening of the day of the coming city election and that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be requested to transfer a sum sufficient to pay for the expense involved.

DUMPING OF SNOW.

The Harbor and Land Commissioners have granted a license to the City of Boston to dump snow and ice from the bridges the coming winter, with the proviso that none shall be dumped into Fort Point channel below Mt. Washington-avenue bridge and the further proviso that none shall be dumped from bridges connecting with other municipalities without their consent.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DRUNKENNESS.

The Committee on the Penal Aspects of Drunkenness, appointed on January 11, 1899, to investigate the working of the laws for the punishment of drunkenness, has submitted its report to His Honor Mayor Quincy, by whom, on November 17, it was transmitted to the City Council (see page 758). The Committee consists of Mr. J. G. Thorp, President of the Massachusetts Prison Association, Chairman; Prof. Edward Cummings, of Harvard University; Rev. F. B. Allen, of the Episcopal City Mission; Prof. E. Spencer Baldwin, of Boston University; Mr. John Koren, of the Institutions Registration Department; Miss Annette P. Rogers, of the Boston Overseers of the Poor; Mrs. Rachael E. S. Thorndike, formerly a member of the same Board, and Mr. James F. Wise, of the Committee on the Summer Municipal Camp for Boys.

The report, which has been issued as a city document — Document 158, 1899 — covers nearly fifty-five closely printed pages. Copies may be obtained of the City Messenger, City Hall.

REPORT ON RANDIDGE FUND EXCURSIONS.

Penal Institutions Commissioner Marshall, director in charge of the excursions given by the city to the children of Boston during the summer months, at the expense of the income from the fund left by George L. Randidge, has presented his report for 1899 to His Honor Mayor Quincy, by whom, on November 17, it was transmitted to the City Council. (See page 757.)

As in 1898 the picnic grounds were located at Long Island to which the children were transported on the city's steamer "J. Putnam Bradlee." The excursions began on July 5 and continued until September 8, a period of fifty-seven secular days, all of which, with the exception of five, being utilized. Games were arranged for the children, and sea-bathing was enjoyed under the care of experienced swimmers. Lunch was provided for the children at noon.

Two Sunday excursions were also given to representatives of the Hebrew free schools. These were simply harbor outings, no landing being made.

The total number of children carried was 16,105 as against 13,531 in 1898, an average each day of 298. The transportation of this large number was accomplished without the slightest accident.

Outside of the sum spent for permanent equipment, amounting to $42.27, the cost of maintenance of the excursions was $2,128.96 as against $2,008.81 in 1898. The per capita expense was 13.2 cents. In 1898 it was 14.8 cents.

Through the courtesy of the Boston Elevated Railway Company car rides to the number of about 24,000 were furnished without charge.

Mr. Marshall makes the recommendation that some system of forestry be adopted for Long Island in order to provide shade for the picnic ground.

OPENING OF THE NEW CHARLESTOWN BRIDGE.

The new Charlestown bridge will be publicly opened on Monday, November 27, 1899, at 11 o'clock. There will be no special ceremonies in connection with the event.

Chairman Crocker, of the Boston Transit Commission, will deliver the bridge to His Honor Mayor Quincy, who will respond briefly in behalf of the city.

The people will assemble on the draw, which will remain open during the exercises, and at their conclusion the draw will be closed, the gates swung back and the bridge declared ready for public travel.

BOSTON PORTO RICO RELIEF COMMITTEE.

The executive committee of the Boston Porto Rico Relief Committee met at Mayor Quincy's office, Tuesday, November 21, 1899, and made final disposition of the funds in its possession. Besides Mayor Quincy, and Messrs. Lamont G. Burnham, Robert T. Burnett, U. K. Pettingill, Elwyn G. Preston and Francis Dumaresq, members of the executive committee, there was also present Mr. W. H. S. Lothrop, who has been in Porto Rico the greater part of the time since the disastrous hurricane and flood on August 8 last, and who explained to the committee the present condition of affairs in Ponce. He stated that while there had been the greatest need of food in the past, it having been necessary to feed as many as 40,000 women and children at one time in Ponce (the men not being supplied with food except in payment for work done), the great demand at the present time was not for food, but for shelter, and that the relief committee at Ponce, composed of ninety of its most representative and reliable citizens, which has had charge of the relief work done there, and which has carried on this work exceedingly well, feels that the best use that could be made of the funds still remaining at the disposition of the committee in Boston would be to expend the same in building a number of very moderate-priced houses.

These would be rented for a small sum, only sufficient to pay the expense of superintendence and of keeping them in repair, to persons who could not otherwise obtain shelter. Such houses as are proposed would cost a little over $150 apiece, and would be rented for $1 or $2 a month. The Town of Ponce is willing to give land for the purpose on the hill back of the village, and by this means shelter during the rainy season would be provided for a large portion of the 200 or 300 persons who may be seen every night in the square in Ponce, sleeping out in the open air in both wet and dry weather.

After a consideration of the matter, the executive committee passed the following vote:

Voted, That the Mayor of Ponce, Porto Rico, ex-officio, Mr. Robert A. Miller, President of the Board of Charities of Ponce, and Mr. W. H. S. Lothrop, be chosen by this committee as trustees, to be known as "Trustees of the Boston Relief Settlement," to whom shall be paid all moneys remaining in the hands of this committee; that the said trustees have full discretionary powers to expend the same in building houses, to be known as the "Boston Relief Settlement," and to administer the said settlement; and that the Treasurer of this committee be authorized and requested to pay to the said trustees, upon their request, any funds in his possession as Treasurer of this committee.

The Boston Porto Rico Relief Committee was formed on August 12, 1899, in response to a call issued to citizens by His Honor Mayor Quincy. The Committee consisted of eighty-eight gentlemen and organized by the selection of His Honor Mayor Quincy as Chairman, Mr. Charles H. Cole, Secretary and Mr. Francis H. Peabody, Treasurer.

Two days later an executive committee, with full powers, was appointed, consisting of the above-named officers and Messrs. Robert M. Burnett, Elwyn G. Preston, Ubert K. Pettingill, Francis Dumaresq and Lamont G. Burnham. Messrs. De Ford & Co. were designated as distributing agents of all supplies sent by the committee to Porto Rico.

Appeals to the public for funds were issued at once, and generous responses were received. Supplies, consisting of clothing, fish, flour, etc., were purchased, and immediately forwarded to the relief of the sufferers. A schooner loaded with bananas, sweet potatoes and lumber was chartered from Jamaica and despatched to Porto Rico.

The total amount of money received by the committee in contributions for the relief of the inhabitants of Porto Rico was $26,700. Of this sum there remains in the hands of the Treasurer an unexpended balance of $5,800, which, as indicated by the vote of the committee, will be used for the establishment of a "Boston Relief Settlement."

Present: All the members.

The Commission examined sketch drawings of the proposed new bridge, prepared by Mr. E. H. Wheelwright, and considered the probable cost of building a bridge such as that shown in the drawings.

On motion of Commissioner Leavitt, it was Voted, That the schedule of bills and payrolls, presented by the Chief Engineer of the Commission for payment by the cities of Boston and Cambridge, amounting to $3,333.39, be certified by the Commission for payment by the respective cities of Boston and Cambridge.

The bill of the Street Department, paving division, of the City of Boston, for work done and material furnished in constructing an approach to the temporary bridge on the Boston side, in accordance with the vote passed on July 17, was received.

On motion of Commissioner Leavitt, it was Voted, That the Chairman be authorized to approve the bill of the Street Department, paving division, of the City of Boston, amounting to $1,279.17, for labor and materials supplied by it in making an approach to the temporary bridge on the Boston side, $572.61 of said amount to be paid by the City of Boston, the City of Cambridge having paid an equal amount for labor on the approach to the temporary bridge on the Cambridge side, and the remainder, $706.56, to be paid, half by the City of Boston and half by the City of Cambridge.

Notice of the decision of Messrs. Moses Williams, James J. Costello and William H. Hart, appointed under "agreement for arbitration," ratified and confirmed by the Commission on July 1, 1899, as arbitrators to adjudge the damage to Michael M. Cunniff from the taking by the Commission of his property at the corner of Cambridge and Charles streets, the amount of their award being "one hundred and seventy thousand (170,000) dollars, with interest upon said sum from the eighteenth day of February, 1899, less such sum as said Cunniff has collected as rent for said premises since February 18, 1899, or shall hereafter collect as such rent by consent of said Cambridge Bridge Commission," was received.

The notice was placed on file, and, on motion of Commissioner Leavitt, it was Voted, That in accordance with the award of the arbitrators to adjudge the damage to Michael M. Cunniff from the taking of his property at the corner of Charles and Cambridge streets, there be paid to Michael M. Cunniff by the City of Boston, as part of the cost of laying out and construction of an approach to the new Cambridge bridge, on the Boston side, the sum of one hundred and seventy thousand (170,000) dollars, plus $850, one-half of the compensation of said arbitrators, and interest at the legal rate from February 18, 1899, less such sum as said Cunniff has collected as rent for said premises since February 18, 1899, provided that said Cunniff shall deliver to the City of Boston a deed satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston to the estate taken by the Commission, situated upon the corner of Cambridge and Charles streets, in Boston, and containing 13,916 square feet, more or less.

A bill, amounting to $183.10, was received from the Cambridge Electric Light Company, for installing five arc lights on the temporary bridge.

On motion of Commissioner Leavitt, it was Voted, That the above bill be referred to Mayor Champlin, the said bill to be paid by the cities of Boston and Cambridge, if approved by him.

On motion of Commissioner Leavitt, it was Voted, That the Chairman be authorized to lease, upon such terms and conditions as he considers proper, to Michael M. Cuniff, such portion of the property taken by the Commission at the corner of Cambridge and Charles street as is not needed at present by the Commission, the amount received under said lease to be credited to the sinking fund for the redemption of the Cambridge bridge loan issued by the City of Boston.

On motion of Commissioner Champlin, the following resolution and order were adopted:

Resolved, In accordance with, and as authorized by, the provisions of Chapter 467 of the Acts of 1898, that in the opinion of this Board the public necessity and convenience require, and it is deemed necessary for carrying out the provisions of said act, to take a certain piece or parcel of land west of the easterly line of the westerly abutment of the proposed Cambridge bridge, said abutment being shown on a plan marked: "Plan of Proposed Relocation of Pier and Bulkhead Lines at the Boston and Cambridge Ends of Cambridge Bridge," dated April, 1899, and signed by William Jackson, Chief Engineer, said parcel of land being bounded and described as follows, viz.:

A certain parcel of land supposed to belong to J. A. McGinty, formerly to G. L. Damon, bounded as follows, viz.:

Beginning at a point in the northerly line of Main street at its intersection with the easterly line of First street in the City of Cambridge; thence running northerly along said line of First street 150.38 feet to its intersection with the southerly line of Broad canal; thence easterly along said southerly line 74.72 feet to its intersection with the pier and bulkhead line of Charles river; thence south-westerly along said pier and bulkhead line 172.63 feet to its intersection with the northerly line of Main street at the point of beginning; containing 5,604 square feet.

The above described parcel of land is shown on a plan entitled: "Plan of Charles River Parkway—Section A," drawn by L. M. Hastings, City Engineer of the City of Cambridge, dated August 23, 1899, and on file in the office of the City Engineer, Cambridge, Mass., a copy of a portion of said plan showing the above described taking to be filed at the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds.

And, whereas, due notice has been given of the intention of this Board to take said parcel of land for the purpose aforesaid, as appears by the return of the order of notice issued therefor; it is therefore Ordered, That the parcel of land hereinbefore described be, and the same hereby is, taken and laid out under the provisions of law authorizing the assessment of betterments, for carrying out the provisions of said act, and as part of the approach to the new Cambridge bridge, in agreement with the provisions of said Chapter 467 of the Acts of 1898, according to the aforesaid plan of such taking made by L. M. Hastings, City Engineer, Cambridge, Mass., dated August 23, 1899, and entitled: "Plan of Charles River Parkway—Section A"; and this Board doth adjudge that the damage to the estate, taken as hereinbefore described, including payment for land taken, cost of removal and damage to buildings, and all other damages is the sum of $4,203.

Adjourned, on motion of Commissioner Leavitt, to meet on Monday, November 20, at 3.30 P.M., at the office of Wheelwright & Haven, Tremont building.

EDGAR R. CHAMPLIN, Secretary.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Appointment of Grain Measurer.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 17, 1899.

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint James C. Bell a Measurer of Grain for the term ending April 30, 1900.

Report Concerning Summer Excursions.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 17, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith the report of Mr. E. C. Marshall, director in charge of the Randidge Fund Excursions for the past season, and I recommend that the same be printed as a city document.

This report certainly makes a gratifying showing as to the large results obtained through the income of the Randidge Fund, and I feel that Mr. Marshall, who has for the second time taken charge at my request of these excursions, in addition to the performance of his regular duties as Penal Institutions Commissioner, and without extra charge, should be complimented upon the showing made, and particularly upon the entire absence of any accident in connection with the care and transportation of such a large number of children. I believe that the showing made by the city in this line of excursion work is a unique and creditable one, and that the beneficent intentions of the donor of the fund have been realized in a larger way than he could have anticipated.

I commend this report to the consideration not only of the City Council, but all public spirited citizens, as showing how much can be accomplished in the line of philanthropic work at a comparatively insignificant expenditure of money by the intelligent utilization of the organization and facilities of the city government.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Report Concerning Drunkenness.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 17, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a report of the Committee on the Penal Aspects of Drunkenness, appointed by me on January 11, 1899, and I recommend that it be printed as a city document, and that provision be also made for printing 2,500 extra copies.

This carefully considered report, made unanimously by a representative committee, whose members are well qualified to make a valuable analysis of the workings of existing methods of dealing with the punishment of drunkenness and ascertaining their defects, should prove an interesting public document, not only in Boston but elsewhere, and should lead to the adoption of more rational methods of dealing with this important problem. I feel that the members of the Committee are entitled to the thanks of the city for their painstaking work.

While I have not been able to take any part in the work of the Committee, I am in hearty sympathy with the main conclusions arrived at. It has longed seemed to me that the fine system of punishing drunkenness, as in operation at present, was entirely indefensible from any standpoint.

Its financial results are comparatively insignificant, even upon the face of the figures, while in reality the amounts received from those who pay their fines are far more than counterbalanced by the cost of maintaining in confinement those who do not; while from the standpoint of meting out to all, without regard to social condition, the equal justice which is assumed to prevail under democratic institutions, it is certainly a gross anomaly to let off, practically without punishment, those who are able to pay fines, while inflicting a heavy penalty upon those who are too poor to purchase exemption from imprisonment.

I know of no more glaring instance of injustice daily inflicted, upon a large scale, than the operation of the system of imposing fines for the offence of drunkenness, with imprisonment as the alternative for non-payment. The present practice seems to me unworthy of a civilized democratic community; it is unscientific, uneconomic and unjust, and if it can be even modified in the directions suggested by the Committee, great good will certainly result.

With the main recommendation of the report—that probation work should be considerably extended and systematized—I think that every intelligent observer must agree. This certainly seems the most hopeful line of work, and the one in support of which it should be the most easy to unite those of all shades of opinion upon the general aspects of the liquor problem.

The circumstances which lead to arrests for intoxication are of infinite variety, and to deal with these cases in mass, without some intelligent effort to individualize each case, and to deal with it according to the special circumstances surrounding it, is neither scientific, humane nor economical; I believe that it would be a direct economy to the public treasury to double the expense of probationary investigation, while the indirect benefits of extending this work would be far reaching.

The excellent beginning which has been made in this line of work is the one bright spot in our record in dealing with the punishment of drunkenness; the extension and better organization and co-ordination of that work may yet give to this community the high rank in respect to the treatment of drunkenness which it has already won in so many other lines of reformatory and philanthropic effort.

In contrast to the crude and old-fashioned method of dealing only with symptoms, the modern scientific spirit, which is at last in our day being applied to the problems connected with crime and pauperism, seeks to ascertain the causes of moral and social disease, and to diminish their influence, if it cannot altogether remove them.

To deal with every person arrested for intoxication in the same manner would be an absurdity. We have already made some progress in the classification of cases by law, and the exercise of discretionary powers by the judges does much to alleviate present conditions, but there can be no question that what is now most needed is the extension of individual investigation and of the probation system.

If the fine system is to continue as at present, the recommendation of the Committee that time should be allowed to those arrested for drunkenness in which to pay their fines is certainly a wise and practical one.

The expenditure of all available money is the usual incident of such a case of intoxication as leads to an arrest, and the alternative of immediate payment of a fine, instead of imprisonment, offered to the unfortunate victim is, in a great majority of cases, a hollow mockery.

If the community desires pecuniary compensation for his offence, he should at least be placed upon probation long enough to show his disposition and ability to earn the amount of the fine imposed; if incarceration is the only proper penalty for drunkenness, then the opportunity of escaping it through the payment of a fine should not be allowed to those who are pecuniarily more fortunate than their fellows.

I trust that this report will be carefully read by the members of the City Council, and that it will lead to the support by the authorities of the city, and by the public generally, of such legislative action as is required in order to carry its principal recommendations into effect.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Veto—Garbage Hearings.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 10, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval, the order passed by your Board authorizing certain expenditures in connection with hearings to be given by a committee of your Board relative to the garbage plant at the Calf Pasture, for the reason that I find by the proceedings of your Board at its last meeting that such committee has already made a report which fully covers the ground and takes a definite position in respect to the matter, by directing application to be made by the City Solicitor to the courts.

While I can see no objection to a proper inquiry through a committee as to the conditions which have been complained of, it does not seem to me a proper procedure for a committee to report first in a matter which takes a definite position upon matters in controversy, and then to put the city afterwards to the expense of reporting hearings.

If this matter needs any further investigation, the committee of your Board should not have made what is practically a full report, in that it finally disposes of the matter; if, on the other hand, it does require investigation, the order reported by the committee should be rejected, upon the ground that it is at least premature.

I must, therefore, await further action by your Board before giving my assent to the expenditure of money for the purpose of conducting an investigation.

If your Board rejects the order reported by the committee, I shall be glad to approve an order providing for meeting the expense of public hearings; if, however, it chooses to pass the order reported, the whole matter is in the hands of the City Solicitor and the courts.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The communication was referred to the Special Committee on Investigation of Garbage Plant.

Decorations for Library.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 17, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a copy of the resolution adopted by the Trustees of the Public Library, at their last meeting, and in accordance with their position I recommend the passage of the accompanying order, providing for the application of the sum of $2,500 from the income of the Phillips Fund to the purposes recommended by the Trustees. Some sculptural decoration of the interior courtyard of the library is much needed to complete its effect, and I trust that the amount named may be devoted to this purpose, and that it may lead, as suggested by the Trustees, to additions to the fund for this purpose from private individuals.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The following is a copy of the resolution adopted by the Trustees of the Public Library at meeting held November 10:

Resolved, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library have heard with pleasure of the proposed application of a portion of the income of the Phillips Fund to the decoration of the central courtyard of the library.

They are also entirely in sympathy with the proposal to place bronze medallions in suitable places on the walls, but they regard the central fountain as the feature of the courtyard most urgently in need of decorative treatment, and would therefore suggest that the chief part of the amount now available be set aside to form a nucleus of a fund to be raised by subscription for the purpose of providing a decorative fountain, and that a single medallion head of some distinguished literary New Englander be placed in a suitable position in the courtyard.

It is thought that such a medallion, together with the bust of Gen. F. A. Walker, now soon to be placed in position, will serve to suggest the gift of similar memorials of other citizens who have deserved well of their city and State.

Following is the order referred to:

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five hundred (2,500) dollars be appropriated from the income of the Phillips Street Fund, to be expended by the Trustees of the Public Library toward a fountain for the interior courtyard of the library building, and any other works of sculpture to be placed in said courtyard.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM HICHBORN.

The death of Mr. William Hichborn, general foreman at the Charlestown Navy Yard, occurred suddenly on Wednesday, November 22, 1899.

Mr. Hichborn was born at Salem, Mass., August 1, 1830. He secured employment at the Charlestown Navy Yard in 1845 as a boy. Passing through the various grades of service he became general foreman, which position he held at the time of his death.

In 1869, or five years before the annexation of Charlestown to Boston, Mr. Hichborn represented the Second Middlesex District, of which that city was a part, in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, serving as a member of the Joint Committee on Prisons.

THE NEW CHARLESTOWN BRIDGE.

The exercises attending the formal opening of the new Charlestown bridge were held at the bridge on Monday, November 27, 1899, at 11 o'clock. About 200 invited guests, representing the public, professional and business life of the city, State and nation, were gathered on the opened draw, while hundreds of people witnessed the ceremonies from the connecting ends of the bridge.

At 11 o'clock, Hon. George G. Crocker, Chairman of the Boston Transit Commission, which had charge of the construction of the new bridge, addressed the assembled company as follows:

YOUR HONOR THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN, ACTING MAYOR OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES, OF THE STATE AND OF THE CITY, DISTINGUISHED CITIZENS: When the government of the company of Massachusetts Bay was, in the summer of 1630, transferred to this country, the Governor, John Winthrop, first took up his abode in what was then called, not Charlestown, but Charlton. Three meetings of the Board of Assistants in August and September were held there, but a scarcity of water in that district and the abundance of good springs on the opposite side of the river, led the Governor in the autumn to move across the peninsula which had been known as Shawmut or Trimountaine, and to which the Board of Assistants had on September 7 given the name of Boston.

On the ninth of November, at the fifth meeting of the Board, being the second held in Boston, it was ordered that whosoever should first notify the Governor that he was willing to undertake to set up a ferry between Charlton and Boston should be allowed to collect certain specified tolls thereon. An entry made under date of the fourteenth of June of the following year (1631) shows that the operation of the ferry had then been undertaken by Edward Converse.

Nine years later, in 1640, this ferry franchise was by the General Court granted to Harvard College. For 146 years thereafter the profits derived from it went to promote the cause of education at that institution.

In 1785 John Hancock, Thomas Russell and others were incorporated with power to build a bridge between Boston and Charlestown, "where an ancient ferry had been established." The corporation was authorized to collect tolls for the term of forty years, and during that term was required to pay £200 each year to the college.

On the seventeenth of June, 1786, the Charles-river bridge, the first bridge connecting Boston with the mainland, was opened with much ceremony, including the firing of cannon, a civic procession and a grand dinner with many toasts and speeches. This bridge which we now overlook is, therefore, in its one hundred and fourteenth year.

By the Act of the year 1894, which authorized the construction of the subway, the Boston Transit Commission was instructed to build a bridge across the Charles river, between the Charles-river bridge and the Fitchburg Railroad bridge. The completed work is now before you. The engineers have been William Jackson, the City Engineer, and his assistant, John E. Cheney. Of their care and skill the structure is the proof and will be the memorial.

Your Honor, the bridge is ready to be opened by you for public use.

May it prove to be worthy of a crossing which for 268 years has been a part of the life of our country; may it prove to be adapted not only to the present needs, but to those also which the future may develop; may it prove to be a commendable addition to the long list of notable works of public improvement which have been conceived and accomplished in the administrations of Nathan Matthews, jr., and Josiah Quincy.

In the absence of His Honor Mayor Quincy, Acting Mayor Barry, in accepting the custody of the bridge on behalf of the City of Boston, responded as follows:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMAN: To-day we look at one of the finest bridges undoubtedly which there is in Massachusetts, and we might also say we have a bridge second to none outside the City of New York and Brooklyn. This bridge has been built, and it has been built well. Every particle of work done upon it has been satisfactory, both to the Rapid Transit Commissioners and to the engineers of the Engineering Department of the City of Boston.

This bridge, I also want to say, was built by the will of the people, and not by a direct vote of either branch of their representatives. The Legislature of Massachusetts gave to the City of Boston and its citizens the right to accept the act which empowered the city to borrow, I believe, $6,000,000, or rather $7,000,000. It was through the will of the people that the act was accepted which made it possible for this bridge to be built.

And so the bridge, as you see it to-day, gentlemen, is due to the votes of the people, for the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council and the Mayor—these had practically nothing to say in the matter. The vote was submitted directly to the people. Afterwards the act stipulated how the bridge should be built, the direction and other matters in its construction.

It is now completed, and we cannot look upon it without recalling some of the historic associations of the place. I am carried in recollection especially to the days of Paul Revere, for it was along here that he came in his famous ride. It was here that his horse remained while he gave the alarm. It was here that he watched the old church. But you remember he had to come across this section of his route in a row-boat, because there was no bridge built here until 1785. Only think what his feelings would be were he here to witness these proceedings.

What would he say were he able to look at the vast crowds of people gathered here in front of this bridge and about these approaches. More people, in fact, than our whole population in those days of 1776, for Boston then had but little more than 4,000 residents within its borders, while to-day our numbers as a city community reach 550,000 within municipal limits alone, and in the larger radius at least 1,000,000 people. We have indeed grown since then to be a great city, and there is no doubt that we shall grow yet more in the future—that we shall take more territory still on the outside of our present boundaries, and become in every sense a large and a great city.

Now, this undertaking was a thing which our growing population needed. And certainly there is not one among you who doubts that Boston will reap much and will be well repaid for the effort in the public advantages which must result from the completed work. It is a means of quick communication to what is practically almost another city—that section which stretches there on the other side with its forty odd thousand people.

The bridge connects us with large centres of population like Malden and Lynn—with urban populations who will always use this road as one of their great thoroughfares. As Acting Mayor of the City of Boston, therefore, it gives me great pleasure to be here to-day, and to say a few words on this occasion, and especially for the Rapid Transit Commissioners, who have so faithfully performed their duties, and also in behalf of the officials of the City of Boston.

At the conclusion of his address, Acting-Mayor Barry pressed the button which started the electric motors and, as the great draw gradually swung into position, the bridge was declared open to public travel.

When the draw had been closed, Acting-Mayor Barry, President Kiley, of the Common Council, and Messrs. George G. Crocker and Charles H. Dalton, of the Boston Transit Commission, entered a carriage and, followed by four more carriages containing the other members of the Commission, its Chief Engineer and lady guests, was driven across the bridge to Charlestown. Ten special electric cars, containing the several hundred invited guests, were next sent across the bridge, after which the gates were opened to the general public.

In the pamphlet entitled "The Ferry, 1630; the Charles-river Bridge, 1785; the Charlestown Bridge, 1899," containing a historical statement prepared for the Boston Transit Commission by its Chairman, and submitted at the opening of the bridge, is found the following:

By Statutes 1894, Chapter 548, which provided for the construction of the subway, the Boston Transit Commission was required to construct a bridge over Charles river between the Charles-river bridge and the Fitchburg Railroad bridge.

Soon after the organization of the Commission, William Jackson, the City Engineer, was selected as the chief engineer, and Mr. John E. Cheney as assistant engineer, for this purpose.

After a study of the traffic conditions and several public hearings, the Commission reached the conclusion that a drawless bridge was desirable, but when the attempt was made to secure the requisite permits from the State and from the United States, it was found that at least two or three years would undoubtedly be consumed before these permits could be obtained, while, on the other hand, the effort might not ultimately prove successful. The idea of a drawless bridge was therefore reluctantly abandoned, but the height which would have been appropriate for such a bridge was retained, so that this bridge will not prove a barrier when the other bridges above it are raised and freed from draws.

The general plan of the bridge, after it was determined upon, and before any of the work of construction was begun, had to be submitted to the Harbor and Land Commission and to the Secretary of War for approval. The license of the Harbor and Land Commission was issued November 27, 1895, and that of the Secretary of War, December 27, of the same year.

The next six months were consumed in making, by means of borings, an exact study of the river bottom, in preparing construction plans, and in drawing up specifications.

On July 20, 1896, the contract for the construction of eight piers was awarded, and the actual work of building the bridge was begun on August 15, 1896. This work has therefore taken a little over three years.

The total length of the bridge and approaches is 1,920 feet, of which 1,090 feet is over the water. It is a steel bridge on stone piers. Its width is 100 feet, which is divided into two sidewalks each 10 feet wide, two roadways each 29 feet wide, and a central space for street-car tracks 22 feet wide. From this central space team traffic is not excluded except in so far as the posts carrying the elevated railroad tracks may operate as a barrier. The fixed spans are 85 feet each, and the draw span 240 feet, the draw resting on a central pier, on each side of which is a passage for vessels 50 feet wide. The height of the under side of the draw above mean high water is 23 feet. This draw weighs 1,200 tons, and rests on seventy solid steel wheels running on a circular track having a diameter of 54 feet.

The Act of 1894 required the Commission in constructing the bridge to have regard to its use for railway purposes. Three years later the Legislature (Acts 1897, Chapter 500), authorized the Boston Elevated Railway Company to construct its tracks across the bridge. The grade of the approaches to the bridge nowhere exceeds 3 per cent.

The chief contractors engaged upon the work have been Messrs. Woodbury & Leighton and Dennis F. O'Connell, who built the approaches to the bridge; Messrs. Perkins, White & Co., who built the piers and draw foundations; the A. & P. Roberts Company, which furnished the steel for eight spans of the superstructure and put it in place; the Pennsylvania Steel Company, which furnished and erected the steel for the two remaining spans and the draw, and Miller & Shaw, who installed the machinery for moving the draw.

No limit was placed upon the amount of money which the Commission was authorized to expend for this bridge. The amount thus far paid out is about $1,100,000. There are still outstanding some claims which have not yet matured, and also sundry large claims for damages for land taken and for changes of grade in the vicinity of the approaches to the bridge.

The Act of 1894 authorized the Boston Transit Commission, upon the completion of the new bridge, to remove the Charles-river bridge. The license issued by the War Department of the United States made this removal compulsory. This work has been contracted for.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

At its meeting held on Monday the twenty-seventh instant, the Board of Aldermen voted to adjourn till Monday, December 4, 1899, at 3 P.M.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, November 27, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding and all the members present.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Veto — Clothing on Poles.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 20, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature votes passed by your Board granting permission to Charles Goldstein to project a pole on which to hang clothing at corner 55 Cross street, and 37-39 Salem street, and to Joseph Freed to project a pole, on which to hang clothing at 9 Salem street, the said poles to be ten feet above the sidewalk.

I understand that the Committee on Building Department have had a number of similar applications referred to them, and that they have not recommended the granting of permission for the reason that the law provides that no part of a sign shall be less than ten feet above the sidewalk, whereas these applications state that the pole itself is to be only ten feet above the sidewalk, and this would make it necessary for the clothing, which is in reality the sign, to be placed below the limit established by law. I am of the opinion that this is the correct view to take of the matter, and that poles on which to hang clothing should be placed at such a height that the clothing hanging thereon would not come within less than ten feet of the sidewalk. At any rate, I do not think that leave should be granted on these petitions, while it is refused on others exactly similar.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The votes whereby the said permission was granted were reconsidered, and the Board refused to grant permission over the Mayor's objections, the vote being — yeas, 0; nays, 10.

Veto — Sign, Dorchester Avenue.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

City Hall, November 20, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval a vote passed by your Board granting permission to W. E. O'Brien & Co. to project a sign at 1208 Dorchester avenue, Ward 20, the said sign to project four feet six inches.

The law provides that an unilluminated sign shall not project more than one foot, and the enclosed vote is therefore illegal.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the said permission was granted was reconsidered, and the Board refused to grant permission over the Mayor's objections, the vote being—yeas, 0; nays, 10.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Thursday, November 23, 1899, at 7.45 P.M. President Kiley in the chair.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

DEATH OF CAPT. MARTIN L. WHITE.

Capt. Martin L. White, of Division 15 of the Police Department, died suddenly at his home, 16 Savin street, Roxbury, Friday, December 1, 1899.

Captain White, who was the oldest captain in years of service in the Department, was born at Marblehead, Mass., August 2, 1837. At the breaking out of the Rebellion he enlisted in the United States Navy, serving on different vessels until his honorable discharge in 1864.

On June 23, 1865, Captain White was appointed a patrolman on the police force of Boston and assigned to duty at Division 2. In 1868 he was promoted to be a sergeant, but in 1871 resigned the position and returned to patrol duty. Later in the same year, however, he was again promoted to a sergeantcy, and in 1873 was made a lieutenant. When the police force was reorganized in 1878 he was made a captain and assigned to Division 9. For the last eight years he had been in command of Division 15.

During his long service in the Department, Captain White had been connected with many important police cases, in some of which he took a very prominent part, and always with unusual skill and ability.

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has issued the following circular to heads of departments:
Circular No. 68.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 1, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: You are hereby requested to submit your estimates of receipts and expenditures for the coming fiscal year to this office on or before the twentieth of this month. These estimates of expenditure should include nothing but the current or ordinary department expenditures.

Heads of departments are expected to keep any increases in the estimates for the coming fiscal year over the actual and estimated expenditures for the current fiscal year down to the lowest possible point, as the city will only have a very slightly increased revenue next year.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

RESIGNATION OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE PAUPER INSTITUTIONS TRUSTEES.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has received the resignation of Prof. William T. Sedgwick, who has been Chairman of the Pauper Institutions Trustees since the organization of the Board in 1897. The following letters are self-explanatory:

Boston, October 30, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor of the City of Boston.

DEAR SIR: It is with sincere regret that I feel compelled, by the pressure of other duties, to resign my office as a Trustee of Pauper Institutions.

From yourself, and from my fellow-Trustees, and from the executive officers and employees of the Department, I have received constant and generous sympathy and co-operation; of which I desire to express my appreciation, and for which I wish to return my thanks.

I shall be glad to have my resignation take effect on or before December 1.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM T. SEDGWICK.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 6, 1899.

PROF. WILLIAM T. SEDGWICK, 20 Chestnut Street, Boston.

DEAR SIR: I have received with much regret your resignation as a member of the Board of Pauper Institutions Trustees, and having now appointed your successor, I hereby now accept the resignation, to take effect from this date.

I am sorry that other duties prevent you from continuing in this position, and I desire to express my appreciation of the value of the services which you have rendered to the city as Chairman of the Board of Pauper Institutions Trustees during the year and one-half of its existence. The work of getting the new machinery into regular working order and making the necessary changes in the administration of the Pauper Institutions has been a responsible and delicate one, and I feel that you are to be congratulated upon the condition in which you are now able to leave the Department.

I am glad that you are willing to continue in the service of the city as Institutions Registrar, which office you have been temporarily filling, and I take pleasure in enclosing a permanent appointment to this position, to serve, in accordance with your own desire, without pay.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 6, 1899.

PROF. WILLIAM T. SEDGWICK, 20 Chestnut Street, Boston:

DEAR SIR: You are hereby appointed Institutions Registrar for the term ending April 30, 1900, to serve, in accordance with your own desire, without pay.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The resignation of Professor Sedgwick was made known to the Board of Trustees at its meeting held on December 4, 1899, and Mrs. Alice N. Lincoln, Secretary of the Board, was elected Chairman for the balance of the year ending April 30, 1900. Mr. Walter Hunnewell, of the Trustees, was elected Secretary to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Lincoln's election to the Chairmanship.

APPOINTMENT OF PAUPER INSTITUTIONS TRUSTEE.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has appointed Mr. Ubert K. Pettingill a member of the Board of Pauper Institutions Trustees, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor Sedgwick from that Board.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 6, 1899.

UBERT K. PETTINGILL, Esq., 22 School Street, Boston.

DEAR SIR: You are hereby appointed a member of the Board of Pauper Institutions Trustees, for the term ending April 30, 1902, in place of Prof. William T. Sedgwick, who has resigned, and whose resignation has been accepted to take effect from the above date.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment terminated its existence on December the first in accordance with Chapter 449 of the Acts of 1899, whereby Chapter 434 of Acts of 1898, establishing the Board, was repealed.

The bill to establish the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was introduced as Senate bill No. 62, and entitled an Act Relating to the Finances of the City of Boston (see THE CITY RECORD, Vol. I., page 53), was accompanied by a petition from Mayor Quincy, the Merchants' Municipal Committee, and Mr. Samuel B. Capen, President of the Municipal League. The bill was referred to the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, February 4, 1898, which reported favorably on March 15.

The bill reported (see THE CITY RECORD, Vol. I., page 182) provided that the Board should "consist of the Mayor, the Chairman of the Board of Aldermen, the President of the Common Council, who shall serve ex-officiis and without additional pay, and two members who shall be elected by the voters of the city at large" — whereas the original bill provided that "the Mayor, the Chairman of the Board of Aldermen, the President of the Common Council, the City Auditor, the Corporation Counsel, the City Engineer and the Chairman of the Board of Statistics Commissioners of the City of Boston shall constitute ex-officiis a Board of Estimate and Apportionment for said city, and shall serve in such capacity without additional pay."

The bill as amended in committee also provided (1) that each elected member of the Board "shall be paid for his services at the rate of $10 for each meeting at which he is present, but not exceeding the sum of $750 in any one year," and (2) for filling vacancies caused by the death or resignation of an elected member of the Board.

The bill encountered no opposition worthy of mention, and was enacted by the House on May 10, and by the Senate on May 12 — without a division. On May 13, 1898, it was approved by Governor Wolcott.

For the terms of the bill (Senate Bill No. 76, accompanying the petition of John Bordman, jr.) to abolish the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, see THE CITY RECORD, Vol. II., No. 6, page 75. The matter was referred February 1, to the Committee on Cities, at the request of which it was referred, March 22, to the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. This committee recommended, April 28, that the petitioners have leave to withdraw, Messrs. Russell and Lomasney, of Boston, and Mr. Weston of Hyde Park, dissenting. House Bill No. 116 was substituted for the original bill, by a vote of 79 to 28 on May 5. The bill was ordered to its third reading by a vote of 118 to 10 in the House, on May 15, and by a vote of 18 to 9 in the Senate, May 18. Having been enacted by the House on May 25 and by the Senate on May 26, the act was approved by Governor Wolcott, June 1, 1899.

The members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment were His Honor Mayor Quincy, David F. Barry, Chairman of the Board of Aldermen, and Daniel J. Kiley, President of the Common Council, ex-officiis, and Messrs. J. H. Sullivan and Laurence Minot, elected by the people December 13, 1898, for two years and one year respectively. Mr. Sullivan was elected over Mr. Peter Morrison by a vote of 34,069 to 27,181, and Mr. Minot was elected over Mr. Thomas Russell by a vote of 35,513 to 24,686.

From April 9, the date of the death of Mr. Sullivan, till December 1, 1899, Mr. John P. Dore, Chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners, served ex-officio as a member of the Board.

To this Board the Mayor was required to submit "as early as practicable in the month of January" the annual department estimates, and the Board, after considering these estimates, was required to prepare and pass a general maintenance appropriation order prior to the first day of February. It was also required to prepare and pass, prior to the first day of March, a general loan appropriation order, which could not exceed four-fifths of the estimated borrowing capacity for the year, and the Board was authorized to make additional appropriations from time to time, "containing such appropriations as they may deem the public necessity or convenience may require." All appropriations made by it had to be submitted to the City Council, which could reduce or annul any appropriation, but could not increase it.

Since its organization, on January 11, 1899, the Board held fifty-seven meetings. Of this number, twelve meetings were devoted to consideration of the annual estimates submitted by departments of appropriations necessary for the current financial year, to hearings on the same, and to the preparation of the annual appropriation order, and fifteen meetings were devoted to the annual loan estimates of departments. The remaining thirty meetings were devoted to the consideration of sundry requests received from time to time for loans, appropriations or transfers.

It had been felt by many that the two worst defects in the old system of making appropriations were that practically no opportunity was given to heads of departments or other persons to come before the body making the appropriations, to explain the necessity of the appropriations which they requested, and that the appropriations were not made as early in the year as they should be. These defects the Board of Apportionment tried to correct. It was its policy to give every head of a department, or other person making a request for an appropriation or loan, an opportunity to be heard before passing upon the request. Before making up the annual appropriation order six meetings were devoted exclusively to hearing heads of departments on their requests for maintenance appropriations, every head of a department being invited to appear before the Board and explain the nature of his estimates. Prior to making up the annual loan order ten meetings were devoted exclusively to hearing heads of departments and members of the City Council on requests made by them for loan appropriations. At almost every meeting one or more persons were heard by the Board on requests for appropriations or transfers.

Altogether, the Board granted hearings to about 125 heads of departments and other persons, and of the heads of departments many were heard by the Board three or four times on different matters, and some as many as six and seven times.

In spite of the time required for these hearings and for the consideration of the requests after the hearings had been given, the annual appropriation and loan orders were prepared and passed by the Board earlier than had been found to be possible under the old system, the annual appropriation order having been passed this year on January 28, as against April 11 in 1898, March 25 in 1897, March 7 in 1896, and April 2 in 1895, and the annual loan order having been passed this year on February 27, as against June 30 in 1898, June 18 in 1897, July 3 in 1896, July 9 in 1895, July 12 in 1894, and July 10 in 1893.

The Board labored under the difficulty of not having as much money available for loan appropriations as has been available in past years, the borrowing capacity for the present year (excluding the $200,000 appropriated by the Legislature for Malden bridge) having been $1,595,080.26, whereas in 1894, for instance, it was $2,976,852, and in 1893, $3,910,618.

Of the $1,595,080.26 available for loan appropriations this year, the Board appropriated all but $2,280.26, for the following purposes:

PROPOSED MONUMENT TO BRITISH SOLDIERS.

At a meeting of the Board of Cemetery Trustees, held on Friday, December 1, 1899, it was voted to issue the following statement concerning the petition of the Victorian Club (see THE CITY RECORD, No. 44, page 730) for the erection of a monument to British soldiers who fell in the battle of Bunker Hill:

When this Department received a communication and petition from His Honor the Mayor, in respect to this monument, we acted upon the same with the understanding that a monument was to be erected over the remains of certain British soldiers who fell in the battle of Bunker Hill, and were buried in the Central Burying-ground on the Common, and that the location of that monument was to be absolutely fixed by those interested in the erection of the same over the remains of such soldiers.

We believe that the remains of such dead as are buried in soil belonging to the City of Boston, if fit and proper to remain in such soil, are in propriety entitled to a monument in the nature of a marker, which shall show to those interested where such bodies lie.

To this extent we, as a Department, are obliged to go in the administration of the powers conferred upon us.

At the present time the City of Boston provides burial-places for all sorts and conditions of men. If we provide them burial-places, we surely have no right to say the remains may be interred but over the ground no marker shall be placed. It is not for us to say whether the person interred was fit to merit such attention or not. That is a matter beyond our control and belonging directly to the relatives or friends of those interested in such an interment.

A while ago, on the petition of certain historical societies, we allowed bronze tablets fixed on boulders to be placed in memory of Otis and Adams, in the Granary Burying-ground, but the final location of such monuments was not determined until we were absolutely satisfied that the remains of those illustrious men were in the tombs over which such monuments were to be placed, and the sanction of the people owning those tombs was given. Not only was documentary proof required, but in both instances the tombs were opened and such evidence as existed examined to the satisfaction of the Department.

We presume that the petitioners in the instance at present before us can adduce satisfactory evidence as to the location of the remains over which they have asked to place a monument and proper ownership of the land in which such interments are.

SHELTER AT ENDS OF CONGRESS STREET AND SUMMER STREET BRIDGES.

The following petition signed by fifty persons was received at the office of the Street Department, Tuesday, November 28, 1899:

We, the undersigned, respectfully call your attention to the urgent need for a shed, or other suitable shelter, at each end of the Congress street and Summer street bridges over Fort Point Channel.

The manufacturing and mercantile houses, located in the South Boston District, employ large numbers of people, a great proportion of whom are women and girls, who are frequently obliged to wait some time at the bridges while the draw is open, often in stormy weather. On several different occasions a number of female employees have been obliged to wait fifteen or twenty minutes in a driving storm, becoming so thoroughly drenched by the time they reached their destination that they were obliged to return home in order to avoid the risk of cold and sickness.

A simple and inexpensive covering is all that is required, and it seems to us that the cost would be slight in comparison to the great benefit gained.

We trust that you will consider this matter favorably and grant our request.

Superintendent Wells, in speaking of the petition, said that the suggestion seemed to him a most excellent one, and it was strange that some such action had not been taken before.

The City Engineer will prepare a plan at once, and there is but little doubt that some provision for shelter will be made at these bridges; and if the plan is successful, and serves a useful purpose, there is no reason why it should not be extended to the other bridges in the city.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, December 4, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding and all the members present.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Sale of School Lot.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 28, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith an order passed by the School Committee surrendering the Paul Gore-street lot, Jamaica Plain, and recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

June 13, 1899.

Ordered, That the Paul Gore-street lot, in Jamaica Plain, be surrendered to the City Council for immediate sale, the said lot being no longer required for school purposes, and that the proceeds of such sale be appropriated for the purpose of adding six additional rooms upon the Wyman School in the Lowell District.

Passed.

A true copy. Attest:

THORNTON D. APOLLONIO, Secretary.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be authorized to sell the Paul Gore-street lot, in Jamaica Plain, surrendered by the School Committee on June 13, 1899, as being no longer required for school purposes.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto—Illuminated Sign.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 4, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature a vote passed by your Board at its last meeting granting permission to George M. Potter to project an illuminated sign three feet from the building at 2143 Washington street.

As stated by me in former communications, I am of the opinion that two feet is the utmost limit to which illuminated signs should be allowed to project from buildings, and this limit has been adhered to in the past.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the permit was granted was reconsidered, and the Board refused to grant permission over the Mayor's veto, the vote being—yeas, 0; nays, 8.

Veto—Garbage Plant Nuisance.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 29, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval the order passed by your Board assuming to direct the Board of Health and the City Solicitor to take legal proceedings against the New England Sanitary Product Company in relation to the business carried on by it, under its contract with the city, at Cow Pasture. An order of this character should clearly be passed by both branches of the City Council before it can have any effect, and such an order passed by a single branch can have no effect except as an expression of its opinion.

But, aside from this objection to the order in the form in which it comes to me, I may as well state that I should not be prepared to approve it at the present time, even if it had been passed by both branches. The report of the Board of Health, to which the order refers, was made several months ago, and, without admitting that the conditions even at that time were such as to constitute a legal nuisance, I am satisfied that they have now very greatly improved, if, indeed, all ground for reasonable complaint has not been substantially removed. At the present time, the residue or tankage which remains after the grease has been extracted is being burned within the building, instead of loaded upon scows and towed away, and I believe this has done away with one source of trouble under certain atmospheric conditions. From the best information which I can obtain I do not believe that this plant is being conducted at the present time "in a manner objectionable to public health and comfort," and I therefore do not believe there is sufficient ground for the legal action proposed.

My general position in regard to the operation of this plant was fully expressed in my message to your Board under date of October 30 (see THE CITY RECORD, No. 44, page 724), and I need not go over the ground again in acting upon this order. I may add that it seems to me that the time immediately preceding a municipal election is the worst that could be selected for pressing a matter of this character, which should be dealt with with entire impartiality, and with due deliberation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Later, the vote whereby the order was passed was reconsidered, and the order was passed, the veto of His Honor the Mayor to the contrary, notwithstanding—yeas, 9; nays, 3.

Veto—Location of Telegraph Poles.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, November 29, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval the order passed by your Board rescinding its former order granting permission to the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company to locate thirteen poles on West Cottage street. The location of these telegraph poles on this street was recommended by the Wire Commissioner, in substitution for the poles on Columbia road, which had to be removed, and it hardly seems to me proper to compel the company to take down new poles, erected under authority granted by your Board only last July. I believe, furthermore, that if this location is to be rescinded, some other alternative location should be provided at the same time, in order that there may be no interruption threatened in the through business of this company, for which these poles are used. I have been unable to inspect these poles as located, so as to give due weight to the objections which are urged against them; but it seems to me that no serious harm can result from allowing this matter to be taken up again by the next Board of Aldermen.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Later the vote, whereby the order was passed, was reconsidered; and the order was passed, the veto of his Honor the Mayor to the contrary, notwithstanding—yeas, 9; nays, 3.

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

The following circular to heads of departments has been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

Circular No. 69.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 13, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: Your attention is called to the provisions of Chapter 344 of the Acts of 1899, entitled "An act to make eight hours a day's work for city and town employees," which was accepted by a majority of the voters at the city election held yesterday. This act has, therefore, taken effect, and you are directed to fix the length of a day's work for "laborers, workmen and mechanics" at eight hours.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The full text of Chapter 344 of the Acts of 1899, above referred to, may be found in the advertisement of the City Clerk, printed in No. 49 of THE CITY RECORD, page 788.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

The thirty-second annual report of the expenses and operation of the Engineering Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, has recently been submitted to His Honor Mayor Quincy. The report constitutes Document 12—1899, and from it the following abstract is made:

The duties of the City Engineer include the designing and superintending of the construction of new bridges, retaining walls, city wharves, and such other public engineering works as the City Council may authorize; the making of such surveys, plans, estimates, statements and descriptions, and taking such levels as the city government or any of its departments or committees may require; the custody of all surveys and plans relating to the laying-out, locating anew, altering, widening or discontinuing of streets; and the new engineering construction for all departments of the city. He must be consulted on all work where the advice of a civil engineer would be of service.

The Architectural Division of the Public Buildings Department was detached from that Department January 13, 1898, and placed under the Engineering Department. The work of this Division is that of a consulting or expert force.

The following is a statement of engineering expenses from February 1, 1898, to January 31, 1899:

Amount of Department appropriation for 1898-1899	$75,000 00
Revenue	11 25

Amount expended for 1898-99 . $79,840 85

The Department has also had charge of the following mentioned work, on which the expenditures during the year have been, viz.:

Abolition of grade crossings:

Congress street	$276,150 71
Dorchester avenue	6,337 20
South Union Station	58,840 13
Faneuil Hall Reconstruction	6,401 75

Total $347,729 79

The annual inspection of all highway and foot bridges has been made, together with special examinations when notified by the Superintendent of Streets of the progress of repairs.

The management of all the bridges and draws between Cambridge and Boston, by the Acts of 1898, Chapter 467, is vested in a board of two commissioners, which now has charge of eight bridges, one-half the cost of maintenance being paid by each of these cities.

The following is a recapitulation of the bridges in Boston:

Number wholly supported by Boston . . .	65
Number of which Boston supports that part within its limits	14
Number of which Boston pays a part of the cost of maintenance	15
Number supported by railroad corporations	31

Total 125

Of the above total, twenty-seven bridges are over navigable waters, each of which is provided with a draw.

The report contains a brief account of each bridge in the city, with its condition and needs.

SURVEYING DIVISION.

The work of the Surveying Division has been of about the same volume as for the year 1897. Surveys in connection with sewerage works, ordered by the Street Commissioners, acting under Chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, have continued through the year. Twenty plans have been made, showing surveys of the amount of land taken for sewer purposes for a total length of one and one-fifth miles, covering forty-one estates. Sewer plans have also been completed, showing proposed changes in brooks, streams, etc., for care of surface water, covering a distance of nearly seven miles, and showing land taken from 129 estates.

The survey of territory bounded by the Charles river, Beacon, Mt. Vernon, Temple, Lynde and Leverett streets, in connection with the preparation of plans showing the location of water-pipes, which was begun in July, 1897, has been completed.

Changes in the boundary lines between Boston and Newton, near Commonwealth avenue and near Nonantum street; Boston and Cambridge, from Harvard bridge, and the West Boston bridge, through the Charles river; and Boston and Hyde Park, near Ashland street, authorized by the Legislature of 1898, have been made.

By order of the Street Commissioners, who were authorized by the Legislature to lay out as public alleys all passageways less than twenty-five feet in width, plans of fifty-eight public alleys, representing a length of 23,000 feet, have been prepared.

The Division has also furnished the frontages of all estates abutting on public streets within a radius of four miles from City Hall to be used in connection with the assessing the cost of street watering on abutters. The frontages of over 50,000 estates, representing a total length of 525 miles, were thus obtained.

Plans and surveys have also been made for the widening of Charlestown street in connection with the erection of the new Charlestown bridge; for the taking of various land for school purposes and for other public uses, including bath-house lots, gymnasium lot and an engine-house lot. Surveys of the various cemeteries are also in progress.

Plans and profiles representing a total length of 31.38 miles, showing 2,128 buildings, property-owners' names, established grades, areas of land taken, etc., have been completed for the Street Laying-out Department and for the Paving Division.

Estimates for the construction of eighteen streets have been submitted to the Street Commissioners. There are now filed with the Division 381 plans, showing proposed development of territory in outlying districts.

There have been made during the year 1,315 blue prints.

During 1898 the Surveying Division measured 76,991 feet of edgestone and 127,991 square yards of various kinds of paving.

ARCHITECT DIVISION.

The service of this Division has been in greater request during the year than in preceding years.

The duties of the Division are to furnish to the different departments information on all matters pertaining to the construction, alteration or equipment of buildings, and to prepare plans and superintend the work of construction. It also prepares the working plans for work performed by the Repairs Division of the Public Buildings Department and has general superintendence of the same.

The charge against other departments has in no case exceeded $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the cost of the work, whereas the regular architectural commission for much of this work would be 10 per cent., and in no case less than 5 per cent. The total cost of the Division for the year has been \$11,913.16, of which \$2,825.96 has been charged off to other departments, making its net cost to the Engineering Department \$9,087.20.

Plans and contracts for some twenty-seven buildings and alterations have been approved by the Division. Thirty-one reports on various matters have been submitted and thirty-three sketch plans of various architectural problems have been made.

The work performed and superintended for the various city departments by this division during the year has cost $288,622.42.

The City Engineer's reports to the Water Department and the Street Department are embodied in the general report, together with a report of miscellaneous work and construction during 1898.

The appendices are seven in number, and show the widths of openings for vessels in all bridges provided with draws; a table of accident and other plans made for the Law Department; a table of surveys, plans and profiles made by the Surveying Division; list of streets where lot frontages have been obtained for sewer assessments; property schedule of the Department; elevations referred to Boston city base and a list of the annual reports of the Department since 1867.

SHELTERS ON BRIDGES.

Two weeks ago Superintendent Wells of the Street Department received a petition signed by business houses having large numbers of employees, many of whom were women and girls, asking that shelters be provided on Congress-street and Summer-street bridges, as in the event of the draw sometimes remaining open for several minutes in cold and stormy weather persons waiting suffered from exposure. (See THE CITY RECORD, No. 49, page 780.)

The suggestion received the approval of the Superintendent, and after conference with the City Engineer, the Architect's Division was requested to prepare a sketch in accordance with ideas suggested by the Superintendent. The uprights are of iron, the roof of heavy glass, the sides protected with windows, and the whole affair will be quite ornamental as well as useful. The estimate for building this kind of a shelter is $1,000.

It is the purpose of the Superintendent to erect on the Congress-street bridge a much simpler and less expensive shelter, as this can be arranged for at once and as the bridge is an old one and will probably be rebuilt within a short time.

It is probable that similar arrangements will be made for the new Charlestown bridge, where, owing to the height of the bridge, the exposure in the cold and stormy weather for the minutes which it is necessary for the crowds to wait for the opening and closing of the draw is very considerable.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on January 9, 10 and 11, 1900, an examination will be held in this and other cities in the United States where it has a Board of Examiners for the position of architectural and structural steel draftsman.

All instruments used in this examination must be furnished by the applicants. The minimum age limitation for entrance to this examination is twenty years; no maximum.

From the eligibles resulting from this examination certification will be made to the position of architectural and structural steel draftsman in the bureau of yards and docks, Navy Department, in the yards and docks department at Boston, Mass., and at League Island, Pa., the first two at a salary of $4. per diem each and the last named at a salary of $4.50 per diem.

Persons desiring to compete should at once apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C., or E. E. Stebbins, Secretary Board of Civil Service Examiners, Room 141, Post Office building, Boston, Mass., for application blanks (Forms 304 and 375), which should be properly executed and promptly forwarded to the Commission at Washington.

The Department has stated that it desires for these positions men who are proficient in structural steel work as applied to architectural construction.

NEW HEAD HOUSE, SOUTH FERRY.

To inquiries made at the office of the Superintendent of Streets as to the cause of delay in building the new head house at the South Ferry, East Boston side, Superintendent Wells states that in planning for the new structure, it was found necessary to go outside of the present City of Boston premises and secure additional land. The plans, as first drawn, it was found took in property which could not be secured at any reasonable price. The plans were then changed, and it was thought that the arrangements to secure a certain parcel belonging to the Boston and Maine Railroad would be satisfactorily effected. Pending the formal transfer of the land, bids for the construction of the head-house were called for, and the contract would have been awarded some weeks ago but for the fact that the Board of Directors of the Boston and Maine refused to agree to the proposition. Since then a slight change in the property line has been made, which in no way affects the plans of the city, but which is considered of some importance to the railroad, and there is every reason to believe that an agreement will be reached at the next meeting of the Board of Directors. The contract will then be formally awarded and work immediately commenced, so that it now looks as if this long waited for and much needed improvement would be realized.

The plans for the new head-house provide for a most attractive as well as convenient and comfortable structure.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Wednesday, December 13, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding and all the members present.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Appointment of Constable.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 13, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint Richard H. Eustis a Constable of the City of Boston for the term ending April 30, 1900, in place of John J. Sullivan, whose resignation from the position of Constable was accepted on November 28, 1899.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Laid over, under the law.

Appointments of Pauper Institutions Trustee and Institutions Registrar.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 6, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

You are hereby notified, in order that it may become a matter of record, that I have this day appointed Mr. Ubert K. Pettingill a member of the Board of Pauper Institutions Trustees, to take the place of Professor William T. Sedgwick, who has resigned, and whose resignation has been accepted, to take effect to-day.

You are also notified that I have this day appointed Prof. William T. Sedgwick, Institutions Registrar for the term ending April 30, 1900, to serve, in accordance with his own desire, without pay. (See THE CITY RECORD, No. 49, pages 773 and 774.)

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

Salary for the Examiner of Claims.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 13, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith, and I recommend to your favorable consideration, a communication received from the Board of Police, recommending the passage of an order increasing the salary of William H. Dyer.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

December 13, 1899.

TO THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

SIRS: The Board of Police on this date has passed the enclosed vote, increasing the salary of William H. Dyer, who has been detailed for twenty-two years to examine evidence relative to claims against the city. The Board feel that his industry, intelligence and experience are deserving of the increase, and ask your concurrence in the said action.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT F. CLARK, Chairman.

Voted, That the salary of William H. Dyer, captain, detailed to examine the evidence in claim cases against the City of Boston be increased from two thousand (2,000) dollars per year to twenty-five hundred (2,500) dollars per year, to commence on Friday, December 15, 1899.

Passed. Sent down.

Widening of Rutherford Avenue.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 4, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

In reply to the order adopted by your body relative to the widening of Rutherford avenue, Ward 5, I have to state that I have approved the plans for the widening of this avenue, and that the order of the Street Commissioners for such widening was passed November 6 of this year, and is now before me; the only reason why I have been unable to approve this order has been because the land damages alone, as estimated by the Street Commissioners, amount to more than the total amount appropriated, and the signing of the order by me would therefore result in incurring a liability without a sufficient appropriation to meet it, which is forbidden by law. The appropriation for widening this avenue is only $200,000, while the estimated land damages alone amount to $265,000, and the estimated cost of construction amounts to $35,000 additional. As this expenditure must be met by loan appropriation within the debt limit, there is no way of adding to the appropriation until the beginning of the next calendar year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Assigned to the next meeting.

Snow Dump at Warren Bridge.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 13, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a letter from the Superintendent of Streets in relation to providing a snow dump at Warren bridge. As this is a matter of pressing importance, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order, providing the sum of $2,200, which is all of the remaining borrowing capacity for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, December 8, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I would respectfully request that action be taken by the City Council to provide a sufficient appropriation for the building of a snow dump at Warren bridge. Plans have been drawn, and I am prepared to call for bids for a structure which will permit the dumping of snow outside the roadway and sidewalk lines.

The saving in time will be very considerable, and the scarcity of suitable dumps makes this a very important item in the handling of large masses of snow.

I think an appropriation of, say, $3,500, would be sufficient.

The War Department and the Harbor and Land Commissioners have already given their consent to the building of this addition to the present bridge structure.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Streets be authorized to expend the sum of twenty-two hundred (2,200) dollars in building a snow dump at Warren bridge, and that to meet this appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto — Storm Doors at Store of Samuel Ward Company.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 8, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval a vote passed by your Board granting permission to the Samuel Ward Company to place storm doors, swinging outward, at 49 Franklin street, Ward 7.

I very much doubt whether the city can legally grant permission to use a portion of a public street in the manner proposed; but, entirely apart from this question, the danger to the public because of the liability of these doors to be suddenly and unexpectedly swung open over the sidewalk, seems to me a sufficient reason for withholding my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Proceeds from Care of Sick Soldiers at Long Island.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 13, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Pauper Institutions Trustees requesting that the sum of $2,225, which the city expects to receive from the War Department for the care of sick soldiers at Long Island, be credited to the appropriation for their Department. Inasmuch as this amount represents actual expenditures by the Trustees for a purpose entirely outside of those for which their Department appropriation was made, and inasmuch as there is no margin in their appropriation to provide for such extra expenditures, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order. A similar order reimbursing the Hospital Department for the amounts expended by it in caring for soldiers at the City Hospital has already been passed.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

PAUPER INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

28 Court Square, December 11, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR: I would respectfully call your attention to the bill for the care of United States soldiers, who were sent to the Long Island Hospital for treatment during the period from September 13 to December 30, 1898. The total amount of the bill is $2,225. This amount has been approved by the Surgeon-general of the United States Army and forwarded by him to the Auditor for the War Department, Washington, D.C., and it will doubtless shortly be paid to the City of Boston. Under the circumstances, as this amount was actually expended by the Pauper Institutions Trustees, it would seem that this sum should be passed to the credit of the Long Island Institutions, and I would request that such action be taken by the City Council.

I subjoin an extract from the Annual Report of the Pauper Institutions Trustees for the year 1898:

"Sixty-one United States soldiers, almost all of them members of the regular army, were sent to Long Island for care and treatment, notice having previously been given that they might be expected, and it is gratifying to know that, though many of the soldiers were seriously ill at the time they were sent to Long Island (thirteen of them having typhoid fever and many others suffering from malarial fever) not a single death occurred."

The care and treatment of the soldiers entailed unusual expenses, for which this charge of $2,225 was made. The Pauper Institutions Department would be glad to have this matter acted upon as soon as possible, in order that the account may be closed.

Very truly yours,

ALICE N. LINCOLN, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sums received by the city from the Government of the United States for the care of soldiers at Long Island be credited to the appropriation for Pauper Institutions Department, Boston Almshouse and Hospital, Long Island.

Passed. Sent down.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Thursday, December 7, 1899, at 7.45 P.M., President Kiley in the chair, and a quorum present.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

December 4, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: We have received the order of the Common Council requesting us to put the property lately acquired for a playground on Columbus avenue in order for football and other games.

As this Board had no money which we could apply to this purpose, we asked the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, August 14, for the sum of $500, and since then we have again renewed our request, but without avail.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Chairman.

Placed on file.

STREET-CLEANING AND SANITARY SERVICE IN EAST BOSTON.

The arrangements for establishing the direct street-cleaning and sanitary service for East Boston are nearly completed, so that the present contract system in the Sanitary Division, and the sending of the Charlestown force of the Street-cleaning Division, which is the present custom, will be discontinued.

Sometime since the city yard, which comprised the district yards of the Sewer and Paving Divisions, was sold, and arrangements made to move to the wharf property owned by the city in another section of East Boston. Plans had been prepared for the new building; but Superintendent Wells, in order to forward the matter, and to put the new arrangement in force during the construction of the new building, has utilized the old buildings which were on the wharf property, and at a small expenditure has fitted them up so that there is now ample temporary accommodation, both stable and office, for the four divisions. The Paving and Sewer Divisions are already in occupation. The Sanitary and Street-cleaning have gotten their new equipment together, and it is expected that within a few days the new service will be put in force. New carts have been built, horses purchased, and hereafter East Boston may expect as good service as that received in any section of the city.

The proceeds of the sale of the property formerly occupied by the Street Department will, with a slight additional appropriation, be sufficient to provide for the new building.

The new building will be a model of its kind and better adapted to the needs of the Department than any similar building in the city. The stable accommodations will be of the very latest, with sanitary stalls, etc., and the offices will be properly and conveniently arranged.

Mr. Herbert Putnam, formerly Librarian of the Boston Public Library, was on December 12, 1899, confirmed by the Senate to be Librarian of Congress.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, on Monday, December 18, 1899, at 3 P.M.

DEATH OF HON. JONATHAN V. FLETCHER.

The death of Hon. Jonathan V. Fletcher, President of the Faneuil Hall National Bank and one of Boston's best known business men, occurred at his home in Belmont on Monday, December 18, 1899.

Mr. Fletcher was born at Westford, Mass., February 28, 1812. For about twenty years, beginning in 1838, he resided in Charlestown, being connected with the city government for six years, first as a member of the Common Council in 1851 and 1852 and as a member of the Board of Aldermen in 1854, 1855, 1856 and 1857.

In 1858 Mr. Fletcher moved to Belmont, where he had since resided. For several years he was one of the selectmen of the town, and represented the district in the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1885 and 1886, and in the Senate during 1887 and 1888.

Mr. Fletcher was one of the oldest marketmen of Boston, having been established in the provision business since 1837. He was one of the earliest occupants of Faneuil Hall market, and was a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange, being a director of the first-named organization during the first year of its existence.

REPORT OF ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE ON PRISONS.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, on Monday, the eighteenth instant, Alderman Day, Chairman of the Committee to inspect the prisons in the County of Suffolk, presented the following report, which was accepted, and ordered to be printed as a public document:

The special committee of the Board of Aldermen appointed to visit and inspect the prisons in the County of Suffolk, having made the inspection required by the statutes of the Commonwealth, respectfully submit their second semi-annual report:

SUFFOLK COUNTY.

The jail was visited by the committee on Tuesday, December 5. A thorough inspection of the main building containing the cells, kitchen and laundry was made. The inmates were questioned as to the food, cleanliness of cells, bedding, etc., and the report from each one questioned was that the best of care and good, wholesome food, and cleanliness prevailed. The committee renew the recommendation made in their last report, and also made by former committees, for an appropriation sufficient to erect a new building for women exclusively, a part of this building to contain a modern laundry. There should be provided for the jail a place to treat the sick. At the present time they have to be cared for in cells, which is in the minds of the committee inhuman. If a new building was erected for women, the part now occupied by them could be made over into a hospital. A brick wall should be built at once, in place of the wooden fence separating the jail from the property facing on Cambridge street.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION, SOUTH BOSTON.

This institution was paid a visit by the committee on Tuesday, December 5. So many times have the committee recommended the erection of a new institution that they fear a further reiteration would be of no avail. It is without question inhuman to place human beings in a prison building such as exists here. The Commissioner and Master do all that is possible under the circumstances, but cannot provide a new and modern constructed "cell building" unless the government provides an appropriation, which, in the opinion of the committee, should be granted. The condition of the prisoners showed good care on the part of the management, the calisthenic drill and hourly exercise marching around the yard, having a good effect on the physical condition of the men. The school, under its competent instructors, has proved a valuable adjunct to the institution.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION, DEER ISLAND.

The committee visited this institution, Wednesday, December 6.

This place the committee feel free to say is the model one controlled by our city. Cleanliness, good order and discipline prevail in every department. Many of the unfortunates, broken down in health, are sentenced here, so a greater proportion need medical care than those sentenced to other institutions. The good care and attention given to the sick is manifest by the reply made by each one, when asked as to their treatment by the officials in charge. The committee recommend an appropriation sufficient to build a new wharf, the present one being in an unsafe condition. A new boiler and dynamo should be installed at once, and all of the buildings could then be lighted by electricity. A new prison or cell building for women has been favored by past committees, and we renew it at this time.

HOUSE OF REFORMATION, RAINSFORD ISLAND.

The committee visited this institution the same day it visited Deer Island.

This was the first introduction of the committee to the new superintendent, Mr. Seavey, who immediately impressed the committee that he was the "right man" in the "right place," and that the Trustees of the Children's Institutions had secured a head for this place that would make the institution what it should be, a place for reformation of boys. The committee appreciate the fact that the place itself is unfitted for the work the Trustees are trying to accomplish, and believe that a place on the mainland, with buildings built on the "cottage" plan, to be far more preferable. The work of farming could be carried on together with other outdoor work, which cannot be done at the present place. The work of repairing the building burnt is progressing so that in about three weeks time the boys at present cared for at Deer Island will return to this place.

The committee hesitate in making any recommendation for the expenditure of money at this institution, believing it should be abandoned and a new place secured.

PARENTAL SCHOOL, WEST ROXBURY.

Thursday, December 7, the committee called at this institution for their semi-annual inspection, and found, as they did at their last visit, an overcrowded and unsatisfactory condition of things. In the first place, the buildings used as dormitories contain more beds than should be allowed under the law, or rules of the Board of Health.

The committee do not blame the management for this condition of things, for if the court sentences these boys—(from the size and ages of some of them, it would be better to sentence the parent for not keeping them at school)—the city must provide for their keeping.

Since our first visit, there have been two one-story buildings erected for school classrooms, a valuable addition for a short while. What the truant school needs and should have to make it satisfactory, and the committee recommend the incoming administration to give it their attention, is a new building for dormitory purposes, a new administration building, a new building for manual training studies, a new barn, the grading of the grounds, and, the most important of all, a proper protection against fire, to consist of a new main-pipe service and fire-hose.

REMARKS.

The committee have not changed their opinion, as expressed in their last report, relative to the efficiency of the one-head salaried official, as compared to the board of seven trustees.

The work assigned to this committee under Chapter 220 of the Public Statutes is very important, and its recommendations should receive more consideration in the future than they have in the past. The City of Boston is praised all over the world for its institutions; let us not forget that, although these we speak of contain the unfortunate classes, they should be accorded some consideration when disposing of our appropriations.

The heads of the different institutions visited received the committee with courtesy, and every opportunity was freely given for proper inspection.

The committee wish to express their thanks to Commissioner of Penal Institutions Marshall, Deputy Sheriff Bradley, Messrs. O'Hare and Bruen, Dr. Putnam and Miss Bailey of the Children's Trustees; Colonel Whiton, Master of the House of Correction, South Boston; James R. Gerrish, Esq., Master of the House of Correction, Deer Island; Sumner D. Seavey, Esq., Superintendent, Rainsford Island; and B. C. Day, Esq., Superintendent, Parental School, for their assistance to the committee.

Annexed will be found the reports of the superintendents of the various institutions, giving in detail the information called for under the statutes.

FREDERICK W. DAY,
Chairman.

FRANKLIN L. CODMAN,
JAMES H. DOYLE,
EDWARD W. PRESHO,
MICHAEL W. BRICK.

(7.) That Ruphine A. Morris, principal of the Longfellow Kindergarten, be placed upon the maximum salary of her rank, to date from November 14, 1899.

The Chair read the following:

(1.) STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

TO THE HONORABLE THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

The Board of Street Commissioners have to inform you that they have agreed with William Clafin upon the sum of $19,048.45, as payment for his estate (containing 20,051 square feet) on Parker street, at Roxbury, taken for school purposes by the City of Boston, October 13, 1899 (taking recorded October 17, 1899), upon the said Clafin giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken satisfactory to the Law Department.

Respectfully,

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

Placed on file.

(2.) STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

City Hall, December 12, 1899.

TO THE HONORABLE THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

The Board of Street Commissioners desire to inform you that they have this day voted to amend the vote sent you in their letter of December 5, about payment to William Clafin for his estate, taken, for school purposes, on Parker street, by adding to the sum of $19,048.45 mentioned in such letter as payment for said estate, the amount of the taxes upon the estate for 1899.

Respectfully,

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

Placed on file.

On the recommendation of the Committee on the Third Division, to whom was referred, November 14, the transfer of Gardner P. Balch, sub-master in Eliot District, to the same position in the Robert G. Shaw District, was approved, to date from December 18, 1899.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments and confirmations, for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the Rules and Regulations:

(1.) The appointments of four special assistants, which were laid over under the rule; (2) the appointments of two temporary teachers, which were placed on file; (3) the re-appointment of one temporary teacher, which was laid over under the rule; (4) the appointment of one teacher on probation, which was approved under suspension of the rule; (5) the confirmations of three teachers, which were laid over under the rule; (6) the appointments of two teachers in evening elementary schools, which were approved under a suspension of the rules.

Leave of absence, on the recommendation of the Superintendent of Schools, was granted to eight teachers.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments, accompanied by written statements of the reasons for requesting a suspension of the Regulations pertaining thereto:

(1.) of one temporary teacher, approved under suspension of the rules; (2) of two teachers on probation, which appointments were approved under suspension of the rules; (3) of three teachers on probation, which appointments were laid over under the rule.

The Superintendent presented for approval the appointment of James M. McLaughlin, Boston, as Director of Music, to date from January 2, 1900, which was laid over under the rule.

It was ordered that the Committee on New Buildings be permitted to present their annual report in print.

On the recommendation of the Committee on School-houses, the resignation of one janitor was accepted, and the appointments of five janitors were approved.

The Committee on High Schools presented the following report:

The Committee on High Schools, in view of the repeated applications which have been made to them to admit girls to the Mechanic Arts High School, desire to report to the Board their reasons for believing that such a course is not advisable. The limitations of the building offer a formidable obstacle to the admission of girls. There are no rooms which can be devoted to the special courses which should be substituted for that part of the present shop-work which it is clearly impracticable for girls to take up. The lockers and toilet-rooms are adapted to the exclusive use of boys, and it is impossible to provide suitable accommodations for any considerable number of girls. Moreover, it is highly probable that the school will not be able to accommodate all of the boys who will apply for admission next September. Your committee therefore recommend that it is inexpedient to admit girls to the Mechanic Arts High School.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

Under suspension of the rules, it was ordered (1) that there be paid to Patrick F. Higgins the sum of $4.40 for extra services rendered as janitor of the Hyde School since September 1, 1899.

(2.) That the masters of the several schools and districts be requested to hold commemorative exercises on Thursday, December 14, 1889, from 11 to 12 o'clock, said day being the one-hundredth anniversary of the death of George Washington, and that the afternoon session of the schools be suspended.

(3.) That a second sub-master be allowed in the Christopher Gibson School.

It was ordered that the American system of music, which is already upon the authorized list, be placed and taught in the primary schools.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The following general order has been promulgated by the Board of Police:

December 8, 1899.

General Order No. 649.

The following-named reserve police officers, having served the probationary term of six months or more, and having passed a satisfactory examination to make them eligible for appointment in the permanent force, are hereby appointed patrolmen in the police force of the City of Boston, and assigned for duty at the several police divisions where they now are, viz.:

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, December 18, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding. Absent — Alderman Codman.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Appointments by the Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 18, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint Francis Gargan a Constable of the City of Boston for the term ending April 30, 1900.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Laid over under the law.

Dinner Hour for Park Employees.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 18, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Park Commissioners in reply to your order requesting them to allow the men in their employ a full hour for dinner.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

December 11, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: We have the order of the Board of Aldermen requesting you to instruct this Board to allow the men in our employ a full hour for dinner. As we wrote you a year ago, the practice is almost universal, at this time of the year, in park work, of working half of the dinner hour and stopping work half an hour earlier when full time cannot be made otherwise on account of darkness setting in before the regular hour for stopping work. We have heard no complaint from the men.

Buildings with cook stoves are provided near the work of the gangs, and boys are furnished to look after the warming of the dinner pails of the men, so that no time is lost after the noon hour arrives. We think the men are satisfied with the present arrangement, and that they would certainly prefer it to working and being paid for half an hour less each day.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Chairman.

Sale of Ferry-boat "Ben Franklin."

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 14, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Streets requesting that authority be given to sell the ferry-boat "Ben Franklin," which is now so old that it is no longer used by the Department, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

December 12, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I respectfully request that authority be given to sell the ferry-boat "Ben Franklin." This boat has been in continuous service for about twenty-seven years, having been built in 1871. As it now stands, the boat is practically of little service, the new boat taking her place, and the item for dockage is considerable. The sooner the Department can dispose of her, therefore, the greater the saving.

Respectfully submitted,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Streets, with the approval of the Mayor, be authorized to sell the ferry-boat "Ben Franklin" at public auction, the said ferry-boat being now so old that it is unable to perform the work required in the ferry service of the city.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Playground for Skating.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 18, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Park Commissioners in reply to your order requesting them to flood for skating purposes the playground at Columbus avenue.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

December 11, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: The Board has received the order of the City Council, that we be requested to flood for skating purposes the playground at Columbus avenue.

The Board would be glad to accede to the request but has no money which it can apply to this purpose.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Chairman.

Sent down.

DEPOSITS OF THE CITY IN THE GLOBE NATIONAL BANK.

His Honor Mayor Quincy has made the following statement concerning the deposits of the city in the Globe National Bank:

It is certainly unfortunate that the city should have as large an aggregate deposit as $370,000 in a bank which has suspended payments. The fact that these funds are tied up for the present will not, however, occasion any special inconvenience to the city, as the amount on deposit to the credit of the City Treasurer, which is the only active account subject to daily checks, is less than $70,000, and we are certainly warranted in expecting that the final loss to the city upon the liquidation of the bank will be small, if, indeed, it is anything.

Under the ordinance limiting the amount of deposits in any bank to 50 per cent. of its capital, the Globe National Bank could have received city deposits to the extent of $500,000, and in the past its deposit has considerably exceeded the sum of $370,000.

It is the practice of the Sinking-fund Commissioners, and, on the whole, I believe it to be a proper one, to place the largest deposits of sinking-funds in the banking institutions with which they are personally connected and with which they are supposed to be familiar. The size of the deposits of the city in the Globe National Bank was, of course, chiefly due to the fact that its former President, Mr. Cole, was, unfortunately as it now turns out, Chairman of the Board of Sinking-fund Commissioners of the city.

The Board chooses its own Chairman, but I must accept the responsibility for the appointment of Mr. Cole as a member of the Board. He had served as a member of the special commission to examine into the finances of the city, appointed by Mayor Curtis, in company with Henry Parkman and John D. W. Joy, and was supposed to be one of the best banking men in Boston. The City Treasurer has full authority over his own bank deposits, but is subject to the Sinking-fund Commissioners in respect to sinking-fund deposits, although he also holds these as Treasurer.

When the trouble with the Globe Bank first came out, Mr. Turner consulted with me as to the best course to be pursued, and we agreed upon the policy of gradually reducing the deposits of the city in the bank.

The final suspension of the bank took the City Treasurer and myself entirely by surprise, as he had informed me that he had received from the new President of the bank, Mr. Stevens, the most positive assurance that the deposits of the city were perfectly safe, and that we need not have any apprehension about them.

The city is placed, in such conditions, in a very delicate and embarrassing position. On the one hand, it should protect its own funds from loss, but, on the other hand, the sudden withdrawal of large deposits in a time of financial trouble might easily be the cause of the suspension of a bank which might otherwise weather the storm. It therefore does not seem proper that the city should at once withdraw a large deposit and thereby assume the responsibility of being the direct cause of the closing of a large bank, with consequent loss to a large number of depositors, and perhaps serious indirect injury to the business community.

It did not seem proper to the Treasurer and myself after the Clearing House had gone to the extent of issuing $3,500,000 of certificates to the Globe Bank, that the city should show lack of confidence in the bank thus assisted by the associated banks of Boston through any sudden withdrawal of large deposits, particularly in view of assurances received by the Treasurer from the responsible head of the institution.

At the time of the final suspension the policy of withdrawing the city deposits as rapidly as it seemed safe to do so from the Globe Bank had been fully decided upon by the City Treasurer, the Sinking-fund Commissioners and myself, but there had not been time to carry out such action gradually. The action of the city in such cases becomes known, and in a time of distrust it has, of course, a sentimental effect far beyond the amount of money directly involved.

If the large funds which the city has to have on hand are not to be withdrawn from circulation and locked up, which is, of course, not to be thought of, and if the money of the city is to be kept in circulation for the benefit of business, and represented only by credits in banks, the city must, to some extent at least, be open to some of the risks which affect the financial and business community generally. The city will be caused no serious inconvenience, and we are certainly warranted in hoping that there will finally be little, if any, loss upon the deposits in the two institutions which have suspended payment.

STREET DEPARTMENT—FERRY DIVISION.

December 1, 1899.

BENJ. W. WELLS, Esq., Superintendent of Streets.

DEAR SIR: In reference to enclosed order passed by Common Council, I will state that out of 154 men employed in this Division 39 are members of the Grand Army. Each one of the employees receives two weeks' vacation and they are so arranged so as to let the veterans have theirs at the time of the encampment. It was agreed by these men at the time of the arrangement that they would not go to the encampment, but would take their vacation whenever convenient to us. I was away at Norfolk at this time together with six men of our regular force arranging to bring the "Governor Russell" back to Boston, which left the Division a little short of men. These veterans that had had their vacations gave the foreman very little notice of their intention to go and insisted that vacation or no vacation, whether their services could be dispensed with or not, they intended to go and expected to get their pay while away. As I understood the order to read it was intended for those whose services could be dispensed with, and I so notified them, which they took not the slightest notice of and went to the encampment.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM F. MCCLELLAN,

Deputy Superintendent.

Assigned to the next meeting.

NEW LOCATION OF THE PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

The proposed use for other purposes of the premises at 611 Washington street, used for the operation of the Municipal Printing Office since its establishment in March, 1897, has made necessary the removal of the office to a new location, which has been secured by leasing the third and fourth floors of the building at the corner of Purchase and Pearl streets.

The new quarters give a somewhat larger floor area than the premises previously occupied by the Department. The combined area of both floors is approximately 13,000 square feet.

The Superintendent's private office, the counting-room, composing-room, proof-rooms and job-press department, are located on the fourth floor of the building, while the third floor is occupied by the large presses.

Entrance to the Superintendent's office and the counting-room is at 144 Purchase street, with another entrance at 154 Pearl street to the work-rooms.

The work of removal to the new quarters, which has been going on for the past week, has been extensive, and has occasioned some delay in the appearance of the current number of THE CITY RECORD.
